RAZOR BACK NOW FASHION.

Hogs Are Apparently Trying Hard to Reduce Their Weight.

[Associated Press Night Report.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Hogs apparently are following the fashion of the day and have joined the anti-fat movement which paved the way for the hobble skirt. Statistics to the Department of Agriculture indicate that they are getting thinner every year. The figures show that hogs marketed between thirty and forty years ago averaged one-fourth heavier than those marketed in recent years.

ANNEX CANADA, SAYS BENNETT

New Yorker Fathers Resolution.

House Undecided Whether to Take it as Joke or in Sober Earnest.

Congressmen Inclined to See Shrewd Move to Prejudice Reciprocity Cause.

Senate Financial Committee to Take Up McCall Bill at Early Moment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Resolved, by the House of Representatives, the Senate concurring, that the President of the United States be requested to enter on and to prosecute, from time to time, such negotiations with the British government as he may deem expedient for the annexation of the Dominion of Canada to the United States of America."

The above resolution was introduced today in the House of Representatives by Congressman Bennett of New York. There was no debate on the resolution, and it was promptly referred to the Committee on Foreign Affairs.

TAKE IT AS JOKE.

While the majority of members of the House profess to look upon Mr. Bennett's action as more or less of a joke, patterned after the recent speech of Champ Clark, Democratic floor leader, in which he hinted at the annexation of Canada—a hint which brought forth a rebuke from President Taft—the Representative from New York declared this afternoon that he was perfectly serious in the matter. To his mind, he said, there was but one logical result to be looked forward to if the United States entered upon a trade reciprocity agreement with Canada.

Representative Bennett was one of the Republicans who voted against the passage of the McCall Reciprocity Bill, and was active in his opposition to that measure. Several members of Congress who voted and worked in favor of the reciprocity measure, in the form in which it passed the House, said tonight that in their opinion the Bennett resolution was simply introduced as a shrewd method of prejudicing the two countries against final approval of the agreement.

WILL CONSIDER MEASURE.

Senator Burrows, ranking member of the Senate Finance Committee, to which was referred the McCall resolution as it passed the House, said this afternoon that he expected to call a meeting of his committee either tomorrow or Saturday, at which it would be considered.

A number of Senators and party leaders held a conference with President Taft this afternoon, at which, it is understood, the administration's reciprocity programme was the chief topic under discussion. Senator Smoot, one of those present at the conference, said this evening that the Senate would be given every opportunity to discuss the McCall bill, and that no effort would be made to smother it in committee. He admitted the belief, however, that on the floor of the Senate the bill would meet obstructive tactics which would prevent a vote before the close of Congress, March 4.

Senators Root and Lodge were present at the conference with the President, but declined to discuss the pending measure.

BRITISH COLUMBIA AGAINST RECIPROCITY.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Feb. 16.—The British Columbia Legislature yesterday passed the resolution introduced three weeks ago condemning the proposed reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada. There was only one dissenting vote.

Premier McBride spoke at great length on the resolution, asserting that he regarded reciprocity with the United States as unnecessary and uncalled for by conditions now existing in Canadian trade and industry.

The Premier said that he believed the various interests of the several parts of Canada were not sufficiently considered in settling the details of the agreement and feared it would lead to the serious dislocation of Canadian trade. He looked upon the action of the government in entrusting two of the ministers with the power to frame an agreement as inconsistent with the settled practice in Canada of obtaining the views of people in Canada by means of a tariff commission.

Premier McBride said that so important a change should not be made in the trade relations of the country without the people being consulted in some way.

ARNOLD AND GRISCOM FAMILIES SPEND DAY DODGING REPORTERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Members of the Arnold and Griscom families apparently spent the entire day today dodging reporters, and with much success. Little information that could be considered reliable developed during the day regarding the disappearance of Dorothy Arnold, other than a discovery by the police that the missing heiress pawned some valuable jewels in Boston last September, at a time when she and George Griscom, Jr., were in that city together.

Another development of the day was the bringing to light of a letter written by Miss Marjorie Arnold, a sister of Dorothy, two days before young Griscom's return to this country from Italy.

The letter was addressed to Miss Theresa Bates, a room-mate of Dorothy, when the latter was attending Bryn Mawr College, and is substantially as follows:

"My dear: Don't worry any more about Dorothy. Don't talk to any reporters whatever, and don't talk to any one else about Dorothy any more than you have to. Everything is all right, so there is no need for you to worry. How is Josephine? Give her my love and let me know how she is when you write."

"MARJORIE:"

Josephine is Miss Bates's younger sister, who was prostrated over the news of Dorothy Arnold's disappearance and was forced to give up her studies at a private school.

It was the knowledge of this letter, it is said, that prompted George S. Griscom, Jr., to give out his sensational statement that he believed that the missing girl was alive and that he expected to see her soon.

"IF LOS ANGELES NEEDS A DEPOT SHE'LL HAVE IT," SAYS LOVETT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "If Los Angeles needs a new depot she shall have it."

So declared Judge Lovett, president of the Southern Pacific and head of the so-called Harriman interests, who spent today inspecting properties of his interests here. He was accompanied by a party of railroad officials, among whom was C. H. Markham, the recently appointed president of the Illinois Central road.

While Judge Lovett seemed inclined to shy off from any reference to plans for improvement of the property of the Southern Pacific in Los Angeles when questioned regarding the subject, he did say: "My first important stop after reaching California will be Los Angeles. There I intend to take up with the people and with our local representatives, the question of a new depot, stations, electric lines and other things that have been in abeyance for some time.

"Just what the outcome of that conference will be, of course, I cannot say. Nevertheless, I trust that all needed improvements will be effected. You know, as I have said often before, the Southern Pacific is always making improvements, and seeking to please the people on its line, and if Los Angeles needs a new depot, Los Angeles shall have one."

Mr. Markham, one of the most interesting figures in railroad life today because of the sensational incidents surrounding his accession to the presidency of the Illinois Central, declared that his line is also contemplating extensive improvements and will soon begin them.

The visitors left the hotel at 9 o'clock and inspected the unloading devices and facilities of the company.

At noon, Messrs. Lovett and Markham were guests of the Progressive Union at a luncheon in Antoine's cafe. A conference of Southern Pacific officials followed. President Lovett and his party left tonight over the Southern Pacific for Houston.

MEMBERS OF SUPREME COURT MAKE REPLY TO WEBB CHARGE.

Chief Justice Beatty Defends Action of Henshaw in Ruef Appeal and Declares Court Will Welcome Investigation by Legislature—San Francisco Bulletin Cuts Loose With Savage Attack Upon Associate Justice.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Chief Justice Beatty indulged today in some very straightforward talk in regard to the charges of Atty.-Gen. Webb against the Supreme Court, which have been taken up and used as the basis for a movement in the State Legislature, to apply the recall to the judiciary.

"It has always been my contention," said the Chief Justice today, that when the Supreme Court was misrepresented—as it apparently has been in this case—it should take immediate steps to set itself right before the people. I am really glad that the matter has arisen, and I am satisfied that an investigation by the Legislative Committee will prove the court is acting in good faith, and with no thought save the interests of the people of the State of California.

"While there is nothing unusual or out of order in the Ruef appeal, as soon as I heard that the method by which it had been signed had been criticised I immediately suggested that a letter be sent to the Legislature asking for a committee to consider the matter.

FOLLOWS PRECEDENT.

"Justice Henshaw fully and carefully considered the appeal before leaving the State and signed the order before taking his departure. Such action has been done before in numberless cases and is according to the usage of this court.

"To my mind one of the regrettable features of the matter is that the affidavit of Atty.-Gen. Webb should be misconstrued so as to imply that charges or accusations have been made against this court. The fact is that the motion to vacate is merely based upon the theory that in the absence from the State of one of the judges, the other members of the court had no right to consider the matter."

"I trust that a special committee of the Legislature will be appointed to make a thorough investigation of the Ruef order and other orders which I signed in advance of my colleagues," said Associate Justice F. W. Henshaw.

"Before leaving for the East I went very carefully over the Ruef case and came to a decision in the matter, as well as in other cases, and signed the order in readiness should the other justices coincide with my opinion. I gave the case careful and mature consideration and came to a decision unbiased and absolutely fair, to the best of my ability."

SAVAGE ATTACK.

tacks Henshaw and features in heavy-faced type the bitter remarks made by William Denman, the San Francisco lawyer, at Sacramento. Denman said in the Senate:

"Suppose it were shown that Justice Henshaw of the Supreme Court, prior to departing from the State had signed not one, but five, orders deciding matters, upon some of which the arguments had not yet been made; suppose it were shown that the mental attitude of this man was discolored by association with the Southern Pacific political machine prior to his going on the bench; suppose it were shown, as it has been whispered, that he sat upon the bench as the tool of the Southern Pacific; would this Legislature remove that man?"

LEGISLATURE WILL INVESTIGATE COURT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—With the departure of Senator Boynton for San Francisco tonight to confer with the justices of the Supreme Court regarding the proposed investigation of the Ruef decision by the Legislature, and with the calling of a special meeting of the Rules Committees of the two houses for tomorrow morning, it was definitely ascertained today that the Senate and Assembly will take up the investigation of the case, as proposed by Senator Cartwright and desired by the Supreme Court. A meeting of the two committees was held today, but no action was taken.

At the meeting tomorrow plans for procedure will be discussed and a decision will be reached as to whether the House will investigate independently of the Senate, whether the two shall concur, or whether a special committee be appointed, any one of which possible courses may be taken under the State Constitution.

The proposed recall of judges was discussed at a meeting of the Senate Judiciary Committee today by proponents and opponents of the measure. Gov. Johnson made an extended address against Senator Gates's resolution to submit a constitutional amendment providing for the recall to the people.

He based his argument on the contention that the hire and fire rule should not apply to officials who are bound by oath, and that the recall of judges would be inimical to established institutions.

Milton P. Uren and James W. Crittenden spoke for the recall. Uren pointed out that it would require a vote of 285,000 electors to recall a judge, while now it may be done by a vote of eighty-one members of the State Legislature. Crittenden declared the recall is necessary to remove the Federals Gathering in Force for Another Attack on Town of Mexicali.

Much Lead Wasted Wednesday With Very Small Casualty List.

BY JOHN M. STEELE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CALEXICO, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Like a recharged bottle of soda pop the comic opera insurrection across the international boundary has sizzled and subsided. The second day's investigation into the extent of the late engagement affords a net result of two dead insurrectos and two wounded, with a dead list of three in the Federal army and two wounded, the latter now in the city hospital at Calexico.

Three Red Cross expeditions to the battlefield today failed to add to the list of dead or wounded soldiers of the Mexican force, thus showing a marked discrepancy from the claim of the insurrectos that sixteen Federals had been wounded. It is, of course, possible that the retreating detachment carried their wounded with them in their retreat to the mountain fastness.

Aside from the confiscation of one or two horses and the dynamiting and burning of the Southern Pacific bridge just within Mexican territory, no other damage resulted from the engagement yesterday.

Inflated with their self-styled victory, the insurrectos are gathering courage from the rapidly disappearing stock of whisky in the Mexicali saloons and are reaffirming their ability to [illegible] Mexican army if necessary. Meanwhile it is believed that the Federal force is preparing to return to the attack with a largely augmented force.

A negro sentinel in the insurrecto army walked a beat just beyond the boundary line and bragged that he had killed one Federal officer and had made another "run like a jackrabbit." In common with other insurrectos he claimed that twenty-five soldiers had been killed or wounded.

VEGA REPORTED INJURED.

The Mexican Consul is authority for the statement that no considerable body of Gen. Vega's command was engaged in the fight of yesterday. It appears that the advance of Vega's command attacked the insurgents in a strong position on the southeastern edge of Mexicali, firing from the chaparral across the New River, where the attacking force occupied an exposed position, with the result that after several hours' desultory fighting the Federals failed to take the heights which the insurrectos occupied. The government troops then fell back toward the mountain passes near Ensenada.

A ranchman today reported to Capt. Babcock, commanding the United States force here, that in retreat the Federal forces passed his ranch, where they seized horses and a wagon in which Col. Vega was placed. He was wounded, it was said.

Because of the fear of stray bullets in the event of a second engagement, that part of Calexico adjoining Mexicali was patrolled today by United States troops with a warning to all to keep away from the forbidden district. With the exception of the Red Cross expedition and residents of Mexico no one is permitted to cross into Mexico from the United States.

There is much anxiety here concerning the future movements of the insurrectos—not because of any considerable interest in the conflict between the rebels and the Mexican government, but by reason of the immense damage imminent to the holdings of nearly every farmer and ranchman in the Imperial Valley, north of the boundary line, in the event that dynamiting attacks be made upon the dams and levees of the Colorado River irrigation system. At any one of several points in Mexico damage could be done that would return the upper Imperial Valley back to the desert from which it has just been redeemed.

There is a lack of confidence in the ability of the Mexican forces to prevent disaster to the irrigation system should the insurrectos reverse their present avowed policy and seek to deprive the country north of the boundary line of its water supply.

BLISS ON THE GROUND.

Interest was added to the situation by the arrival this morning of Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, commanding the department of California, together with his aides, Lieut. Pollion and Maj. Winship, Judge Advocate of the department.

E. E. Calvin, vice-president and general manager of the Southern Pacific; H. V. Platt, general superintendent, and P. Sheedy, superintendent of motive power, both of the Southern district of the Southern Pacific road, and W. H. Whalen, superintendent of the Los Angeles division, are also here on railway business. Others in this party are Gen. M. H. Sherman and Walter Bowker.

CLAY GREENE ENGAGED.

Member of Bohemian and One of Founders of Lambs' Club to Wed Wealthy Widow.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO (Cal.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The news of the engagement of Clay M. Greene, the well-known clubman and playwright, to Mrs. Laura Robinson, a wealthy widow of New York, was received with surprise by his friends at the Bohemian Club, where he is known as a member of the "Old Guard." No hint of the engagement had been received here until today, when the formal announcement was made. It is said the wedding will take place within a few months.

Greene has been a widower less than six months, his first wife, who was a Miss Wheeler, having died in Alameda last fall.

The bride-to-be has two daughters, her son is at present a student at the Naval Academy.

Clay M. Greene was one of the founders, and the first shepherd of the famous Lambs' Club in New York. He was born and educated in San Francisco and here he did his first work as a playwright.

MISSING GEMS HEADED HERE.

Diamonds Alleged to Be Stolen.

Los Angeles End of Express Line Asked to Impound Them on Arrival.

Part of Estate of Chicago Gambler Who Died Three Years Ago in East.

Package, Consigned to Pearl McDonald, Shipped West by Pawnbrokers.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 16. — [Exclusive Dispatch.] A sealed package containing $1500 worth of diamonds, which, according to Mrs. Dora McDonald, widow of "Mike" McDonald, the Chicago gambler who died three years ago, is part of $10,000 worth of gems which mysteriously disappeared from a downtown safety deposit box, has been found and will be impounded in Los Angeles, Cal.

The diamonds have been consigned to Mrs. Pearl McDonald, wife of Guy C. McDonald, and officials of the Wells Fargo Express Company, were given notice today by counsel for Mrs. McDonald not to deliver the package to the consignee on the grounds that "the property is stolen."

Suit was also filed in the Municipal Court by Attorney Asa G. Adams, demanding that the Wells-Fargo Express Company return the package of diamonds to Chicago and turn the gems over to the First State Pawners' Society, who were the shippers. The diamonds were sent Monday and were due in Los Angeles this afternoon.

Accompanied by her attorney, Mrs. McDonald went to the First State Pawners' Society and with the assistance of the police, attempted to prevent shipment on the grounds that the diamonds had been stolen. Samuel Woldford, manager of the society, showed receipts from the Wells-Fargo Express Company that he had shipped the package one hour before the arrival of Mrs. McDonald.

Officials of the express company were then appealed to, and Mrs. McDonald was informed that the package containing the diamonds was in an express train and on its way to Los Angeles. Foiled at every turn, counsel for Mrs. McDonald then decided to bring action in the Municipal Court.

"We will prove that the diamonds now in transit to California are part of the $10,000 worth of gems which belonged to Mrs. Dora McDonald, and were stolen from her," said Attorney Adams. "Many of the diamonds have been reset, while others are intact and can be identified by Mrs. McDonald. We have made demand in the suit which I filed today in the Municipal Court for the return of the package of diamonds, which is now in the possession of the express company. I believe that the package will not be delivered by the officials of the company in view of the bill filed."

Attorney Adams stated that Mrs. McDonald has been searching for the diamonds ever since they disappeared from the vault, shortly after the death of Mr. McDonald, and no trace of the gems was found until last Monday, when his client was notified by Guy C. McDonald that the property redeemed by Mrs. Pearl McDonald was part of the Chicago woman's gems.

Asked how the diamonds disappeared from the safety deposit box, Attorney Adams said:

"We will prove that Guy and Cassius McDonald had access to the box, although we do not accuse them of having taken the gems."

Mrs. Dora McDonald today signed an affidavit that the package of diamonds shipped from Chicago to Los Angeles is part of her property.

SLAYER'S WIFE HELD.

Mate of Davis (Cal.) Justice of Peace Is Jailed in Connection With Shooting Citizen.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

DAVIS (Cal.) Feb. 16.—Accused of being an accessory to murder, Mrs. G. R. Carey, wife of Justice of the Peace Carey of Davis, who shot and killed Charles Dodge in the main street of this town last night, was arrested this afternoon by order of Dist. Atty. Bailey and is now in jail with her husband. Evidence came to light today to the effect that Judge Carey and his wife, intent upon the death of Dodge, whom they considered the main obstacle to their obtaining the major portion of the estate left by the woman's father, left home last night with the avowed intention of killing him on sight, and that the woman herself carried a revolver.

"Is he dead yet?" Mrs. Carey is alleged to have asked, peering into the face of her husband's victim after the shots had been fired into his body, and the judge responded: "If he isn't, I'll give him some more."

In Woodland a few days ago Dodge tried to have the judge bound over to keep the peace, but Dist. Atty. Bailey, who is also Carey's attorney in a libel suit against Editor Scott of the Davis Enterprise, refused.

Emporia Editor Modifies Kansas Senate Story When Quizzed by Investigators at Topeka.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) Feb. 16.—From the time the Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate today announced that, in compliance with an attachment, he had "brought the body of William Allen White to testify" in the investigation in the Senate of the charges of "political crookedness" brought by David Leahy, the Governor's secretary, the Senate investigation of those charges took on a semi-humorous aspect and ended for the day with good feeling prevailing.

The Emporia editor testified that an article, written by him on the alleged "pork barrel" in the Senate, was a sort of "fire alarm" to check a bad situation before it gained too much headway and that it "most certainly has set the prairie on fire, too."

He said his article was based on information given him by a Senator, but he declined to divulge the Senator's name.

He expressed a belief in the honesty of all the members of the Senate personally, and said the alleged "pork barrel" was a kind of political bribery which was not indictable.

INSURANCE BILL REPORT.

INTER-COMPANIES EXEMPT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 16.—The Senate Committee on Corporations passed out with a favorable recommendation today a bill introduced by Senator Roseberry exempting inter-insurance companies from the provisions of the State insurance laws. The bill was offered by representatives of the inter-insurance companies, through Senator Roseberry, in connection with an effort to amend a bill now being considered by the Assembly Insurance Committee, classifying inter-insurance companies with mutual companies, in a provision to have the latter placed on the same basis as stock companies. The proposed amendment excludes the inter-insurance companies.

The representatives of the last-named concerns declare that State Insurance Commissioner Cooper has acquiesced in their requests. The bill and amendment under consideration affect $75,000,000 of insurance.

Battle Raging.

PACIFIC MAIL AND INDEPENDENT LINE CLASH IN FIERCE RATE WAR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16. —[Exclusive Dispatch.] Water competition in moving freight between San Francisco and eastern seaboard points is the prize which San Francisco shippers have at stake in the rate war inaugurated today by the Pacific Mail Steamship Company and the American Hawaiian Steamship Company against the California and Atlantic Steamship Company, the independent line operated by Bates and Chesebrough.

The Pacific Mail today sent its agents to shippers here with offers to take cargo to New York at $5 a ton, or $3 less than the rate heretofore in effect via the Panama lines and the government-owned railroad and steamships on the Atlantic side.

Fifty-one per cent of the stock of the Pacific Mail Company is owned by the Southern Pacific Company.

Agents of the American-Hawaiian line quickly followed the representatives of the Pacific Mail on the street with offers to shippers to carry their cargoes to New York at the same rate of $5 a ton, although the regular rate by this line is $12 and $14 a ton.

It is understood that tomorrow, in addition to the effort to bring about united action by the shippers of this city, representations will be made to President Taft on the ground that the government is being made a party to this rate war through its connection with the Pacific Mail at Panama.

Bates & Chesebrough, while the firm refuses to make any statement for publication, expressed confidence that the railroad would be defeated. They believe that the temper of the times has changed since similar tactics have proven effective. Generally shippers refused to allow themselves to be quoted. One of the largest said: "If they succeed in putting Bates & Chesebrough out of business, the Pacific Mail, to be consistent, will withdraw the direct service of its ships to Panama, as it always said it did not pay, and only started after the California and Atlantic had forced it to do so."

The $5 bait proved too tempting for some shippers today. One dried fruit man accepted it and afterward begged that his name be not mentioned.

At the meeting of the fruit men tomorrow a proposition will be made not to sell any more fruit in the East without an agreement that it shall not be shipped under a cut rate.

POLICE POWERLESS TO HANDLE BIG GANG OF I. W. W. RUFFIANS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 16.—One hundred or more members of the Industrial Workers of the World, who arrived here from Seattle, Tacoma and other northern points early today, captured a Southern Pacific freight train just as it was leaving the terminal yards for California points.

They made a demonstration and finally broke the doors of three freight cars, climbed into the cars and soon were on their way.

Southern Pacific officials said they would take no action until the train had crossed into California, when they would ask the California Governor to call out the militia to handle the mob.

Reports were received today from Spokane and other northern cities to the effect that at least 500 more I.W.W.'s would reach Portland within the next few days. Their objective point is Fresno, Cal., where it is said, they will attempt to enforce their alleged right to stick on the streets.

The protection of Col. Ockerson's grading camps on the Colorado River and of railway and other bridges, dykes and canal headings, is the first concern of Gen. Bliss and his command. He is taking efficient measures to this end, within the limitations of his authority.

His official report today makes clear the gravity of the situation so that the Secretary of War, acting for the President, may, in his judgment, issue further orders extending and reinforcing the authority of the commanding general. PRESS VERSION OF SITUATION.

VEGA REPORTED RETREATING BADLY WOUNDED.

Insurrectos Described as Hopeful and Preparing for Battle With Federal Forces—Dogs and Buzzards Devouring Unburied Corpses Left on Field of War.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

MEXICALA (Mex.) Feb. 16.—Beaten and in full retreat, the army of Gov. Vega of Lower California is hurrying back tonight toward Ensenada by way of the Cocopa Mountan pass southwest of here.

Vega, himself, is sorely wounded. This was confirmed today when American army surgeons stationed at Calexico received positive information to this effect from couriers who got into communication with the fleeing Federals.

One insurrecto bullet pierced Vega's neck, and another entered his left side, inflicting a serious wound. In a litter rigged like a sedan chair he is being carried southward by his men.

Simon Berthold, second in command of the insurrecto forces at Mexicali, left early this morning with about 100 men and it is supposed he is in pursuit of the retreating regulars. But the main body of rebels remains entrenched in the arroyos washed out by the Colorado River during its last rampage. They are awaiting the arrival of the Federal army, which is believed to be on the way from Sonora by way of Yuma.

Elated by the defeat of Vega, Gen Leyva and all his men are thinking only of holding Mexicali against any force that Diaz may be able to send against them. And they are in fighting mood.

Many of the insurgents are Americans, ragged and tousled like their Latin brothers, but clear of eye and steady-handed. One of them, a sentry, stationed at the American line, fired his Springfield today at a dog hunting out the unburied dead upon the battlefield 500 yards away, and brought it down.

This dog, with many others, brought out prominently some of the horrors that follow in the wake of war. The slain on the Federal side were left by their comrades upon the field where they fell and they still lie unburied. Flocks of buzzards became rivals of the dogs today in searching them out.

Under a Red Cross flag the Associated Press correspondent traversed the scene of yesterday's battle, and although Leyva reported eleven Federals slain, he saw only four dead, three regulars and one volunteer. In every case the men had been shot in the back.

Although splendidly armed with the late high power rifles, Vega's troops were otherwise poorly equipped. The weather last night was freezing, yet their uniforms consisted of white cotton pajamas, white and blue caps and leather sandals modeled after those the Roman soldiers wore. The rebels took the rifles of the dead, but left everything else and made no effort to bury them. There were no haversacks about the bodies.

Food was carried in handkerchiefs and consisted of green coffee, coarse flour and cornmeal and pieces of salt sides that were as hard as boards.

Little labels, pasted under the sweatbands of their caps, gave the names of the dead regulars. They were:

FRANCISCO SANCHEZ.
LOUIS ORVIERA.
RAMON MARIENZ.

They were members of Compania Fija Norte. No name was found upon the dead volunteer, who was lying under his horse in the New River wash.

Gen. Leyva, chief of the insurrecto forces here, was visited today by the Associated Press correspondent, and when asked regarding the battle, stretched out his arms, pointing towards the torrent scarred mesa fronting the town on the south and said:

"We could have held Mexicali against a thousand men. Vega is no soldiers. If he were he would not have attacked us from the south."

The route traversed by Vega's army, as it advanced to the attack, was over a mesquite covered valley full of gullies, which ended abruptly in a forty-foot canyon at the river bank. Even if he and his men had succeeded in reaching the river they would have been forced to descend the steep sides of the canyon and ford a rivulet directly under the guns of the insurgents.

Prior to yesterday's battle the insurgents cut the telegraph lines connecting Mexicali with Algodones and Andrade, near Yuma. Permission was given today to repair the line, but after workmen had been sent over from Calexico, Leyva received information that the Mexican regulars were nearing Yuma, and he forthwith sent out a detachment to chase the electricians to the American side again. As a result Mexicali is without telegraphic communication eastward.

Seventy-two Chinese laborers from the California-Mexican ranches clamored for protection today at the American line. One of their number was killed yesterday by a stray bullet and the others became panic-stricken. The United States immigration authorities were willing to give them protection of the American flag and the Celestials went over the line. But they were sent back tonight when they declined to pay for the guards set over them.

REBELS CUT LOOSE ON FORAGING TRIP.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

COSOLA (Sinaloa, Mex.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Rebels commanded by Juan Banderas left Amaculi yesterday on a foraging trip and raided Comedero and settlements in that vicinity, securing arms, ammunition, money and a large number of horses. Captain Ignacio Caire has gone to the relief of Comedero, while rurales and national guards are in pursuit of Banderas. The prefects of nearly all the districts in the State have asked Governor Redo to provide their cities with arms and ammunition to defend them against attacks by insurrectos. As fast as possible the Governor is granting these requests, but care is taken that they do not fall into hands of sympathizers of the revolutionists.

MEXICAN FEDERALISTS GO TO AGUA PRIETA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NACO (Ariz.) Feb. 16.—Three coach loads of Mexican troops arrived here by train from Cananea, State of Sonora, Mex., today and left immediately over the El Paso and Southwestern for Agua Prieta. It is supposed here that this means that the Mexican government is concentrating its forces at Agua Prieta for the purpose of securing a large force for effective operations against rebels.

EVERYTHING QUIET IN AND AROUND JUAREZ.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EL PASO, Feb. 16.—Small cavalry scouting parties under Col. Rabago returned to Jurez tonight after spending the day scouring the country in the immediate vicinity of that city. They were unable to find any traces of any insurgents bands and reported that no attempt was made to approach Guadalupe, the present headquarters of the insurgents.

Gen. Navarro tonight declined to confirm the report that he would lead an expedition against Guadalupe tomorrow. However, today's scouting operations showed that the country was clear for several miles in that direction and it is believed a movement against Guadalupe is contemplated by the Federals.

Insurrectionary advices tonight state that Francisco I. Madero is selecting cabinet members for his provisional government, but is keeping their names secret for the present.

PRESS GIVES BULL FIGHT FOR ORPHANS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 16.—A bull fight, proceeds of which are to be devoted to the needs of widows and orphans of Mexican soldiers who have died in the present rebellion was given today under the management of the Mexican Herald and El Heraldo. Several members of the diplomatic corps and many officers of the Mexican government attended. Between $2500 and $3000 gold was realized.

ACTIVE CAMPAIGN TO START AGAINST REBELS.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 16.—An officer of the War Department today confirmed the assertion that an active campaign against the insurrectos would be undertaken at once, with Juarez and Chihuahua as headquarters. He sad that martial law was declared at Juarez to permit the army officials to handle cases in a more active and agressive way.

ARKANSAS MEMBER CALLS PEARY "FAKER" BEFORE LOWER HOUSE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Representative Macon of Arkansas, speaking in general debate on the naval appropriation bill in the House tonight, made an attack on Capt. Robert E. Peary, denouncing him as a faker, and declared that he "had been driven from the naval service."

The bitter words used by Mr. Macon called out a quick reply from Peary's friends. Representative Moore of Pennsylvania, after vainly attempting to interrupt Mr. Macon, finally got the floor in his own right. He characterized Mr. Macon's speech as "unjust, outrageous and offensive."

He said there was always some one to be found to suspect every performance by men of genius and courage. He referred to Capt. Hobson's exploit of the Merrimac and to Dewey's victory at Manila Bay.

"Heroes like these," said Mr. Moore, "have not the time to stop and deal with every dog that barks at their heels."

Mr Macon, who evoked laughter in the House several days ago by announcing that in using the language, "wilful and deliberate liar, dirty little pilferer of words, and contemptible little ass," he had gone about as far as his "fellowship with the Methodist church permitted," added some new phrases to the history of debates in the House tonight.

CALLS STORY FAKE.

He declared that Peary's whole story was a "fake, pure and simple."

He said his contempt for "fake heroes" was supreme and he intimated that he put "the hero of San Juan Hill" in that class. Mr. Macon denounced the Peary Arctic Club and charged that it had maintained a paid lobby in Washington. He said that President Taft's judgment in this matter was not to be accepted, for he had congratulated Cook as heartily as he did Peary.

Paying his compliments to the editors of the New York Times and the New York Evening Post, Mr. Macon characterized them as "unblushing, know-it-all tit-bits and pea-eyed, pinheaded and putrid-tongued infinitesimals."

He referred to Peary as a "fur trader;" pictured him as "a self-exaggerated, self-opinioned, puffed-up near-hero," and finally denounced him as "an unfaithful servant and an idle loafer, who ought to be driven from the service instead of being promoted."

Mr. Macon expressed the belief that Peary and Cook on one of the trips north, when they were companions, figured out that it would be easy for a man to fake a discovery of the pole, and he charged that they both started out at the same time to "make the discovery."

FAVORS MARATHON MEDAL.

He declared that instead of being rewarded with promotion to the rank of rear admiral as President Taft and the Committee on Naval Affairs have recommended, Peary's feat was at best worthy only of a medal like those awarded to Marathon runners.

Mr. Moore in reply said he had great respect for newspapers and editors and he had noted with pride that the press galleries had remained empty throughout the time the gentleman from Arkansas had the floor.

"I am glad to know," said Mr. Moore, "that no one in that gallery is willing to sit there and listen to the diatribes of the gentleman from Arkansas, offensive as they were, upon one of the great men of this country; or listen to the violent epithets he applied to newspaper editors."

SPEECH INSPIRES TRIBUTES.

Mr. Moore paid a glowing tribute to Capt. Peary, saying that his attainment of the pole had come at the end of twenty-three years of laborious work and unknown hardships.

Representative Saunders of Virginia spoke briefly in support of Capt. Peary.

Mr. Moore of Pennsylvania had read and put into the record a letter from Admiral Chester of the navy who passed upon Peary's proofs, in which he said in part:

"I would also like to add with regard to the oft-repeated and absurd criticism concerning Commander Peary's rapid march after leaving his main party on April 1, 1907, a fact that I do not think is generally known. It should be remembered that he advanced north with a force comprising personnel and equipment selected from the best in his entire command, and that the conditions of ice and weather were growing better all the time. He therefore, naturally, made better speed than could be accomplished by a larger party, which is always retarded by its weakest unit. But this increased rate of travel was not abnormal for when the party had again reached land and man and Peary spurted back to the ship, covering over 100 miles of ground in "two sleeps," or nearly as much distance as made by him in seven days from April 1 to April 6, 1907."

GERMAN CHANCELLOR PLAYS FOR TIME IN THE STATEHOOD FIGHT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

BERLIN, Feb. 16.—Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg requested today a postponement of the discussion of the Constitution proposed by Alsace-Lorraine, in order to give the government time to consider an amendment adopted by the Reichstag.

This is a direct outcome of the differences between the Bundesrath and Reichstag as to the conditions under which the new State shall enter the empire, and the move of the Chancellor is thought to be preliminary to the withdrawal of the government's proposal of equal rights for Lorraine.

As drawn now, the Constitution gives the new State no new representation in the Bundesrath, as it was designed apparently not to decrease Prussian influence.

The Reichstag committee adopted an amendment on giving the Reichstag three votes in the Bundesrath, thus permitting it to enter the empire a full-fledged Federal State.

Yesterday, in direct opposition to the wishes of the government, the Clericals forced through another amendment striking out the clause which gave the Emperor the exercise of executive authority and substituted a provision for a regent practically free of imperial control and influence. It was anticipated the government would not accept this change of its plans.

Union of Candy Girl and Son of Wealthy Merchant Brings Speedy Misery—Benedict Says Her Parents Stole His Girl Wife After Wedding.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND, Or., Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Benjamin M. Hecht, son of a wealthy shoe merchant, found himself Tuesday afternoon wedded and parted all in fifteen minutes.

Young Hecht married Miss Anna Kirchenberg, a pretty candy store girl. The parents of neither of the young people knew of the match. For fully fifteen minutes after the wedding ceremony, which was performed by Judge Cleeton in his chambers, the happy bridegroom enjoyed the society of his fair young wife but he has not seen her since.

She left him to go back to the store to relieve another girl in fulfillment of an agreement that she was to keep her position for a time. Instead of meeting her fond new husband at the appointed time and place that afternoon, she was pounced upon by cruel parents and borne away to imprisonment at home, where even now she is held under lock and key, says Hecht. Young Hecht says he was notified that the girl was only sixteen years and a few months old, instead of eighteen years, as she had represented to him, and that he need have no hope of regaining her, as the marriage would be annulled.

Heart-broken and distracted, the wifeless Benedict has been making every effort to see his bride, but so far has not succeeded. His parents refuse to aid him because they opposed his marriage. Today young Hecht appealed to the police, but was told they could do nothing for him.

MINER ACCIDENT VICTIM.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
KENNETT (Cal.) Feb. 16.—That Louis Gay, foreman of the Mammoth mine, had been murdered, was assumed by the citizens of Kennett last evening when his saddle mule, covered with blood, ran riderless into town. Searching parties were sent out and the theory of foul play apparently was confirmed when Gay was found unconscious in a pool of blood by the roadside, with a bullet wound in his thigh. On regaining consciousness today, Gay explained the wound had been inflicted by the accidental discharge of an automatic revolver in his hip pocket. He will recover.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Imprisonment for life was the sentence imposed today by Judge Willis, sitting for Judge Cabaniss, on John D. Knapp, the stableman, convicted of the murder of Mrs. Julia Carey, an aged woman on November 19 last. The killing was done with the hinge of a door, in the rear of a livery stable, the body being dragged to a vacant lot and thrown behind a billboard.

SIX "IMPORTERS" OF CHINESE DROWNED OFF SAN PEDRO.

Report of Affair Carried to San Francisco by Revenue Cutter. Yawl With "Contraband" Overturns in Surf—All on Board Perish.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]
SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—At least six persons were drowned off the coast south of San Pedro in an attempt to smuggle a party of Chinese ashore, according to a report received at the Angel Island immigration station yesterday.

The information came from Inspector Frank Ainsworth, in charge of the revenue cutter Orient, which has been patroling southern waters since the beginning of the year in an effort to check the smuggling of Chinese into this country from Mexico.

Early last week Ainsworth, while cruising south of San Pedro, saw a power boat which he suspected to be loaded with Chinese. He began pursuing it and spent a night trailing the craft up the coast. In the morning a heavy fog lowered and it became difficult to keep the chase in sight.

The power boat was seen to make for the shore and, when she was within about half a mile of a landing place, she put off a yawl with about six men. The yawl capsized and Ainsworth believes that all those on board were drowned. The power boat escaped.

Captain of Oriental Liner Given Supply of Opium by Portland Customs to Quiet Angry Crew.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
PORTLAND (Or.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Declaring that the members of his Chinese crew were becoming crazed from lack of their customary "pills," and that he feared serious trouble if the situation was not relieved, Capt. Roberts of the oriental steamer Strathness, applied today at the customhouse, asking that eight pounds of non-contraband opium which had been seized on the vessel yesterday, be returned to him, which was done.

"The opium was not intended for barter," declared Capt. Roberts. "It belonged to the opium smokers in my crew. When these men are deprived of opium they become crazed and violent. They are already approaching that condition and I fear trouble."

The Strathness Chinese have no way of replenishing their supplies, as they are not permitted to land on American shores.

Capt. Roberts, agreed hereafter to keep the opium in his personal charge and doie it out to the coolies only as it was urgently needed.

The tour is to take twenty days. From Honolulu the Shriners plan to ascend to the crater of Kilauea and to hold an initiation ceremony there.

FRESNO, Feb. 16.—Announcement was made by Dist.-Atty. Denver S. Church today that he was seriously considering the dropping of the charges against Dr. Jackson L. WEAKNESS AFTER GRIP AND FEVERS

Can Be Stopped and Normal Health Restored by the Tonic Treatment That Cured This Stubborn Case In St. Louis.

The evil effects that follow many diseases, particularly the grip and wasting diseases as typhoid fever, malaria, scarlet fever, pneumonia and the measles, are caused by the bad condition in which the blood is left. As a result, the flesh continues to fall away, the sufferer grows nervous and irritable, and even slight exertion causes shortness of breath. These are dangerous symptoms and indicate that the system is in a state that invites a general decline or even consumption. What is needed is a new supply of rich, red blood to carry health and strength to every part of the body. Such a specific has been found and in hundreds of cases it has been proved that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have accomplished this result.

The cure of Mrs. J. M. Symonds, of No. 210 South Twenty-first street, St. Louis, Mo., shows the value of these pills as a tonic in cases where the blood has become thin or impure. She says:

"About three years ago I was very ill from an attack of malaria. It left me in a very weak condition and the after-effects were as bad as the disease itself. I was generally run-down, had no strength and was very thin. I had but little appetite and nothing seemed to agree with me but everything I ate caused me distress. My heart was weak and at times I thought it was going to stop beating. I also had an attack of rheumatism. The pains were sharp and were all over me. I was confined to bed for a month at one time.

"I became discouraged with the treatment I was receiving from the doctor and quit taking his medicine. Through a friend I learned of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and began using them right away. They were the first thing that helped and I improved until cured. I feel healthier today than in years and I owe my recovery to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills alone."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y. Send today for a book of cures.

QUEER TURN IN RACE TRACK BRIBERY INQUIRY.

Congressman Foelker, Who Accused Frank Gardner of New York State Senate of Buying His Vote, Now Charged With Illegally Securing Admission to Practice Law.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]
NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Technically chief witness for the prosecution, Congressman Otto G. Foelker assumed the role of defendant today in the trial for attempted bribery of Frank J. Gardner, formerly a co-member with Foelker of the State Senate.

In his direct testimony, given originally before the Merritt Joint Legislative Committee, and repeated today on the witness stand, Foelker accused Gardner of offering him $12,000 to vote against the Hart-Agnew racing bill, enacted in 1908. The bill passed by one vote and Foelker, who had himself been carried to the Senate from a sick bed to cast it, was then acclaimed the moral hero of the hour. Subsequently he was sent to Congress.

On cross-examination of Foelker, the defense attempted to destroy his credibility as a witness. Max D. Steuer, counsel for Gardner, drew from him that for three months in 1904, while he was studying for his regent's examinations, with a view to admission to the bar, and while he took them, he lived with Max Sosinsky, who is now in Blackwell's Island penitentiary serving a term of nine months for impersonating candidates at the regent's examinations. An applicant for admission to the bar may not take the bar examination until he has successfully passed the regent's quiz.

SHORT IN ACCOUNTS.

Son of Supreme Court Justice of Washington Accused by Members of Legislative Committee.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]
OLYMPIA (Wash.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Capt. Denton M. Crow, son of Supreme Court Judge Homan D. Crow and custodian of the Spokane Armory, is short between $700 and $1200 in his military accounts, according to members of the Legislative Investigating Committee, who returned to Olympia from east of the mountains this morning.

Capt. Crow is here and has been summoned to appear before the committee.

The committee members charge that Crow collected rent for the use of the Spokane Armory and paid the bills himself, whereas the law directs the custodian to turn all money over to the State, and to pay the bills by State warrants.

HENEY MUST EXPLAIN CONDUCT TO DIRECTORS OF THE OLYMPIC CLUB.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Francis J. Heney will have to face trial by the directors of the Olympic Club for conduct unbecoming a gentleman. The charges, which will be filed, are the outgrowth of his insult to Dist.-Atty. Fickert yesterday afternoon in the club rooms, when Heney not only employed foul language to Fickert, but also made an apparent effort to draw a revolver. Should the charges that will be lodged against Heney be proved true, his expulsion from the club will follow immediately.

This is one of the few times that the Olympic Club has had to question the conduct of one of its membership, and if Heney is dishonorably dropped, it will be the second time in its history that a gentleman in disguise has been exposed publicly.

The abuse heaped upon Fickert by Heney, who was his defeated rival for the District Attorneyship at the last election, and Heney's effort to draw a weapon on Fickert, has aroused the club membership thoroughly. Members demand a searching inquiry into the disgraceful action on the part of Heney. Heney's friends in the club today said they cannot excuse his conduct, and this morning the talk heard in the club generally was that expulsion would be the inevitable outcome of his intemperance and ungentlemanly conduct.

Generally charges of this character are considered by a sub-committee of the board of directors, but in this instance, owing to the prominence of the persons involved, the entire directorate will sit in judgment upon the case of Heney.

CHARGE MADE THAT STATISTICS OF EXPORT TRADE ARE PADDED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—American ingenuity and effort should be concentrated to prevent the commerce of the United States from being carried under the Japanese flag through the Panama Canal, in the opinion of W. James Porch, who addressed the Pan-American Commercial Conference today on behalf of the Progressive Union, the Board of Trade and the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of New Orleans.

Mr. Porch referred to the project of the Japanese to build vessels to transport goods directly from the Atlantic Coast of the United States via the Panama canal to the Orient and likewise from the Pacific Coast of this country to Europe and South America.

He declared that the charge that the Americans could not build steamships as cheaply as foreign countries was not true.

Excitement was developed early in the day by the remarks of Francis J. Low of New York, who read an affidavit charging that the Bureau of Statistics of the Department of Commerce and Labor was giving out misleading statistics on the export trade of the United States.

C. P. Austin, chief of the Bureau of Statistics, had just finished giving statistics on the trade of the United States with the Latin-American countries when Mr. Low presented an affidavit made by Charles P. Sprice, formerly a confidential clerk in the bureau, which charged that while employed in the bureau, instructions had been issued in regard to the exports of manufactures, "which would tend to mislead the manufacturers of the United States as regards exports of annual manufactures."

The affidavit further averred that proof could be shown by referring to schedule E, of the bureau, "in which raw materials are described as 'wholly or partly manufactured' and which makes a tremendous difference in the declared exports of manufactures by the use of the word 'wholly.'"

Mr. Austin denied the charges in a staement issued later, asserting the full summaries of the bureau gave accurate and detailed information.

COMMISSIONER'S SCALP IN PERIL.

Secretary of Commerce and Labor Worried.

Department of Justice Hard on Trail of North.

Appointee of Senator Perkins Faces Removal.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The case of Hart North, Immigration Commissioner at San Francisco, is troubling the Secretary of Commerce and Labor. North has been under suspension for some weeks pending investigation of charges against him.

The immigration service and the Department of Justice have been probing North's record, it having been charged that some one in his office had been improperly influenced to allow illegal landing of Chinese. No evidence could be found by the District Attorney that money or other considerations had been accepted, and the criminal investigation has been dropped. However, it is felt that North is not the proper man to hold the office.

North is an appointee of Senator Perkins, who has stood up for him loyally and thus far has prevented the removal of the commissioner. The Senator can do little more and the department is getting insistent for North's scalp. It seems to be waiting now to see if he will accept the inevitable and resign, or whether it will become necessary to remove him, "for the good of the service." Senator Perkins is still standing by his man and he is opposed to the appointment of anyone in his place who is not a Californian. The acting commissioner, an inspector named Stewart, is favored by the Commissioner General for the place.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Either the tea growers of China and Japan must find some other way to color tea or they will lose the American market for their colored teas. The tea board of the Treasury Department has decided that colored tea is injurious and that importations of it must cease. Last year 98,000,000 pounds of tea was imported, half of which was colored. Japan sold us 46,000,000 pounds of which 23,000,000 pounds was colored.

Secretary Ballinger Orders Sun Dance and Holy Cross Forests Prepared for Speedy Settlement.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Secretary of the Interior Ballinger has ordered opened to settlement under the provisions of the homestead laws, on April 18, 1911, and to entry one month later, the unappropriated lands in the 4907 acres recently eliminated from the Sun Dance national forest, Wyoming, and the unappropriated lands in the 12,100 acres eliminated from the Holy Cross national forest, Colorado.

The unappropriated lands in the 65,755 acres eliminated from Toiyabe national forest will become subject to settlement under the homestead laws on April 15, 1911, and to entry one month later.

The lands eliminated from the Sun Dance forest are located in Crook county, Wyoming; those from the Holy Cross forest are in Eagle county, Colorado, and those eliminated from the Toiyabe forest, are in Nye and Lander counties, Nevada.

"PROGRESSIVES" WANT "PIE."

Senate Holds Up Confirmation of Portland Collector to Please Members of the "New Guard."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Senators Bourne and Chamberlain have protested against the appointment of P. S. Malcolm to be collector of customs at Portland to succeed himself. This appointment was sent to the Senate some weeks ago at the solicitation of business men of Portland, who said they were actuated by Mr. Malcolm's good record.

However, the reform Senators think they should have been consulted and they consider that the appointment belongs to them. They have not forgotten the announcement made at Beverly last fall that the progressives were to get their share of patronage and they want it.

In view of their stand, the Senate Committee on Commerce will report against the confirmation of Malcolm.

Espee Claim Blocked.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is little probability that the Southern Pacific's Colorado River claim will be reached at this session in the House. It is on the calendar, but there is so much business ahead that there is little chance to get it up for consideration.

Editor Passes Up Office.

WASHINGTON (D. C.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Congressman Needham has been advised by Charles Harris, editor and proprietor of the Merced Star, that he will not be a candidate for reappointment as postmaster, whoich office he has held eight years. Harris wishes to devote his entire time to his business. Charles F. Newman, a bank cashier, seems to be the strongest candidate for the position.

CHILDREN POTENTIAL BRIBERS.

American Parent's Method of Training, Declares Professor, Leads to Political Corruption.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

PROVIDENCE (R.I.) Feb. 16.—"Children who can wheedle their parents into letting them act foolishly are being educated to bribe legislators into letting them act lawlessly. The American parent has proved unfaithful to the State, to say nothing about his children, who has given his sons and daughters a monthly allowance and has let them do what they pleased."

So declared Dean Shailer Mathews of the University of Chicago divinity school in an address tonight at the closing session of the Religious Education Association's convention.

Sixty-first Congress.

VETO SURE FOR PENSION BILL.

Mr. Taft Said to Disapprove Sulloway Measure.

Would Add Fifty Million Yearly to the Rolls.

Committee May Refuse to Make Report.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The prediction was made on the floor of the House of Representatives today that President Taft would veto the Sulloway general pension bill if it passed the Senate. Similar expressions have been heard frequently at the Senate end of the Capitol, but not publicly made in debate.

The bill would increase the pension rolls about $50,000,000 a year.

It is not likely that the bill will be disposed of in committee in one day although its members are agreed that action shall not be delayed unnecessarily. Senators Lodge and Smoot, who are members of the committee, today assured President Taft the bill would not be smothered in committee, regardless of how much opposition there might be to it.

From present indications the bill will be returned to the Senate about Wednesday, and certainly not later than Thursday. It may be that no report, either for or against the bill, will be made, chiefly for the reason that the objections which the members of the committee hold to the measure, led them to desire to amend it, if it is to have committee approval.

In view of this attitude, the members of the committee feel that it would be better to submit the whole matter directly to the Senate without recommendation, all members reserving the right to pursue whatever course their individual opinions may suggest when it is considered on the floor. However, all this may be changed when the committee meets.

Senate leaders are not sanguine of reaching a vote, and many of them are inclined to the view that an extra session cannot be avoided.

SECRETARY'S PAY STARTS WRANGLE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The qualifications that are necessary in one who is to fill the post of secretary to the President were discussed in the House of Representatives today, in connection with the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, fixing the salary of that official. The Senate had thought $10,000 no more than adequate compensation, but the House, by a vote of 130 to 52, declined to concur, holding that $6000, the present salary, is ample.

Debate on the question was sharp and references were made from time to time to the duties of the secretary that brought forth spirited defense from advocates of an increase in his salary. Mr. Rainey of Illinois said one of the duties of the secretary to the President seemed to be to prevent Congressmen from seeing the Chief Executive.

Mr. Olmstead of Pennsylvania took Mr. Rainey to task.

"If the gentleman from Illinois considers his course either intelligent or dignified, I am willing that he should have a monopoly of that kind of argument," he said. "If he thinks a prize fighter or a messenger could do the work of a secretary to the President, I don't care to argue with him."

"The gentleman was perhaps expressing a hope as to what might occur under the next administration," suggested Representative Mann of Illinois.

"Then the gentleman admits that we will have a Democratic President?" said Representative Heflin of Arkansas.

Porterville.

CAPITULATION BY "SOLID FOUR."

WARRANTS ONCE REFUSED FOR WORK GRANTED.

Bills Held Up on Written Opinion of District Attorney Are Finally Paid the Horticultural Commissioner for Inspection Work—Another Election Will Be Held.

PORTERVILLE, Feb. 16.—At the meeting of the Board of Supervisors held today the "Solid Four" capitulated and ordered warrants drawn for all of the bills submitted by Horticultural Commissioner Schulz for inspection work done under his direction by his deputies and the fight which has been on between the commission and the board for the past three weeks is now a thing of history.

Several days ago these bills were held up, and supported by a written opinion from the District Attorney, the point was made that no accounts would be paid unless accompanied by an itemized statement showing what the work was for. As some of the bills covered inspection work done months previous to the dating of the bill, such intemizing was nearly an impossibility.

Today these orders were rescinded and by a unanimous vote the clerk was ordered to draw warrants.

Undaunted by the failure of a previous election to determine upon the proposals to annex a certain large territory to the city limits, the annexation enthusiasts appeared before the City Council last night with a numerously signed petition, asking that another election be called as soon as the necessary legal tape can be unwound.

According to the petition as filed it is proposed to annex a number of suburban districts, including the Scenic Drive, the new fashionable residence district, the Monache tract, the Monte Vista and the Luther Burbank Park addition.

It is averred in the petition that a canvass has been made of the territory it is proposed to annex and if the second election is called the proposal will be carried by a large majority.

Inasmuch as the election enthusiasts pledge themselves to liquidate the expenses of the election in case of failure the City Council voted unanimously to order the election called.

Regular meeting of the Realty Board was held last night, the members partaking of the monthly "Get Together" dinner, general topics of interest being up for discussion. All of the members of the board agree that hereafter there will be displayed no "To Let" signs or "For Sale" signs on any of their property either within the city limits or in the orange and alfalfa country.

It was also voted that hereafter none of the members of the board accept contracts for the sale of property for a less price than 5 per cent. net.

Contracts weree let by the Fire Committee of the City Council at the meeting last night for the equipment of the fire engine houses with concrete inclines and automobile pits in preparation for the installation of the auto apparatus which is to be delivered to this city about April 1st. in accordance with plans which were drawn up last December.

The inclines are to be steep, the machines are to be held in place with chucks beneath the wheels and when a start from the house is to be made, these blocks will be drawn out, thus starting the machines without the necessity of cranking up.

Report has been made by the Nominating Committee of the Ladies' Improvement Club, giving a list of the names of those who will be eligible for the offices to be voted upon at the next regular meeting. On the list there are the names of the following prominent members:

Mrs. W. E. Sprott, Mrs. W. B. Phillips, Mrs. Tennie Trefry, Mrs. A. G. Schulz, Mrs. Sol Rodgers, Mrs. J. E. Boller, Mrs. W. W. Brown, Mrs. Alice Premo, Mrs. A. C. Bartlett and Mrs. Anna L. Norris.

This year the club has taken on new activities. In connection with the Tulare County Humane Society there has been added an organized charities and a special committee of the club has been appointed to take charge of the Luther Burbank Park. All of the park funds secured from special taxation is to be this year turned over directly to the Ladies' Improvement Club for their administration.

DIED FROM INTERNAL HURTS.

Intoxicated Man Fatally Injured and Delay in Getting Surgical Treatment Causes His Death.

FARMERSVILLE, Feb. 15.—While slightly under the influence of liquor William Hicks, an employee of the William's ranch near Lindsay, was struck by an electric car of the Visalia Electric Railroad here last night and received injuries from which he died at the Visalia General Hospital today.

Hicks was standing at the side of the track waiting for the approach of the car, and walking too close to the ties he was not seen by the motorman; when the car sped by a projection on the front of the car struck him in the left side, knocking him several feet from the rails and inflicting an extensive internal injury.

Not realizing the extent of the injury at the time, Hicks walked about in Farmersville for practically the whole night and did not apply for admission to the hospital until this morning. When admitted to the institution it was found that his side was terribly swollen and in spite of an operation which was performed for relief of a congested condition, he sank into a stupor from which he never recovered. He exonerated the railroad employees from all blame and admitted that he had been drinking during the day, which accounted for his carelessness. As far as is known here Hicks has no relatives and as he was without funds he will be buried in the potters' field.

PROHIBITION INTERESTS FIGHT NEW MEXICO'S CONSTITUTION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Declaring that fraud and corruption were used in the passage of the New Mexico Constitution, appeal was made to President Taft today by representatives of the Anti-Saloon League, the W.C.T.U. and other interests to use his influence against the adoption of the Constitution.

Those who appeared at the White House in opposition to the Constitution were former Senator Henry Blair, of Maryland; representing sundry citizens of New Mexico and others; S. E. Nicholson, legislative superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of America; Mrs. Margaret D. Ellis, legislative superintendent of the W.C.T.U. and Mrs. Emma S. Shelton, president of the W.C.T.U. in this city.

They presented to the President a brief setting forth the objection which they had found to the adoption of the Constitution, and urged the President to prevent the new State being admitted under such a constitution. They declared a large number of the committee which had drafted the constitution were bar-tenders, saloon-keepers and employees of corporate influences which were trying to get control of the State.

They will appear tomorrow before the House Committee on Territories.

DEPLORES INTRODUCTION RACE QUESTION INTO DEBATE.

Borah Declares That Negro's Sole Hope of Defense Is in Learning the Truth—Asserts That He Was Urged Into Fight Over Direct Election of Senators for Defeating Measure."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—That [illegible] the negro is [illegible] in the North as it is apparent in the South."

Mr. Borah declared if Congress had power under the existing provision of the Constitution giving congressional control over Senatorial election, it should be exercised.

"If that right exists, the North has the greater obligation under it, because it makes claim to it. We assert the power, but we admit that we have not had the moral courage to exercise it."

For himself, he denied the existence of any such power, and said he resented such idea because of the position in which Congress would be placed by it.

The race question, Mr. Borah said, had been brought into the discussion, "In the fond hope it would do service in defeating the resolution as a whole." He declared it had been used for similar purpose for the last thirty years.

In conclusion he said:

"The negro has been used as a political football about as long as our own sense of decency and his developing intelligence will permit. We should no longer mistreat him, but we should have the courage to inform him as to the real situation. It does not benefit him to make him the subject of our sophomoric rhetoric. The colored race has advanced to the point where we well may dispense with the perennial distribution of soothing syrup, and give its members solid food in the way of facts. We should tell him the truth and conceal nothing.

"The negro is beginning to realize that the white man of the North is of the same race as the white man of the South, and that in his blood is the virus of dominion of power. He should know that while his slave chains have been broken, the chains of industry are being forged around him and will continue to hold him unless he himself can break them. This badge was placed upon him by his Maker, and it can be removed only by the negro himself, with the aid of those who have the courage to tell him the truth, which is that we have the power to guarantee to him the equal protection of the law and to protect him against discrimination. To attempt anything more would be ruinous to the colored man and demoralizing to the whole political party. He must work out the problem under the Constitution.

"When the exigencies of debate are over, it will be found that no measure will be offered in the Senate to protect any supposed right of the colored man anywhere. If those who are interested will turn to the Constitution they will find there the universal rule of equality, the only rule to be applied to the negro and the only rule under which we can legislate. If applied, it will be proved to be the correct rule, the rule for all of us."

EATEN STEAMER TOWS WRECKED SCHOONER TO PORT.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

Badger sighted the schooner West in distress.

Huddled together on the deckload of lumber were Capt. Jansen, his wife and the crew. They had saved a piece of sail under which they were seeking protection.

After two hours of work Capt. Badger and his crew succeeded in rescuing the drenched, half frozen and half starved people. For three days they had not had a drop of water to drink or a morsel of food. Three of the crew fainted from exhaustion when rescued.

Capt. Jansen said that on the second day of the storm the vessel filled with water, destroying all their provisions and making it impossible to get to the fresh water tanks.

The West sailed from Gray's Harbor with lumber for Australia February 8.

EARLY-DAY GROCER DIES.

End Comes to Henry Merz, a Pioneer of Los Angeles Who Crossed the Plains After Gold Discovery.

Death came yesterday morning to Henry Merz, a pioneer of Los Angeles. Mr. Merz was born in Germany in 1822 and at the age of 29 emigrated to America with his sister. Lured by the reports of gold in California, he crossed the plains.

Henry Merz,

Los Angeles pioneer and a grocer here in the seventies, who died yesterday.

He and nine companions suffered many hardships. Although they had plenty of money they were unable to purchase provisions in the desolate country. After killing their last oxen for food they journeyed the rest of the way afoot.

In 1875 Mr. Merz came to Los Angeles and associated himself for many years with Mr. Peschke, also a pioneer, in the grocery business. This proved lucrative. He retired a number of years ago. He leaves a widow.

WEALTHY WIDOW TAKES TO AIR.

HONORED NOW AS ONE OF THE FIRST AEROPLANISTS.

Was One of the Country's Crack Whips When Horses Were in Vogue and an Automobile Enthusiast and Fearless Driver of That Machine in Past Few Years.

One of the country's crack whips when horses were the vogue, an auto enthusiast and fearless driver of that machine during the past few years, Mrs. Eva Cramer Bresler, widow of a Detroit millionaire, who is staying at the Van Nuys, has suddenly attained the honor of being one of the first women aeroplanists. Previous to leaving San Diego, where she has been passing part of the winter, she was made honorary commodore of the Aero Club of that city, and a life member as well.

Fate found Mrs. Bresler in San Diego at the time of the recent aviation meet. As one of the very enthusiastic daily visitors to the show she shortly made the acquaintance of Harry S. Harkness, Curtiss, Ely and others who were participating. Through Harkness she soon learned the intricacies of an aeroplane and after a first seat in one, she at once declared that an airship should soon be hers.

Mrs. Bresler will return to Detroit in a few weeks and then will arrange her affairs so as to enable her to return here to make this a permanent home.

"When I return," she said, "I shall proceed further in the study of aeronautics and if possible obtain a machine, on; to which I can attach my own head and tail lights to form the moving stars of the sky. Aeroplaning will soon become as much a sport for women as for men. I think women have advanced so rapidly that it will not take them nearly the same number of years to attempt driving aeroplanes as it did to drive automobiles."

In Detroit where automobiles form the chief conversation of all grades and shades of society, Mrs. Bresler's name has been for a long time familiar. In the Gliddon parade of last year, the decorations of her car were so unique that they won for her the only individual prize officied in the parade. Various auto magazines gave her credit for her achievement in glowing phraseology. She drives an electric as well as a runabout and a heavy touring car, the first and last of which were started for California this year, but were delayed several times and finally ordered back to Detroit.

Previous to the automobile days, Mrs. Bresler achieved considerable mention as one of the best women drivers of tandem or single horse at the Chicago Horse Show. She was a long time known as "The Lady in White," owing to her white costume, white carriages, white horses and decorations of the same shade.

Her husband, who died about ten years ago, was president of the League of American Wheelmen and one of the well-known yachtsmen of the great lakes. He was a number of years consul of the Central American States at Detroit, and at the time of his death threw the large Bresler estate into litigation which dragged over nine years' and was finally settled a year ago. About $5,000,000 was involved in the case.

Mrs. Bresler is not entirely of sporting blood stock. One of her uncles is Rev. Cannon Farrar, rector of Westminster Abbey of London. In Europe she was several times introduced in the higher social circles. Baroness Van Romer of Dresden and Countess Von Koll of Berlin are two of her good friends.

"For a while I thought that Europe should always be my final abiding place, but since I have visited California, I will never be content to make a permanent home in any other part of the world. I have a number of relatives and a host of friends here and so it will seem just like getting back from a long trip when I return." While speaking of returning from the East, Mrs. Bresler was unable to say how soon she would leave Southern California on her return journey.

She is a brilliant blonde, somewhat of a linguist and in addition to her sporting proclivities can also perform vocally and on the piano.

AN article in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday will describe the beneficent work the United States government is doing in the way of extending "first aid" to injured miners.

RUSSIA MENACES CHINA.

TROOPS TO ILI.

The province of Ili, to which Russian troops will be sent, lies in the northern part of the Chinese empire. By a provision of the Russo-Chinese treaty of 1881, the western portion of Ili is incorporated with Russia in order to serve as a place of establishment for the inhabitants of Russia, who, having adopted Russian dependence, had to abandon the lands which they possessed there.

The frontier between the possessions of Russia and the Chinese province of Ili is defined in the treaty.

FEW EXPECT WAR AS RESULT OF "BREAK."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—Notices of Russia's intentions regarding China reached the State Department today through the American embassy at St. Petersburg.

Russia promises the American embassy to acquaint it with particulars of the indictments against China.

The whole incident came as a great surprise to the diplomatic service in Washington for, although it was known that sharp issues had arisen between Russia and China over conflicting claims of jurisdiction in Manchuria and in connection with commercial privileges in Mongolia, the situation was not regarded as critical and it generally was believed that in view of the deplorable conditions existing in China as a result of the frightful famine and the terrible ravages of the plague, Russia would generously defer pressing her claims to the extreme at this time.

That war will not result from the latest movement of the Russian government is the confident belief in diplomatic circles here, for it is generally understood the Chinese are totally unprepared to meet such a foe as Russia at this juncture.

It is expected the Chinese will appeal to the powers, including America, for fair play. What amount of support she will receive cannot be safely foretold.

It is pointed out here that our own government cannot act until it has examined the contentions on both sides. Before America could intervene in behalf of China, it must first make sure that the country was guiltless of such disregard of her treaty obligations as would warrant the Russian menace.

Should it be found that there is ground for such action, it is entirely possible the State Department may use its good offices to avert war or the working of great injustice upon China by suggesting a reference of the issues between the countries to The Hague tribunal.

At first glance it does not appear that the "open door" doctrine is involved in this affair, for presumably Russia would not attempt to curtail any right of trade in the affected provinces of Mongolia or Turkestan now enjoyed by citizens of foreign countries.

JAPANESE PAPERS SEE CHANCE FOR INVASION.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

VICTORIA (B. C.) Feb. 16.—Japanese and Chinese newspapers received by the Kamakura Maru tonight devote much space to discussions of the danger of a break between Russia and China because of the latter's refusal to permit the opening of Russian consulates in Western Mongolia. The repeated threats of Russia to send a force to occupy Kuldja and to invade Mongolia are the subject of adverse criticism by the Japanese papers.

An unnamed diplomat interviewed at Tokio said there is at present an excellent opportunity for aggression in China. The Russo-Chinese boundary treaty expires this month and China arranged to open Haiho near Aigun.

Russia brought pressure on China to continue the treaty and the demonstration now threatened in Ili and Mongolia is aimed to force China to permit the opening of Russian consulates and removal of obstacles to Russian trade in Mongolia.

The National Review, a Chinese organ, published in English at Shanghai, says the danger of the government being forced by the plague to leave Peking offers adequate opportunity for aggression. The Shanghai paper says:

"Japan and Russia have never been so near the capital as they are now and there cannot be the slightest doubt that if the court and government found it necessary to leave Peking, one or the other of these powers, and possibly both, would find excuses for moving south and placing Peking under military control. Such action would probably be disguised as a Commission of Sanitation, but none the less, it would be usurping the functions of supreme government and there would be difficulty in causing withdrawal."

Rheumatism No More--the Great Kidney Remedy Conquers Uric Acid.

I have long felt it my duty to let you know what Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root did for me. Some years ago I was afflicted with rheumatism. For some time I was helpless, not being able to move my feet or feed myself. I suffered terribly and employed as good a physician as could be found. Although I obtained some benefit from his treatment, I was unable to do any work and was terribly discouraged. My feet and hands would swell badly. I finally commenced taking Swamp-Root, and before the first bottle was finished, I commenced work, only losing five days out of the first month, I continued taking Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root until I had taken five bottles, and have never been laid up a day since with rheumatism. I have recommended it to others and the results have been fine.

CHARLES ROSEN TO SERVE TERM.

Convicted Under the Federal Bankruptcy Law.

Sentenced to Eighteen Months at Fort Leavenworth.

His Partner, Levin, Given Similar Punishment.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CINCINNATI, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The first conviction under the new Federal laws making it a criminal action to violate the United States bankruptcy laws was found today on the cases of Charles Rosen and Morris Levin, who formerly owned a jewelry store at No. 528 Race street, here.

Rosen and Levin were both sentenced by Judge Hollister to serve eighteen months in the Federal prison at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. Both of these men stated through their attorneys that they will ask for a new trial. Rosen is the man who was arrested last fall in Los Angeles, where he went from Cincinnati, after he had filed his petition asking to be declared a bankrupt, and it had been acted upon favorably by the Federal Court here. He made a hard effort to keep out of the hands of the police and had a trial to test the requisition papers issued for him by Gov. Harmon of Ohio. He failed in this and then returned.

It was charged by United States District Attorney McPherson in the trial that Rosen had sent about $20,000 worth of goods in jewelry to a storage house in Ocean Beach, Cal., and that these were kept there by his niece, Miss Dora A. Pearlman. Rosen tried to show the court that these goods were not his. He had purchased $25,000 in goods and had then gone bankrupt and listed $25,000 in assets. His creditors complained to the court and the warrant for his arrest was issued.

FARMER OUTLAW SLAIN.

Ex-Member of Cherokee Bill's Gang Shot and Killed by Brother in Family Row.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

WEBB CITY (Mo.) Feb. 16.—Two brothers, only survivors of the famous Cherokee Bill gang of outlaws, which once flourished in Oklahoma, met here in a finish fight at midnight, and "Bill" Stidham killed his brother "Ike" in a quarrel involving the relations of "Bill's" son with "Ike's" wife.

"Ike," it is alleged, attacked "Bill" with a penknife, whereupon "Bill" shot him. "Bill" surrendered to the police today.

NEGROES SERVE ON TEXAS JURY.

FORMER MARSHAL ON TRIAL FOR HIS LIFE.

Historical Precedent Set in Lone Star State When Colored Men Are Accepted as Talesmen—Barrel Full of "Six-Guns" Taken From Spectators Attending Court.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

GALVESTON (Tex.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] For the first time in the history of Texas, a jury composed in part of negroes, is trying a white man for his life. Six negroes and six white men must eat and sleep together for perhaps ten days or two weeks. The jury cannot go to a restaurant for its meals, for the white restaurants will not serve the negroes and the jury cannot be separated.

The case on trial is that of Earl McFarlane, an ex-policeman, charged with the murder of Deputy Police Chief Will Murphy of Houston, last April. The case came to Galveston on a change of venue and there are 450 witnesses from all parts of Texas in attendance.

As a precautionary measure the court ordered that no weapons should be allowed in the courtroom during the progress of the trial. Every man was searched at the door and the six-shooters in temporary custody would fill a large-sized basket.

VIGILANTES IN GOTHAM.

Prominent Men Join Committee Which Proposes to Make Streets Safer for Citizens of New York.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—New York City is to have a vigilance committee, which like similar volunteer committees in frontier camps, aims to make the streets of the metropolis safer for citizens and restrain the carrying of firearms by the prosecution of those active in East Side gang fights and in numerous attacks on the foreign colonies of the city. The vigilante committee is a volunteer organization, including in its membership Bishop Greer, Hudson Maxim, Jacob H. Schiff, John Wanamaker, Henry Clews and others.

The formation of the committee is due to the initiative of the City Coroner's office, which sent twenty letters to men conspicuous in all walks of life. More than half of those appealed to responded, while others, including John D. Rockefeller, expressed their sympathy with the movement and promised their moral support.

USING BATTERING RAM.

Device of Ancient Romans Called in by Police to Aid in Gambling Raids.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—A hydraulic battering ram, capable of a ten-ton thrust, is the latest addition to the artillery equipment of the New York police force. It will be used as a weapon in connection with gambling raids, being constructed especially for the purpose of splintering open the steel "ice box" doors with which New York gambling houses and poolrooms are commonly equipped.

The first test of the ram was made in a raid yesterday. A six-inch iron-clad door, which barred entrance in a downtown "club," was splintered by the machine in eight seconds. The door was bursted from its hinges with a noise like thunder and was thrown violently through a partition, narrowly missing a dozen men in a corner of the clubroom as it fell.

JOHN D. MAY GIVE SITE.

Rockefeller Home in New York May Become Location for New Fifth Avenue Baptist Church.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—John D. Rockefeller has a plan under consideration for presenting his Forty-fifth-street home and his adjoining realty holdings as a site for the new home of the Fifth-avenue Baptist Church, according to the World today. The trustees of the church have for three years been looking for a suitable site on which to build a church along modern institutional lines, but the committee in charge has failed to make a selection.

Mr. Rockefeller recently purchased a number of plots surrounding his home, and it is believed that he is rounding out his holdings so that they may become available for the new church site if the trustees fail to find one more suitable.

ROCKEFELLER ILLNESS DENIED.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—At the office of John D. Rockefeller here no credence was given today to reports current in financial circles that Mr. Rockefeller was seriously ill at Augusta, Ga. It was said that Mr. Rockefeller was alive and well.

OUT IN AUTOMOBILE.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

AUGUSTA (Ga.) Feb. 16.—An inquiry at the hotel where John D. Rockefeller is staying brought the information that there was not the slightest foundation for the rumor that he was ill. At 2:30 o'clock p.m. Mr. Rockefeller was taking his usual automobile ride.

CUR DEMURRAGE.

State Railroad Lops Off Half Former Charges Made by Roads—More Follow Conference.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—Railway demurrage charges were cut in half by the State railroad commission yesterday. The regular $8 a day charge was reduced to $5.

The commissioners held a conference with the representatives of the railroads regarding the rates to be established for the immediate future, the current rates having been made suddenly ineffective by the Legislature's passage of the Stetson railroad bill.

The commissioners decided to make operative all those rates promulgated by the railroads since February 9 together with those which will be effected within the next few days where there is no increase. When a raise is contemplated the commissioners will hold hearings.

OUTLAW JOINS REBELS.

Sole Survivor of Famous "Dalton Gang," But Recently Released from Jail, Starts for Boundary.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BAIRD (Tex.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A man who said he was Emmett Dalton, sole survivor of the band of "Dalton Outlaws" which operated in Oklahoma and Kansas twenty years ago, and which was exterminated with the exception of Emmett in a raid on Coffeyville, Kan., stopped off here yesterday, on his way to join the Mexican rebel forces.

Dispatches from Tulsa, Okla., say that Emmett Dalton has been with a traveling moving picture show and no one knows there whether he has joined the insurrectos or not. The show was in Texas recently. Dalton was released from the Kansas Penitentiary about three years ago. He was sentenced for his part in the Coffeyville raid.

Gritty New York Hotel Clerk Grapples With Robber and Drives Off His Confederates.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—With the aid of a big revolver and the co-operation of confederates in a waiting automobile, a masked bandit early today attempted to hold up the clerk of the Hotel Frederick in West 35th street, just off Broadway below Central Park. The attempt failed because Robert G. Barnard, the clerk, grappled with the bandit after the latter had fired one shot and wounded him in the hand, and because the robber's revolver twice missed fire when he tried to follow up his first shot by trying it again.

HIS MENTAL BALANCE OFF?

Laborer Victim of Mysterious and Unprovoked Assault by Quartette of Strangers.

As he stood beside a cigar-stand at Sixth and Central avenue in conversation with a friend last evening, Selah Smith, an unemployed laborer, of No. 1302 East Sixty-first street was set upon by four unknown men and cruelly beaten. Several men were witnesses to the apparently unprovoked assault but before they could interfere, Smith had been knocked to the pavement, his lower jaw broken in two places and his head and body badly bruised.

After Smith had been given treatment at the Receiving Hospital the matter was reported to the police. With the exception of one of the quartette, the injured man says that all of his assailants were strangers to him. The one he had seen but once before, on which occasion he had refused to accompany him to a saloon. This apparently angered the stranger and the assault was the result. Aside from that Smith says that he knows of no reason why he should have been made the victim of such an attack. He had but little money at the time and had displayed none.

The police have good descriptions of the four and an effort will be made to apprehend them on John Doe warrants which Smith will swear out this morning.

CATARRH OF THE STOMACH

A Pleasant, Simple, But Safe and Effectual Cure For It.

Catarrh of the stomach has long been considered the next thing to incurable. The usual symptoms are a full or bloating sensation after eating, accompanied sometimes with sour or watery risings, a formation of gases, causing pressure on the heart and lungs and difficult breathing, headaches, fickle appetite, nervousness and a general played-out, languid feeling.

There is often a foul taste in the mouth, coated tongue and if the interior of the stomach could be seen it would show a slimy, inflamed condition.

The cure for this common and obstinate trouble is found in a treatment which causes the food to be readily, thoroughly digested before it has time to ferment and irritate the delicate mucous surfaces of the stomach. To secure a prompt and healthy digestion is the one necessary thing to do and when normal digestion is secured the catarrhal condition will have disappeared.

According to Dr. Harlanson, the safest and best treatment is to use after each meal a tablet, composed of Diastase, Aseptic Pepsin, a little Nux, Golden Seal and fruit acids. These tablets can now be found at all drug stores under the name of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets and not being a patent medicine can be used with perfect safety and assurance that healthy appetite and thorough digestion will follow their regular use after meals.

The plan of dieting is simply another name for starvation, and the use of prepared foods and new fangled breakfast foods simply makes matters worse, as any dyspeptic who has tried them knows.

As Dr. Bennett says, the only reason I can imagine why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are not universally used by everybody who is troubled in any way with poor digestion is because many people seem to think that because a medicine is advertised or is sold in drug stores or is protected by a trade mark it must be a humbug, whereas as a matter of truth any druggist who is observant knows that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have cured more people of catarrh of the stomach, indigestion, heartburn, heart trouble, nervous prostration and run down condition generally than all the patent medicines and doctors' prescriptions for stomach trouble combined.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the safest preparation as well as the simplest and most convenient remedy for any form of indigestion, catarrh of the stomach, biliousness, sour stomach, heartburn and bloating after meals.

CREAM OF MAIL SLEUTHS HERE.

UNCOMMON GATHERING OF SIX INSPECTORS.

More Defaulting Clerks in the Postal Service Captured in Los Angeles Than in Any Other City in the Country—Special Temptations Offered by Great Mass of Traffic.

The cream of the postoffice inspection service is now represented in this city. More inspectors are gathered here than there are usually in the whole State. Every official is here on business and each has in charge a case of importance to the government.

This city is a haven for men who have gone wrong in the postal service and in consequence more defaulting clerks are captured here than in any other place in the country. The great mass of mail handled through the local office offers special temptation and the less through theft is consequently heavy.

By chance six inspectors gathered at lunch yesterday noon. Never before in this city have so many of the government's trained sleuths eaten a mid-day meal together. They were C. L. Wayland, R. C. Knox, Col. J. H. C. Wilson, C. E. Webster, G. R. Cellar, W. M. Martin and G. E. Roberts.

Knox has been stationed here several years and has just returned from one of the most important missions which fall to the lot of those in this branch of the government service. He was sent out to gather up the mass of evidence which is to be used against Attorney and Mrs. Fred H. Thompson when they at last tried on a charge of having received $15,000 which Orlando F. Altorre stole from the mail.

A circuit of the entire country was made by Knox. At every place the Thompsons stopped when they were on a long tour, which is said to have been paid for with the tainted coin, the inspector made an investigation.

It is said that he picked up all of the final details in the evidence which will trace the movements of the couple from the time the attorney was retained to defend Altorre, who was arrested for theft, until the Thompsons were taken into custody.

Wilson is in charge of the local office. He has a national reputation. For many years he was in Washington, where he worked as the confidential agent of the highest officers of the nation.

Wayland is in the city to take back to Seattle Kessler W. Cabler, a night foreman of the northern office, who is accused of having stolen a registered letter containing $1500. He is one of the big men in the service. He has been in the work thirty years, and is generally called into the investigations of "big" cases. He played an important part in the wireless telegraph investigation, which resulted in a scandal in New York.

Webster has headquarters at Fresno. He unearthed an alleged scheme of the Greenwald-Ely Consolidated Company to swindle through the mails. As the result of his exposure, J. M. Graybill and A. M. Markwell were arrested on charges of having misused the mails. They will soon be tried and the officer is getting the evidence in shape.

Cellar was transferred to the West from Oklahoma and now has headquarters at San Bernardino. He has assisted in several important captures recently and now has charge of the case of Finley McKee, formerly assistant postmaster at Angel Island, who is under arrest on a charge of having stolen $500 from the receipts.

Martin was trained in Tucson and is now stationed here. He has charge of the case against Frank E. Riggs, formerly night foreman of the local office, who is awaiting trial on a charge of having stolen trifles from the mail to send to his sweetheart.

BODY OF ARCHBISHOP RYAN LAID TO REST WITH GREAT POMP.

Virtually All Prominent Figures of Great Religious Heirarchy in United States Present When Body of Famous Prelate Is Lowered Into Crypt Beneath High Altar of St. Peter and St. Paul in Philadelphia.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS DAY REPORT.]

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 16.—The body of the late Archbishop Patrick John Ryan was entombed today in the crypt beneath the high altar of the cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul, in this city, following funeral services that were imposing.

It was one of the greatest funerals ever held in Philadelphia. Virtually all prominent figures in the hierarchy in the Roman Catholic Church in the United States participated in the services, and hundreds of priests were present. The cathedral held 2500 persons and surrounding the building was a great concourse of people that witnessed the procession from the church around Logan Square, and back to the edifice.

NO FLOWERS SAVE PALMS.

The weather was cloudy and raw. With the exception of the heavy black draperies and a few large palms, there were no flowers. The body of the archbishop rested upon a catafalque in front of the high altar surrounded by lights and guard of honor. It was dressed in the full, rich vestments of the office of archbishop, including the mitre.

The services began with the chanting of the divine office, made up of excerpts from the scriptures. The Antiphonarians who performed this office included Cardinal Gibbons, clad in the scarlet of the Sacred College, and surrounded by his assistants.

With the end of the service the officiating clergymen retired to the sacristy, where the procession for the pontifical mass of requiem was formed. Cardinal Gibbons presided at the mass. In the procession were Mgr. Falconio, papal delegate to the United States, and Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, who preached the sermon.

HIS THRONE VACANT.

There were three thrones, for the papal delegate, cardinal and archbishop. The throne of the dead archbishop remained vacant. The absolution of the body was quintuple, and was pronounced by five of the attending prelates, one of them being the cardinal. With this final rite of the church concluded, the body was conveyed down the main aisle to the front door, where it was placed on a funeral carriage. Then, with the features of the beloved metropolitan exposed to view, a procession was formed, which moved around the four sides of Logan Square, which is opposite the cathedral, and comprises four city blocks.

It is estimated that nearly 100,000 persons saw the unusual procession. With the return of the cortege to the cathedral, the body of the archbishop was conveyed to the crypt beneath the altar, where the final scene took place.

POPE PIUS RAPIDLY RECOVERING FROM BAD SPELL OF INFLUENZA.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

ROME, Feb. 16.—Pope Pius X, who is experiencing an attack of influenza, had a relatively calm night and early today his temperature was found to have fallen during the night from 100 to 99, only half a degree above normal. His Holiness's private physician, Dr. Petacci, visited the sick chamber this morning and remained a long time. He considers the malady is taking its normal course.

Dr. Ettore Marchiafava, consulting physician to the Pope, has not been called into the case yet and this fact seems to indicate the illness is not serious. The patient, however, is suffering some inconvenience because of a congestion of the bronchial tubes, with difficulty in breathing and increased respiration.

The fever having abated, Dr. Petacci permitted the Pope to rise from his bed late today, but soon afterward advised him to return to it in order to avoid fatigue, and the possibility of taking more cold, which might result in a relapse.

The Pope had a slight rise in temperature this evening, but Dr. Petacci found His Holiness in a satisfactory condition and expected that with a few more days of care and rest, his health would be completely restored. He advised, however, that all audiences be suspended until next week.

Influenza is quite prevalent here. Cardinal Rampolla is suffering from a serious attack, and although his temperature has not risen above 100 the constitution of the cardinal is not such as to offer much resistance owing to his overworked life.

Cardinal Rinaldini is also confined to his apartments by the disease.

If some ...Oakland and some ...State and there is to be a war of rates and charges it would be retrogression. If Oakland may control its harbor, so should San Francisco and Los Angeles.

Most of the speech was a bitter arraignment of those who represent his motives as other than the public-spirited.

Caminetti asked Mott if he would be satisfied to take possession of the tide lands and leave control of the charges with the State. Mott said he would.

At the conclusion of the hearing all the tide lands bills were assembled and referred to a committee composed of the authors of the bill—Wright, Hewitt, Tyrrell, Stetson and Caminetti for special consideration, and the purpose of reconciling them all to a common basis. Wolfe said he did not want to serve on the committee.

Senator Gates asked if a hearing would be set on the tide lands question and next Tuesday afternoon was selected. Gates said he would notify the Chamber of Commerce and other civic bodies of Los Angeles to appear at that time and present their claims.

I am anxious to save him now, as I have saved him many times before."

Passion and prejudice, he said, originating from the first Schmitz decision by the Supreme Court, are ruling the people, and he illustrated the caprice of the people by their overwhelmingly electing Stoneham in 1882 on an anti-Southern Pacific platform, besides which the present-day efforts are pale, and following it in 1884, by electing Leland Stanford, president of the Southern Pacific, United States Senator.

"When cool, common sense returns the people will be sorry of this great error," he said.

Milton T. U'ren of San Francisco made the closing argument for the recall including judges. The committee then passed to amendments and Senator Larkins of Visalia, classed as one of the ultra-recallists, surprised all by offering amendments calculated to make a new face, at least, for the freak. He would have none but those who voted for a candidate eligible to sign a recall petition and they must make affidavit to this fact. Larkins agreed with "Father" Johnson that the minority is likely to misuse the recall unless there is a restriction.

After a three hours' session, the committee adjourned until tomorrow to reach a decision.

Gates's initative and referendum constitutional amendment passed the Assembly this morning without a dissenting vote. Assemblyman Paisley offered some amendments, but couldn't explain them. Seventy-five answered the unanimous roll call.

PITTSBURGH'S SCHOOL SMIRCHED; DISCLOSURES FULL OF HORROR.

Voters' League of Smoky City Declares That Children Have Been Sent to Picnics With Women of the Underworld and That Directors Are Incompetent and Are Drawn from the Lowest Walks of Life.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Another exposure of graft and corruption in public office has been made today in this city. Now it is Pittsburgh's school system that is attacked.

Charges are made that a majority of the 322 school directors are dishonest or incompetent; that much of the school funds have been stolen or wasted, and that the cost of education is almost half as much as the actual operating expenses of the city schools. The exposure is made by the Voters' League. The league supports its charges by signed confessions.

It is shown that Pittsburgh has as school directors, men who are bartenders, saloonkeepers, professional gamblers and men who gett heir living direct from disorderly houses.

School funds have been taken to buy beer for women of the Tenderloin, who were entertained with children at school picnics. Some of these school picnics have been anticipated by the promoters as an annual debauch for Pittsburgh's under-world.

Here is the league's analysis by occupations of the men who manage Pittsburgh's educational system:

"Fourteen bartenders and saloonkeepers; thirty-eight directors holding public jobs; seven who have no legitimate occupation such as professional gamblers and the like; and thirty-six laborers including the lowest type of unskilled mill workers; drivers, watchmen and waiters.

"School picnics have become popular in recent years, especially in the lower wards of the city. Some of these school picnics have been nothing more than drunken orgies, for directors and their dissolute and disreputable friends.

"Children from the schools have been taken to picnics with drunken men and women of the under-world.

"One board this year whose school had but a few hundred pupils, took several train loads of people to its picnic. The picnic of this school for years has been looked forward to by the under-world as an annual debauch."

DENIES HIMSELF TO CALLERS.

MAN ACCUSED OF MURDER CALLS FOR LIQUOR.

Declines to See Lawyers Who, Looking for Fees, Send Their Cards to Him—Rumor That There Is Something Back of the Slaying of the Woman.

Charles F. Reynolds, the Lankershim ranchman, who is confined in the County Jail, charged with the murder of his wife, Mrs. Lou Hessinger Reynolds, at the ranch home Tuesday evening, refused to see any one all day yesterday.

He was recovering from the debauch in which he shot his wife, and for several hours was under the care of a physician. He continually asked for more whisky, but it was not given to him.

He was asked repeatedly if he desired to see an attorney, but refused to see any, even after several prominent lawyers looking for fees sent in their cards and offered their services.

The man says he is waiting for the arrival of his wife's brother, Attorney Walter Hessinger of Redding, and that after he sees him he will talk.

There is a continued rumor that there is something back of the slaying of the woman at the lonely ranch house, which has not come out. It is known that Reynolds was addicted to protracted sprees, which his wife had endeavored in every manner to stop, but it is not thought that there was ever a difference on this score which could become so serious as to lead to a killing.

When Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds lived in Los Angeles they seemed very much attached to each other, and it was supposed that they purchased the ranch home at Lankershim only for a country place. They were frequent city visitors, and entertained often at the local hotels.

Friends of the family say that Mrs. Reynolds gave her consent to the purchase of the Lankershim country place with the hope that Reynolds would be led away from his drinking habits.

The body of Mrs. Reynolds is lying at the morgue of Gates & Crane in Hollywood, and this morning at 10 o'clock an inquest will be held there.

MAY BUILD PIANOS HERE.

Head of Large Manufacturing Concern Attributes His Success Largely to the Principle of Open Shop.

John V. Steger, head of the Steger and Sons Piano Manufacturing Company and the largest individual manufacturer in the world, arrived at the Angelus yesterday.

Mr. Steger is looking over the ground with the end in view of establishing a factory on the Coast. He said yesterday that Los Angeles is immeasurably better fitted as a location for a piano factory than any other city on the Coast and in all probability he will establish a plant here about the time the Panama Canal is completed.

He figures that with the nearness to the supply of mahogany and other hard woods that is afforded in Los Angeles he will be able to build and ship pianos East through the canal cheaper than he can manufacture them in the East.

Mr. Steger came to America from Germany in 1871 and arrived in Chicago with 12 cents in his pocket. In 1879 he had saved $2500 and started in the business of building pianos. It took him eight months of hard labor to build his first one. Now his factory, which employs 6000 men, turns out 100 pianos daily.

Mr. Steger has a little town of his own called Steger, about twenty-nine miles out of Chicago. It is almost self-supporting and his big factory which never closes, furnishes employment for about all of the inhabitants of the town. It ismodeled after the towns of Gary of the steel trust and Pullman of the palace car company.

Mr. Steger is at the head and controls his company which is capitalized at $4,000,000. He says that he made almost all of his success through running his factory on the open-shop plan.

"The business on the Coast is growing so rapidly," said Mr. Steger last night "that we are selling 25 per cent. of our output in this section."

Mr. Steger owns a nineteen-story office building in Chicago and is director of several banks in that city. He is enthusiastic over the growth of Los Angeles as it has been five years since he was here.

The cause is unknown. Mr. Wolfskill's son Matt and wife were the only members of the family at the place. The other members are staying in Pasadena. The Sawtelle Fire Department responded to an alarm, but, on account of lack of water, was unable to render effective aid.

The loss is estimated at $10,000 or $15,000. The structure was built a good many years ago.

The contest will be between Coronado White (the English team,) and Pasadena R. team, commencing at 3 o'clock and will be referred by R. H. Holmes, official umpire of the American Polo Association. It is the intention of the local management, headed by Riverside's enthusiastic polo player, Robert Lee Bettner, to have a warming up game tomorrow afternoon. This will attract many spectators, as keenest interest is manifest in the coming games.

Among the ponies at the grounds now are some of the finest trained players of the game that have ever been seen in the State, and they, too, are being admired by may lovers of good horses.

L. R. Johnson of Denver, will take the place on the Pasadena team, vacated by E. Q. McGuilty, who was called East on business. Under the rules governing the contest the game will be much faster than any heretofore played on local grounds, as there permit of side playing. There will be eight playing periods of seven and one half minutes each, with intermissions of one minute.

Lord Tweedmouth, one of the foremost players of England who will take part in the game tomorrow, weighs 200 pounds but he is a famous horseman and his part of the contest will be watched with more than ordinary concern, on account of size and comparison case with which he is said to take the saddle.

Pasadena.

GREAT THRONG IN DAILY PARADE

Crown City Filled to Brim With Visitors.

Big Hotels Are All Taxed to Their Capacity.

Railroad Men and Merchants Are Feeling Good.

(Office of The Times, 26 S. Raymond avenue.)

PASADENA, Feb. 17.—All winter tourist records have been broken. This is the statement given out by the managers of all the big winter hotels and by all real estate agents and others in a position to know. Afternoons on Colorado street look like bargain counter rushes. The sidewalks are filled with those who have come to Southern California to escape the severe weather of the North and East and the streets are literally filled with automobiles and carriages filled with jolly tourists.

The hotels have never done as much business as they are doing this year. Of course this is considered the top of the season, but it will last two months and possibly longer. It is a case of harvest for those who have business with the visitors and they are doing a much better business than ever before because the visitors are well supplied with money and are inclined to spend this year.

All railroad agents state the business is surpasses anything formerly done. The Santa Fe has probably done more business than any of the other trough lines. For weeks the California Limited has been running in two and three sections ad the Overland Limited is having the same experience. It is stated in Chicago that the Santa Fe lines are hauling into Southern California, this year, an average of 3500 people every day. The Southern Pacific is running the Santa Fe a close second. One of the noticeable features of this year's crowds is the great number of people from the Northwest; Washington, Oregon and British Columbia. Seattle, Portland, Spokane and Vancouver are all represented by large colonies. Then, too, Minneapolis and St. Paul are exceptionally well represented, with Duluth a close second.

Of the big cities which have large colonies in Pasadena this year, Chicago stands first. Every hotel, every boarding-house and all rooming-houses have their share of Chicago people. They are simply everywhere. Said a prominent Chicago real estate man today: "Why, bless you, do you know I meet more Chicago people, whom I know, every day in Pasadena than I ever did in a day in Chicago? It is true. I meet them everywhere, in the hotels, on the streets, and on the cars."

Motoring, golfing and just seeing the sights occupies the time of this great throng of people. There are now in Pasadena over 300 automobiles owned by visitors who have brought machines with them. And when it comes to golfing, all of the golf courses are crowded and yet there are many who cannot be accommodated. Playing starts early in the morning, before any people are out of bed, and lasts until it gets too dark to see the balls.

STILL THEY COME.

Another politician cantered into the ring of action yesterday and announced that he wants to be a Councilman-at-large and sit with Pasadena's lawmakers for the next four years. It is C. W. Rhodes of State street. He has been a resident of the city for ten years and of Altadena for nine years, and that he has been "with us" for fifteen years. He will make the run with E. L. Metcalf, who announced some time ago that he would be willing to accept the place as a lawmaker if he could get enough votes. It is understood that both men will be placed on the straw primary ballot. The announcement of Rhodes puts life into the Councilmanic race. The First Ward will have three candidates, Newell Davis and Shutt. The Sixth Ward has two candidates, Root and Easterbrook.

A JOLLY TIME.

The best ever" was the universal statement of those who attended the fourth annual minstrel entertainment, given last night by the Men's Club of All Saints' Church in Parish Hall. Part 1 was a cantata-operetta, "The Spanish Gypsies," by twelve young women which was greatly enjoyed, but part 2 was the "fun-part." This end of the programme was given by the All Saints' Minstrel troupe.

ART EXHIBIT.

One of the greatest exhibitions of art ever seen in Pasadena will open at 9 Monday at No. 31 North Marengo avenue. Most of the artists of Southern California have contributed to this exhibition, which will be under the auspices of art lovers who are working for a permanent art exhibit for Pasadena. Many prominent society women have consented to be patronesses of the affair. It gives promise of being one of the leading society events of the year. Among the pieces of art on exhibit will be vases by Keith and Bruer of San Francisco and Benjamine Brown, Kenneth Newell Avery, Robert Wagner, William Wendt, Mrs. Julia Bracken Wendt, Jean Mannheim, Mrs. Wachtel and Elmer Wachtel.

OPEN NEW QUARTERS.

FREEHOLDERS' CHARTER WINS.

FIERCELY CONTESTED CAMPAIGN ENDS IN ADOPTION.

Personalities Were Injected Into the Fight and Invective Was Hurled by Both Sides—Temperance People Win Over the "Wets" by a Majority of Fifty Votes.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

POMONA, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Never in the city's history has there been waged so spirited a political campaign over any measure affecting the civic welfare of the city as has been fought over the new charter for the government of this municipality, which was accepted today by a majority of 115 votes.

The battle was hot and bitter, the bitterness of personal invective having been injected during the final days of the campaign. The charter was framed and unanimously approved after careful consideration by fifteen representative citizens, and the friends of the measure claim that it was nearly perfect for this city as can be drawn up at the present time.

The unusually large number of 1449 votes were polled, both sides having automobiles in use all day. The alternative measure providing that there shall be no sale of alcoholic liquors in Pomona except by druggists under proper restrictions was carried by fifty votes.

Prominently identified with the opposition to the charter were city Trustee W. W. Midgley, W. L. Hamlin, secretary of the Pomona Business Men's Association; J. A. Gallup and A. H. Tufts. The charter was supported by many of the local business men, by the members of the church brotherhoods and those interested in civic reform.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 16.—Alighting from a Pacific Electric car at noon today, Raymond V. Duncan, the apostle of scant attire, his wife and son attracted instant attention. The trio are en route to San Francisco, sailing tomorrow on the Yale, and stopped over at Long Beach. Clad in a single garment, with arms, neck and feet bare, they presented an unusual spectacle. They went to Hotel Kennebec, but Manager Kennebec shook his head as he sized up his prospective guests and said there was nothing doing, whereupon Mr. Duncan forgot his Greek character and lapsed into plain and forcible English.

From the Kennebec the Duncans went to Hotel Virginia, where their entry into the lobby created as much excitement as a sortie of wild animals. Manager Stanley readily assigned them apartments, but fearing a panic in the dining-rooms, he told his queer guests they would have to take their meals in their rooms, to which Duncan assented. The afternoon was spent on the beach, the trio attracting much notice.

REMARKABLE CASE.

A sixteen-pound sledge hammer today dropped with full force on the hand of M. H. Burke, foreman for the National Lumber Company. An X-ray photograph of the member revealed that no bones were broken, although the tissues were bruised badly. Doctors think it a remarkable case.

CALCUTTAN DIES.

Mrs. Maude Dunkley died last night at her home on West Second street. She was born in Calcutta, India, and was 40 years of age. She was the daughter of H. P. Pittman, a noted British army officer, and wife of Ferdinand Dunkley, a nationally famous organist. Eighteen months ago Mrs. Dunkley was taken ill and after treatment by doctors of all schools, she quit them all and began Christian Science treatment alone last November. She came to Long Beach ten days ago.

AFTER IDEAS.

The school board and superintendent of San Jose visited Long Beach this afternoon to get ideas on a Polytechnic school. They visited the site this afternoon and were shown the plans and the new buildings in progress.

PLOW TURNS UP A SKELETON.

THOUGH TO BE AN ANCIENT INDIAN GRAVE YARD.

While Digging a Twelve-Inch Artesian Well Natural Gas Is Struck Which Will Be Utilized for Lighting Purposes Unmistakable Signs of Oil Are Also Noted.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, Feb. 16.—While using a gang plow at a depth of nearly two feet below the surface of the ground on the old Ford ranch two miles north of this city yesterday, Frank Kelsey, a well-known rancher of this section, came upon a complete skeleton and the method of its interment—the feet being drawn up close to the head—proved it to be that of an Indian. A little later he found large quantities of human bones, giving the impression that an old Indian cemetery had been located in the place. Heretofore, only light plowing has been done on the land, as the soil is mostly "made," and contains much willow charcoal and shells. Even the oldest settlers here cannot remember when Indians occupied this section so that the remains uncovered yesterday have probably been there for many years. Other ranchers have recently found old pots and household utensils near the same spot and usually near fresh water springs.

DEEPEST WELL.

The twelve-inch Artesian well which the Holly Sugar Company has just completed at their factory site just north of this city is the deepest flowing well in Orange county. The flow is four hundred and fifty gallons a minute and can be doubled by utilizing a pump. The mesa where the well is sunk is thirty-five feet higher than the valley. At a depth of 337 feet, the water-bearing gravel strata was encountered and after passing twenty-one feet through the gravel the hole dug 521 feet through blue clay, just below which the great flow of water was found.

Natural gas was encountered in considerable quantities and will be utilized for lighting purposes in the factory and unmistakable indications of oil also appeared near the bottom of the well. Another well will shortly be sunk for the purpose of finding oil and the result of the experimental wells may disclose a large available quantity of oil.

The Southern California Veterans' Association yesterday decided to hold its annual encampment for 1911 in this city, making the seventh consecutive year for which Huntington Beach has been selected. The camp will be known as Camp Colonel Brooker and will open August 8, and continue for ten days.

COLD AT GLENDORA.

GLENDORA, Feb. 16.—Although the coldest night of the season, the lowest temperature recorded by the thermometer last night was only 32 degs. Being 10 degs. above the danger point, there could not possibly have been any damage either to the fruit or growing vegetables.

The proximity of snow in the mountains and a light skift deposited by a stray cloud lower down on the slopes of the mountain, covering a considerable area from a point east of town southeast for a few miles, caused some uneasiness on the part of truck growers. Fortunately, the temperature kept well above the danger point throughout the night. The moisture from the recent rainstorm served, no doubt, to mitigate the severity of the cold wave.

HOLLYWOOD.

HOLLYWOOD, Feb. 16.—An afternoon musicale was held this afternoon at the Gardner School under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers' Association of the school. The melodic trio consisting of Mrs. Foster, M. Price, soprano; Miss Sarah Stanton, violinist, and Miss Grace Hilgin, pianist, were the chief figures in a splendid programme.

one of the most beautifully located sections of Elsinore and it was through Mr. Hampton, who is a close business and personal friend, that Mr. Murphy first came to Elsinore and was captured by her manifold charms.

He will erect a fifteen-room cement residence for a winter home. W. E. Hampton, who has large interests in Los Angeles, San Francisco and Portland, has always had strong faith in Elsinore's future and is a live wire here. He has a proposition before the City Trustees whereby he promises to deed the top of Flagstaff hill to the city and build a stone observatory on the summit when the city agrees to build and maintain an auto road to the same. The hill is a natural observatory.

Mr. Hampton also will build a winter home here this year and it is understood that other friends of Mr. Murphy and Mr. Hampton are interested.

TWENTY YEARS' RECORD BEATEN.

THERMOMETER ONLY FOUR DEGREES ABOVE FREEZING.

Old-time Residents Exchange Reminiscences and Winter Sports Are a Part of the Daily Programme at Warner's Hot Springs—Offer a Corps of Firemen to Los Angeles.

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 16.—With the thermometer pointing at just four points above freezing at the coldest part of last night, San Diego and vicinity experienced the coldest weather in twenty years. Following the cessation of the recent rains the temperature dropped until last night it was as low as 34. This was at the weather station on the roof of the six-story Keating block. The cold prevailed throughout this morning. Frost last night was the heaviest in recent years. It covered the housetops, fields and other places not protected. Considerable damage to vegetables in anticipated. However, warnings by the Weather Bureau gave vegetable growers time to cover up the tenderest plants. It is not believed that the cold will injure the fruit trees. Time, fruit raisers say, will tell. The entire mountain range in the eastern part of this county is covered with snow. Back country residents are enjoying an old-fashioned "down East" winter, with snow and freezing temperature. At Warner's Hot Springs, which is filled with guests, winter sports are a part of the daily routine of the visitors.

OFFER TO LEND FIREMEN.

Hearing that the big fire in Los Angeles this morning might turn into a conflagration of magnitude, Fire Chief Almgren and Councilman Dodson each called up the authorities of Los Angeles and offered to send three steamers and a corps of firemen to that city by special train. Chief Almgren had the men equipped and ready to take the train, should their services be required. The Los Angeles authorities thanked the San Diego men for their offer of assistance, declining to accept on the ground that the fire was then under control.

BIG STEAMERS TO COME.

The West Santa Fe wharf is being prepared for the landing of passengers and freight from the turbine steamers Yale and Harvard. When the necessary slips are in readiness the steamers will extend their runs from Los Angeles to this port. Capt. Harry Goodall, of the Pacific Navigation Company, came here in his yacht to inspect harbor and dockage conditions. Improvements suggested by him to the Santa Fe wharf will be made by Bridge Superintendent Parker, of the Santa Fe Railway, who accompanied Goodall here. The work will be completed by March 1, which is the date set for the new steamer service.

STILL DEFIES AUTHORITIES.

Mrs. J. V. Bushloush, who recently was before the Superior Court on a charge of contempt, now defies the authority of the Humane Society to deprive her of a badge as a special officer. Some time ago Mrs. Bushloush was given authority to make arrests in cases where she found cruelty to animals, beasts or children. Because of her recent action regarding the Bearns children the Humane Society dropped her from the roll of membership. When President Cogswell demanded that she give up her badge she refused, and declared that she will spend $1000 in defending her right to remain a member of the organization.

ESCONDIDO, Feb. 15.—City Trustees, W. H. Baldrige, E. H. Chapin and W. N. Bradbury have been named as a committee of the board to make an investigation as to what streets should be included in a general improvement proposition, including grading, sidewalking and curbing, and in several instances, paving. The committee is instructed to recommend to the board what should be undertaken with the money to be derived from a bond issue, such as are voted in many of the cities of Southern California. Frank H. Chapin has assumed the duties of Trustee to which position he was appointed as the successor of H. N. Carpenter, resigned. The resignation of Henry Nulton, member and president of the library board has been filed.

EACH GUEST WAS GIVEN A PIGGIE.

MILO POTTER PROVES HIMSELF A PRINCE OF HOSTS.

Hotel Men View the Beauties of the Country About Santa Barbara and Then Visit the Potter Farm Where Visitors Picked Out a Holstein and Helped Themselves.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The closing of the meeting of the Southern California and San Francisco Hotel Men's associations in this city was marked by an elaborate banquet given tonight at the Hotel Potter by Milo M. Potter.

The visitors who had assisted in the dedication of the new Arlington Hotel, were taken in charge by Mr. Potter this afternoon and he did not let go of them until their trains departed late tonight. The afternoon was spent in automobile rides to and over the Hope Ranch, including the Country Club and the Potter farm.

At the latter place a most unique entertainment was provided. The hotel men and women were permitted to milk their drinks from real live Jerseys and Holsteins, pluck walnuts from trees, and last, but not least, select the pigs and squabs that they wanted served at the dinner. The selection was considered as a joke, but it was made real when the very same piggies and birds were served a few hours later. The crowd was greatly pleased with the originality of the entertainment provided by Mr. Potter and especially so in the banquet and accessories. The banquet table was a replica of an outdoor picnic scene, the table being decorated with black acacia trees, ferns and numerous flowers. A pig was served to each guest, and when the waiters entered, the orchestra started up the tune, "Tom, Tom, the Piper's Son, Stole a Pig and Away He Run." Dancing followed the banquet.

At a business meeting the hotel men discussed protection for the association.

DAIRY INTERESTS EXPANDING.

Profit in Cows Apparent and Many Ranchers Are Adding to Their Herds for Commercial Purposes.

MECCA, Feb. 16.—Owing to the enormous amount of feed which can be raised per acre here in the valley, dairying is pre-eminently one of the most profitable industries in which the ranchmen can engage. In the past a large number have gone into the dairying business in a small way. The lack of capital to secure cows, however, has been the one thing which has held the dairymen down to small and makeshift figures. The recent offer of Fisher Brothers ranch, which has about 100 dairy cows pastured upon it, to bring in cows and sell them upon time, will undoubtedly result in the enlargement of the present small dairy ranches and the creating of many others. Careful count kept of dairy cows here proves that A-1 cows will net at the rate of $75 a year per head.

DATE GROWING.

The two government experimental date stations located in the valley, have done much to prove to the at one time skeptical ranchers that the growing of commercial dates could be satisfactorily and profitably done. Many of them are taking advantage of the government's free offer of seedlings to place out date orchards. They will grow vegetables between the rows for the first few years. Inasmuch as the results obtained by the government can be divided by four and still an assured profit made from a matured grove, which would place the land in the same class as the best orange grove, it would seem that everyone having a few acres of spare land should utilize it in this way.

TO BREED FISH.

The government several years ago supplied the reservoirs of the valley with fish. In most instances these were of the German carp, which neither made good eating nor cleared the water. Most of the ranchers cleared their reservoirs of them after a short experience. It is stated, however, that the government will once more stock the waters with varieties which have proved successful under similar conditions. With the large number of reservoirs in the valley the breeding of fish suitable for eating would be profitable.

TELEPHONE EXTENSIONS.

The Pacific States Telephone & Telegraph Co., which is running a direct line from Los Angeles to Yuma through this valley, is making negotiations for connection with the Coachella Valley local line.

OFFICIAL BOOKLET.

The Valley High School is getting out an official booklet giving the courses of study for the coming year. It is expected that the number of pupils enrolled next year will be more than double that of this. A certificate from the High School admits bearer to either Stanford or California Universities or the State Normal.

ASBESTOS MINES.

The rich asbestos mines which have been discovered in the mountains to the west of the valley somewhere at the head of Indian Wells Creek, are to be extensively developed and a road built from them into Indio.

AUTOMATIC PICKER.

The success with which the automatic cotton picker was operated in parts of Texas and the South where it has been used, has led to the serious consideration upon the part of the local growers of securing one for this year's crop. It is claimed that one machine will do the work of thirty pickers and do it in a far more profitable way to the grower, as it picks the cotton more thoroughly and quickly than is possible by hand.

COLD SNOW AT SAN JACINTO.

White Mantle Covers Mountains and Even Intrudes Down the Foothills and Ice Is in the Air.

SAN JACINTO, Feb. 16.—Tuesday night was one of the coldest experienced in this valley for the winter, and Wednesday morning snow was down low on the surrounding foothills. The thermometer hovered near the freezing point all day Wednesday and flakes of snow were in the air most of the day. At sundown the clouds lifted for a few minutes, revealing Mount San Jacinto covered with a glistening mantle of white from base to summit. Snow is two feet deep at Idyllwild. Indications tonight are that there will be a heavy frost for the orange trees. The rains during the past four days have totaled .45 of an inch, bringing the total for the season to more than 10 inches and for the past four weeks to 4.23 inches.

FINE DUCK HUNTING.

The San Jacinto Lake has been the scene of some excellent duck hunting ing since the season opened. One party returning from a three days' hunt there with a fine string of birds, reports that at one time more than 100 hunters were at the lake. Wild geese are beginning to gather and by the first of March they should furnish pletny of sport for hunters.

GRAIN WEATHER.

J. A. Aguirre was in from the Aguirre grain camp Wednesday and reports that the immense grain fields in the lower part of the valley could not be in better condition. Grain is making remarkably rapid growth and in all instances a fine stand has been obtained. A. S. Baxter, from Auld, was in San Jacinto the same day and his report of crop prospects was also most assuring. In the Auld and Leon sections the heavy soil is producing a rank growth of grain, and a big crop is a certainty.

SELL STOVEWOOD.

Forty-two cords of stovewood were sold at public auction today on a judgment secured by a Mexican wood-chopper against C. W. Houghton. The trials of Houghton have kept the local justice court busy for the past week, the other cases involving the ownership of a cow and of a quantity of alfalfa hay.

MOVE TO LOS ANGELES.

John H. and Henry A. Smith moved to Los Angeles county Wednesday, having sold their improved acreage property in the southeastern part of town. The change of residence was made on account of Henry A. Smith's health, which requires a lower altitude.

ROAD COMMISSIONERS MEET.

Purpose of Conference to Give Civic Bodies a Chance to Say What They Want.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 16.—Today the Highway Commissioners held an important conference with committees from the civic bodies of the different cities and communities of this county. The purpose of the conference was to give the civic bodies an opportunity to suggest amendments to the general plan of highway improvement submitted by the commission to the Board of Supervisors in a report which has been referred back to the commission.

The representatives of the civic bodies passed a resolution requesting the commission to call a bond election as soon as possible and to agree with the public that should the bonds carry the last road work to be done shall be the main highways from East Whittier through the middle of the county to the San Diego county line and from the Riverside county line to Santa Ana. The building of these main roads may be delayed until it is determined whether or not the State in its expenditure of the $18,000,000 bond issue is going to do anything in this county. If the State does the work on the roads mentioned, the county will not sell the bonds needed.

Huntington Beach, Newport Beach and Bay City representatives asked that the proposed improvement on the Westminster road be dropped in favor of a parallel road one mile south of it. Fullerton, Buena Park and Placentia delegations asked for the improvement of Orangethorpe avenue, which runs parallel to Fullerton's south city line and for the improvement of Commonwealth avenue.

CITY CAMPAIGN HEATS UP.

The directors of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association last night appointed a committee consisting of L. J. Carden, R. T. Harris, J. W. Powers, W. L. Duggan and G. T. Parr to draft a series of questions concerning the various issues of the city campaign. These questions are to be submitted to a mass meeting of citizens to be held February 22, to be approved or amended by the citizens, and then the questions are to be propounded to every candidate for city trustee. These questions will embody matters pertaining to light and power and a change to a commission form of government, and probably in regard to granting table liquor licenses.

The directors of the association passed resolutions against the Public Utilities Commission bill and the eight-hour bill now before the State Legislature.

NEWS BRIEFS.

A thief went into Floyd Mitchell's yard last night and stole a bicycle from the porch.

TWENTY-THREE BIDS RECEIVED.

Colton Trustees Will Let Contract for Fire Equipment the Last of February.

COLTON, February 16.—At an adjourned meeting of the City Trustees last evening fourteen bids were received for the city's new fire apparatus. These bids will be arranged and figured up and the contracts awarded on the evening of the twenty-third of this month.

Superintendent Bell of the San Bernardino Valley Gas Company and A. J. Lloyd, manager of the Colton Plant, were present and presented their side of the lower gas rate question, which was referred to the attorneys of the city and company.

NEWS BREVITIES.

M. A. Bagley, county probation officer, delivered the second of the series of lectures to be given by the local Knights of Pythias, last evening, taking as his subject, "Juvenile Court Laws and Why." Mr. Bagley proceeded to show why these laws should be promulgated, enacted and obeyed. Judge Frank B. Oster of San Bernardino also gave a short address, enlarging upon the subject. PLANNING FOR BIG HIGHWAY.

Visalia Board of Trustees Appoints Good Roads Committee to Act for City in Settling Question.

VISALIA, Feb. 16.—By a unanimous vote of the Board of Supervisors, the general committee of the Good Roads Association was named as the committee of the board to confer with committee of Fresno county with regard to the proper showing to be made to the State Engineer to secure the location of the proposed State highway down the east side of the San Joaquin valley.

This committee consists of Ben M. Maddox, chairman, with John Cutler, of Visalia; F. H. Wilson, of Dinuba, T. B. Twaddle, of Tulare; H. C. Carr, of Porterville; F. C. Ensign of Terra Bella; and F. J. Hesse, of Alila. A general meeting of this committee with the enthusiasts of Fresno county is to be held in Fresno later in the week, at which this general committee will consider plans by which the claims of the east side will be brought to the attention of the State authorities.

DUAL ROLL.

Chas. Togni and B. U. Heberling appeared before the Supervisors at their meeting today and asked that the Board appoint as the county health officer the same man, Dr. C. M. White, chosen as the city officer. It is believed that such a choice would simplify matters in many ways.

Dr. F. A. Coombs, who has been county health officer for several years, submitted a verbal resignation, which was accepted and the office declared vacant although no choice of a successor has been made as yet.

SQUIRREL PEST.

Supervisor Singleton has asked that supplementary county ordinances be drawn up for addition to the State laws requiring all owners of property to rid their land of squirrels and other troublesome rodent pests and addressed the board at length in favor of the enforcement of such a law to the letter.

This law is especially needed at this time, said Mr. Singleton, as there is an unprecedented amount of development work going on in the southern part of the county. It avails little if one portion of the land be rid of squirrels, when owners of surrounding tracts do nothing to get rid of the pests. This prevalence of rodents is the source of a great expense to the owners of young orchards who are required to maintain all sorts of expedients to keep the animals from eating the young trees.

PROHIBITION ELECTION.

There was received here today from Assemblyman Wyllie, who is in charge of the proposed local option bill in the Assembly, the word that the local option laws have been held up, and that in any case they would not become effective for sixty days from date of their being signed by the Governor. Immediately upon the receipt of this advice, the commercial organizations took up with the City Council the proposal to call a special election on the saloon question. It is proposed that at this election the ballots be marked, "For the further licensing of saloons," and "Against the further licensing of saloons."

It is understood that all candidates for public office who will stand for election in April, will be morally bound by the outcome of this special vote. It is believed that the best interests of this city will be served by having the saloon question settled in this manner, rather than complicating the general election by an incidental struggle over license and no-license.

THIRTEEN CHILDREN.

William Alford, of Cottage Postoffice, in Tulare county, claims with the family for Tulare county, and as far as the records of the County Clerk's office are available, he is entitled to the honor.

With the birth of a son into the family early this week, there are now nine boys and four girls in the family, the eldest son being twenty-one years of age, and all of them are living at the home place. Alford is a prosperous rancher farming a very large acreage with the assistance of his many sturdy sons.

MERCHANTS ELECT OFFICERS.

At the regular meeting of the Merchants' Association held last night new officers were chosen for the coming year as follows:

President, J. G. Fickenscher; vice-president, Leon Goldstein; treasurer, Adolph Levis; secretary, H. C. Locey; directors, W. R. Becker, H. C. Locey, Leon Goldstein, R. F. Cross, F. M. Mason and Harry Graeter. Retiring officers are president, W. R. Becker; vice-president, S. J. Scott; treasurer, Leon Goldstein; secretary, Harry Locey.

TEN THOUSAND TONS ON HAND.

Complete Figures of Farmers Union Indicates That a Considerable Portion of Raisin Crop sI Not Marketed.

DINUBA, Feb. 16.—According to the complete figures which have been compiled by the Farmers' Union through various sources which are said to be official, the hold over crop of raisins is given at 10,000 tons. This stands at 30 per cent. less than the holdover tonnage of last year at this time. With the publication of these figures there has been a decided improvement in the market conditions, and there is every prospect that the coveted 4-cent price will be realized within thirty days.

This is arrived at through the fact that of the 10,000 tons of raisins which remain in the hands of the packers over half have been sold, leaving 5000 in the hands of the packers and an equal tonnage with the growers. Seven months remain until the first of the new crop comes in, which will leave but little more than 1000 tons per month with which to supply the entire eastern demand, the foreign crop being negligible this season.

There is no tendency on the part of the growers to sell at this time, the market remaining firm at 3½ cents for muscats. Nearly all of the packers being stocked for immediate needs, few new contracts are being made.

LAND ENTRIES.

VISALIA, Feb. 15.—The following entries have been made at the General Land Office:

Homestead entry for the east half of the northeast quarter of section 22, township 23 south, range 24 east, by George H. Goodrich of Angiola.

PERRIS.

PERRIS, Feb. 16.—Mrs J. S. Wood has leased and is furnishing the twenty-two-room lodging-house in the Sharpless Block, on the corner of Fourth and D streets. Mrs. Wood has had considerable experience in this line of business and will no doubt make it a success.

Mrs. Norene Law, a temperance worker, spoke Monday and Tuesday evening at the Methodist Church. Her subjects were "White Slavery," and "Personal Liberty and the Liquor Traffic."

Lily Lossman, the nine-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Lossman, died Tuesday at their home, northeast of town, of spinal meningitis.

Exercises were held Monday afternoon in the grammar school in observance of Lincoln's birthday.

H. M. Harford of the Progress left Sunday on a visit to Los Angeles.

Evening School for Women.

The Young Women's Christian Association, will open an evening grammar school tonight, in which the elementary branches of arithmetic, grammar, spelling, and others that may be called for, will be taught. The class will be composed largely of adults, and will aim to make up deficiencies in early education, and to furnish a thorough review in these subjects for those who wish it. The class will meet on Tuesday and Friday evenings, and is designed to meet the wants of those women and girls who cannot find it possible to attend the day classes of the Preparatory School. The evening hour will be so arranged that pupils may first attend a gymnasium class, if they desire to do so.

Best Remedy for Catarrh, Croup, Coughs and Colds

Breathe HYOMEI for all diseases of the breathing organs. It is guaranteed.

In case of croup, which is very common in children, send for a doctor at once. In the meantime pour 30 drops of HYOMEI into a bowl of boiling water and hold the child's head over it, covered with a towel or cloth so that only the air filled with HYOMEI vapor is breathed.

This treatment has saved many a child's life and mothers of croupy children should always have HYOMEI on hand.

For coughs, colds and catarrh, breathing HYOMEI through the inhaler is usually sufficient.

Many people, however, use the HYOMEI vapor treatment in connection

The vapor treatment is best taken just before going to bed; it only takes about five minutes time. Pour a teaspoonful of HYOMEI into a bowl three-quarters full of boiling water, cover head and bowl with towel, and breathe the vapor that arises deep in the lungs. By this method many a hard cold has been broken up over night. A HYOMEI outfit which consists of a bottle of HYOMEI and a hard rubber pocket inhaler, costs $1.00 everywhere. Extra bottles if afterward needed, cost only 50 cents. Mail orders filled, charges prepaid, by Booth's Hyomei Co., Buf...

Splendid Swan Memorial.

A slight misapprehension is abroad concerning the gift of $50,000 to Occidental College, made nearly one year ago, as printed in The Times when the gift was made, but without the name of the giver, as she has insisted that her name be kept secret. The donor is now made public for the first time, the magnificent gift coming from Mrs. Frances J. Swan, not as an endowment to the college, but for the purpose of erecting a memorial to her husband. Funeral of Rev. Charles Leach.

The funeral of Rev. Charles J. Leach, deceased, was held yesterday at the Boyle Heights Methodist Church, conducted by Rev. Dr. W. E. Tilroe, assisted by other ministers. The deceased was a native of Canada, and came to Los Angeles in 1882. He was a graduate of Northwestern University and of Garrett Theological School, Chicago, and was a man of great strength of character and of deep piety. His death was caused by an unsuspected cancerous growth, which was disclosed by a minor surgical operation, and came as a great surprise to his friends, on Tuesday last. He leaves a widow, a son and a daughter, in this city. His funeral was attended by friends from all over Southern California, and testified to the esteem in which he was held.

The Incas of Ancient Peru.

There is no more romantic race in the world's history; none more fabled and none less understood. For 380 years they have been famous in the world's romance; the ruins of their wonderful "cities," and the marvelous fabrics they wove, and gold and silver ornaments they made, have kept their very name a word to conjure with throughout the countries. Nels C. Nelson, of the Department of Anthropology, University of California, will speak about this remarkable people and explorations among their ruins, illustrating his theme with very interesting lantern slides, this evening at the Arroyo Theater. Hamburger building. The lecture will be under the auspices of the Southwest Society of the Archaeological Institute of America, and will be entirely free. Nelson has made a careful study of his subject.

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

CREEPING, EATING FIRE CAUSES HEAVY LOSSES.

Gutting of Byrne Building and Destruction of Stock in Several Stores Entail Loss of Quarter Million Dollars—Dozen Persons Injured, But None Seriously, at Broadway Conflagration Yesterday Morning.

AFTER smouldering for hours in the basement and creeping from one room into another, fire broke out in the Byrne building, Third and Broadway, about 7:45 o'clock yesterday morning. It destroyed the entire stock in the stores of the C. M. Staub Shoe Company, Myer Siegel, dealer in women's wearing apparel, and the Collins Millinery Company, and caused considerable loss to concerns in adjacent buildings, injured twelve persons, none seriously, and tied up a large part of the street railway traffic several hours. The total loss was placed last night at about $275,000. A strong wind prevailed, and the blaze was kept from spreading only by a long, hard fight.

According to a statement of Charles E. Orr, agent for James W. Byrne of San Francisco, owner of the building, the first floor and basement are the only parts of the structure completely burned out. The floors above were scorched, and the contents much damaged by smoke, but the fire damage was small. The hole which was burned through the roof was largely formed by the court. The insurance on the building is $106,000.

According to a rough estimate made by John G. Staub last night the loss in the Staub Company's store is $100,000. The stock was partially insured.

"It is impossible at this time to make a very accurate estimate of the loss because we have not yet determined whether our stock has been entirely destroyed," Staub stated.

"We had upward of $75,000 worth of goods in the store, but the exact amount I am unable to say without seeing the books."

Myer Siegel was unable to make an estimate of his loss yesterday afternoon, but thought it would be about the same as the Staub Company's. The stock was well insured, Siegel stated last night.

Staub and Siegel tried to inspect the interiors of their stores late yesterday afternoon, but it is believed the merchants will be able to enter this morning.

As in the case of the Staub Company and Siegel's, it was impossible to estimate closely the loss to the Collins Millinery Company, but $50,000 was guessed by William T. Collins. "I was very fortunate in not having received a large consignment of goods which is now due," said he. "My loss is partially covered by insurance."

The loss to the offices on the floors above is nominal.

The cause of the fire has not been determined. It is believed to have originated in the basement of the Collins Millinery Company's store, where much combustible material was stored. It then crept slowly to the south, working its way into the basements of the Siegel and Staub stores.

LIKE MUFFLED EXPLOSION.

A sound, which resembled a muffled explosion and which preceded the discovery of the flames by about thirty seconds, is believed to have been produced by a gas main bursting in the north side of the Siegel store.

An auxiliary fire alarm system in the building gave the first intimation that flames were working there, and within a few seconds the first alarm was turned in. In a short time practically the entire fire department was there. Axes in the hands of the muscular firemen knocked doors from their hinges and glass fell in showers as openings were made in the show windows for the large tubes which carried water under the highest pressure the engines could give it.

Employees of the stores had not arrived at the time of the outbreak, so no concerted effort could be made to save the stock of goods. Had the flames burst through the walls an hour later, the loss, it was stated by members of the fire department yesterday afternoon, would probably have been reduced by one-half.

STREETS BLOCKED TO TRAFFIC.

With Broadway blocked to traffic from Second to Fourth street, and Third from Main to Los Angeles, the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Railway companies were forced to divert their cars to other streets. Broadway cars were run through Hill street, and Third street cars were run through Main and Los Angeles streets.

The upper view shows thirty-four lines of hose running into the basement, and two water towers in operation. The other picture is the top of the burning block, Third-street side, with a glimpse of the City Hall tower opposite.

HARVEST SEEMS NEAR.

Date for Ruling of Interstate Commerce Commission on Switching Cases to Take Effect Is March First.

March 1 is the date set for the putting into effect of the ruling of the Interstate Commerce Commission in regard to the Los Angeles switching case. Unless the railway companies apply for an injunction to the new Court of Commerce before that date the city will reap the benefits of the ruling.

It is hardly to be expected, however, that the matter will be carried over without a battle, for the Interstate Commerce Commission has itself postponed the putting of the rule into effect on two occasions in order to permit the Court of Commerce to convene.

It may be that the Interstate Commerce Commission will again move the date of effectiveness to the future in order to enable the court to organize in such a way that when the case comes up under injunction proceedings it can be disposed of quickly.

DESPONDENT, SLAYS SELF.

Wife Does Not See the Shooting But Informs Coroner Her Husband Suffered From Melancholia.

Despondent over business troubles and his recent loss of sight, Alvin P. Farley, 56 years old, living at No. 1537 Maltman avenue, shot himself through the head yesterday afternoon and was found dead a short time later.

Mrs. Farley was not in the house when he took his life. She told the Coroner of Farley's physical condition and that he had been very despondent. A certificate of suicide was signed. The body was sent to J. D. Button's undertaking parlors.

ELECTRICAL MEN COMING.

The Pacific Coast Convention of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers will be held in Los Angeles April 25 to 28, and local electrical engineers are taking much interest in the meeting. The president of the national organization, Prof. D. C. Jackson of Boston, also the professor in charge of the electrical branch of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, is to be present. There will be a very full and interesting programme and ten or twelve papers of much interest will be read during the meeting. There will be trips made to Mt. CHECKS RETURN; PASSER GONE.

Proprietor of Cigar Stores Off on Finance.

Bound for Honolulu, Police Asked to Get Him.

Known as a Churchman of Steady Standing.

F. D. Marshall, a cigar merchant, with stores at Eighth and Main, and Third and Los Angeles streets, left the city several days ago without explaining why he passed several worthless checks and drafts drawn on the All Night and Day Bank of this city, the Crown City National Bank of Pasadena, and four local merchants. The police and operatives from the Burns National Detective Agency are on his trail. It is believed he has fled to the mid-Pacific.

For several months prior to his disappearance, Marshall resided at the Hotel Rose, Ninth and Broadway. He was known there as a man of estimable character and habits. He was exceedingly regular in his hours, and a staunch Methodist church member.

According to the attaches of the detective agency Marshall's alleged peculations commenced several weeks ago, when he gave the proprietress of the Rose Hotel, a check for $25 on the All Night and Day Bank, which was returned marked "no funds." The woman took the check to Marshall, but upon his explanation that he had forgotten that his account was short, she overlooked the incident. The following day he gave her another check on the same institution for the $25, and the account was promptly settled.

Several days before leaving the city, Marshall, it is alleged, passed half a dozen worthless checks and drafts. One draft that he passed on the Crown City National Bank, Pasadena, brought him $150, while another on the All Night and Day, called for $100. Aside from that he circulated worthless checks among his friends, and merchants in the vicinity of Eighth and Main streets. These checks, it is estimated, aggregate over $300.

The largest check Marshall passed went to the Kingsbaker-Klingenstein Company, cigar and tobacco wholesale house, with offices at No. 111 North Los Angeles street. It appears he owed the company $120, and in payment tendered the check. He received the balance, and the decention was not discovered until after he had left the city.

Marshall was traced to San Francisco, Portland, Seattle, and back to San Francisco. There the trail was lost, but it was learned yesterday that he took passage on one of the Pacific Mail liners for Honolulu. The police of the island city have been asked to arrest Marshall on arrival.

Poor business, Marshall's friends believe, caused his departure. They say his receipts had fallen off since the holidays, and being without surplus funds to tide him over, he had circulated the checks and drafts to gather a sufficient fund to finance a start elsewhere.

Little is known of Marshall in this city beyond the fact that he arrived a year ago from New York and immediately embarked in the cigar business. He is supposed to have a wife and child in New York City.

Come and Go.

QUICK ACTION ON AUTO DEAL.

WARRANTS FOR BUYERS TWO HOURS AFTER PURCHASE.

Pair Arrested for Alleged Fraudulent Transaction in Connection With Long-Term Note Secured by Block of Stock Claimed to Have Been Long Cancelled.

Something original in the way of realizing upon alleged bogus stock certificates is the automobile transaction, as a result of which J. H. Cullen and Robert Barry were placed under arrest yesterday. It is asserted that in purchasing the machine, they tendered worthless stock as collateral for a long-term note from one to the other. Only the timely discovery that the certificates were irregular is thought to have prevented a clean getaway.

Cullen appears to have been the active member of the partnership. According to officials of the Halliday Motor Car Company, whose garage is at Twelfth and Olive streets, Cullen appeared there Wednesday morning and announced that he wanted to buy a machine. He was shown the stock and finally decided upon a $2500 touring car. In payment he is alleged to have tendered a one-year note to himself, signed by Barry.

It was unsecured, and the company declined to accept it without suitable collateral, as both men were strangers. Cullen left and shortly returned with a block of stock, to the value of $2500, in the Florence Goldfield Mining Company. This, it is said, he offered to secure the note. As the certificates were apparently genuine, they were promptly accepted and the car delivered to Cullen.

Immediately afterward the automobile men became suspicious and began to investigate their new stock. Within an hour, T. G. Lockhart, the president of the mining company, had informed them that the certificates bearing the number of the Cullen block had been cancelled some time ago and that those proffered in payment for the motor were probably forged.

George R. Whitcomb, representing the automobile men, at once swore out warrants for the arrest of the pair. Cullen was arrested at the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday afternoon and Barry in a rooming-house on Vernon avenue last night, both arrests by Detectives Jones and Boyd. They are held on forgery charges pending further investigation today.

Large and Small Advertisers are placed on terms of perfect equality in The Times "Liner" section.

All "Liners" are printed in type of the same size, and advertisements are not misclassified under any circumstances. This enables patrons to find the things they desire, without reading matter that does not pertain to their wants.

Month after month, year in and year out, The Times prints more advertising than any other paper in the world.

For the week ending February 12th, The Times printed 2117 more agate "Liners" than the aggregate of all other Los Angeles newspapers combined, and 6869 more than its nearest local competitor.

The total number of "Liners" published by The Times for the seven days from February 6th to February the 12th, inclusive, was 14,934. The prize of Five Dollars in Gold has been awarded to Mrs. C. A. Danielson, 843 West 37th Place, city, whose estimate of 14,933 was the first nearest correct estimate received in last week's contest. The winning of two "Liner" prizes renders Mrs. Danielson ineligible to participate in this week's contest, which will be the last of the present series.

One week ago today The Times printed 1444 agate "Liners." On the same day its nearest local competitor printed only 844 agate "Liners."

FIVE DOLLARS IN GOLD GIVEN AWAY

On Tuesday, February 21, a prize of Five Dollars in gold will be awarded to the person making the first nearest correct estimate of the total number of "Liner" advertisements published in The Times during the seven days from Monday, February 13, until Sunday, February 19, inclusive.

Estimates should not be made until after the publication of The Times on the last day of the week for which the contest is held, and they must be delivered before 10 a.m. the following Tuesday. The name of the prize winner will be published next Wednesday. This contest is not open to employees of The Times-Mirror Company, and this company's advertisements should not be counted.

All letters should be addressed to the Contest Editor, and each will be numbered in the order of its receipt in the office, 531-535 South Spring street.

THE PUBLIC SERVICE.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

The Mayor yesterday called on the City Council to meet the garbage situation and a wordy war between Inspector of Public Works Humphreys and Attorney Goudge took place in the Council Chamber.

The Council yesterday changed the name of Wesley street to University avenue, on request of President Bovard of the university.

Col. William Beasley Hayes, the millionaire now prominent in a New Orleans divorce case, is wanted in Los Angeles for failing to obey an order of Judge Wilbur to pay the mother of his son, Willie B. Hayes of Artesia, $25 a month alimony for the lad's support.

The testimony in the Baldwin case will be concluded tomorrow with the evidence of a single witness on the part of the contestant. The defense rested yesterday. Court will be asked to have the jury return a directed verdict.

The Frank M. Bell murder case will go to the jury this evening, it is expected. Yesterday was devoted to arguments of attorneys in the case.

At the City Hall.

HUMPHREYS AND GOUDGE AT WAR.

HURL CHARGES AT EACH OTHER IN GARBAGE FIGHT.

Public Works Inspector Accused of Representing Hog Feeders in Trying to Oust Contractor Alexander. Mayor Calls on Council for Action, Saying Condition Is Getting Worse.

The scene of the garbage war was transferred yesterday afternoon from the Board of Pubic Works to the City Council Chamber. Inspector of Public Works Humphreys told the Council that he had been charged with being in partnership with P. J. Durbin, the leader of the Vernon hog feeders. Attorney Goudge, representing Contractor Alexander, accused Humphreys of coming before the Council as the representative of that "arch conspirator," Durbin.

The Mayor started things by coming into the Council Chamber where a special session was being held and announcing that the garbage condition had become so bad that he wished them to consider it. He said:

"I want to call the attention of the Council to the condition of garbage collection in the city. I don't see any improvement. In fact it seems to be getting worse all the time. Complaints are pouring in from all parts of the town. The contractor ought to take care of the garbage or give up."

Inspector Humphreys was then called upon. "We have an intolerable condition in garbage collection that has existed for some time," he said. "Today there have been about seventy-five complaints come into our office. It appears that Mr. Alexander will not be able to carry out his contract.

"Now, I am aware that it is being said Durbin and I are in partnership. I make this statement because I am going to present information that I have obtained from Durbin as to the cost of collecting the garbage and what the city might do if the Alexander contract were given up.

"I asked Mr. Durbin what the cost to the city would be if he were given the privilege of making curb collection of all the garbage in the city. His answer was, 'nothing if I could deliver the garbage one mile beyond the city limits instead of five.'

"I asked him what would be the cost of removing the rubbish. His answer was $2000.

"I asked him what would be the cost of collecting the garbage on the premises. He said it would cost the city $3500 a month.

"What will you furnish teams for to the city? I asked him. His answer was, 'One dollar a day if allowed to use the garbage one mile from the city limits.'

"I asked him what he would carry out the Alexander contract for. His answer was $6000 a month or $2000 more than Alexander is getting.'

"I want to say also that the Board of Public Works has repudiated the idea of making any deal with Durbin. It does not make any more difference what it was Durbin who said this than if his name had been Bill Jones. It is about what the city can do for garbage collection. About the only satisfactory solution of this whole problem is for the city to have teams and wagons and the only sanitary method of disposing of garbage is an incinerator. That is the proper method regardless of expense.

"In the meantime, if we want a dirty satisfactory method, it is that of hog feeding. I don't mean by that the Vernon method. Up to the last ten days the hog men and Alexander both have been covering the city. Now that the hog feeders are denied the right of collecting refuse, the city will have to put on teams if conditions are no better by tomorrow."

In the meantime, Attorney Goudge came rushing into the Council chamber in answer to a hurry call, as no one had known the matter was to be taken up. He announced that he considered it a "most extraordinary proceeding" that he should be called upon to appear in defense of a client in this manner. He did not understand why Alexander should be tried while the fire lines were drawn around the City Hall so that he made his way there from his office with great difficulty. He then assailed Humphreys for coming before the Council with the matter when Alexander is to have a hearing before the Board of Public Works on Saturday.

"Notice was served on Mr. Alexander today," he said, "that the garbage was uncollected in twelve or fifteen places. The Board of Public Works, after a hearing, sent on record recently as saying that the garbage has been satisfactorily collected, and now a man who sits as a judge over him has come to you two or three days before the trial to tell you that he has already been found guilty. That kind of justice is this.

"What has been done with the forty cases I have filed with the Board of Public Works? These are persistent and repeated violations of the city ordinances. When a man says I am an anarchist, a lawbreaker, and I won't comply with the law, the Board of Public Works refers the matter to the City Attorney. There will be sixty wagons on the streets during this legal day in an effort by Alexander to fulfill his contract. Isn't he a good citizen when he is spending every dollar he makes to care for the business?

"And now the Inspector of Public Works comes here as the representative of that arch conspirator against the contractor, Mr. Durbin. Mr. Durbin went out the other night when the city wanted wagons to collect garbage that had been piled up on Mr. Alexander and bought fifteen garbage Hall and that he would use them when Alexander lost his contract."

Mayor Alexander didn't like the inference. He interrupted to ask Goudge if he really believed the garbage collections were being well taken care of.

"Under the circumstances, I do," replied Goudge.

"Well, I know," replied the Mayor, "of many instances where the garbage isn't collected. I know that I am called up at my office and at my home and even from my bed by people who are complaining about the garbage. I can give you the names of reliable people on Grand avenue who have had almost no collections of garbage.

"I charge that there has been a conspiracy to make the service break down. The men in the hotels put out three times as much garbage as they would normally have in some instances when the collections were suddenly thrown upon Alexander. He has taken away carloads of garbage not properly set out."

Inspector Humphreys replied briefly. "I have seen you before the Council on othere occasions," he said to Goudge, "when your case was almost as bad. You can attack me as much as you want to. The Council will have to meet this garbage question sooner or later, and I came here to tell them about the situation. The facts will appear for themselves."

It was nearly 6 o'clock when the argument was finished and Councilman Gregory hastily moved an adjournment

STREET RENAMED.

UNIVERSITY AVENUE NOW.

Hereafter by decree of the City Council, Wesley street shall be known as University avenue. Thus does John Wesley's name disappear from local association with the University of Southern California, founded by the Methodist Church, of which Wesley was the founder.

The association of Wesley's name was not strong enough to remind all people that the university is located upon this street. President Bovard appeared before the Street Committee yesterday and told of the difficulties experienced by the institution in not having a street named so that it would be known.

"People come to deliver lectures," he said, "are carried by in the evening and made late for their engagements. If you tell them Wesley avenue they understand it Westlake avenue. If you had a street named University avenue it would at once be recognized.

The City Engineer had recommended against the change of name because of the expense involved. It was pointed out that many other streets in the same neighborhood had been changed without petition and that in this case it was something the people desired. The committee recommended it and the Council adopted it without dissent.

BOND MONEY.

MILLIONS FOR AQUEDUCT.

The city of Los Angeles is richer today than it was yesterday by nearly two and a half million of dollars in the city treasury. At the meeting of the Council yesterday afternoon the sale of the Aqueduct bonds in New York was confirmed and it was announced that the sum of $2,460,240 had been placed in the hands of Captain Hance.

The money represents half of the bond issue for the year and will be spent during the next six months. It increases the allowance of the Aqueduct commission from $200,000 a month to $400,000 and will enable Engineer Mulholland to largely increase his force of men and hasten the completion of the work.

At the Courthouse.

MORE TROUBLE TO "COL." HAYES.

WOMAN WANTS TO COLLECT HER DELAYED ALIMONY.

Mrs. Woods Declares Defendant Owes Her Six Hundred and Fifty Dollars on Account of Judge Wilbur's Previous Order, and Seeks Assistance of Court in Getting It.

Mrs. Katherine Anita Woods, who at one time lived with "Col." William B. Hayes, according to her own statement, is now seeking to collect $650 back alimony. Inasmuch as the defendant is outside the jurisdiction of the local courts, it is hard to see how the alimony can be collected except through a tedious process.

In a letter received by Probation Officer Dodds yesterday, Mrs. Woods asks him to bring the matter to the attention of the proper tribunal. Judge Wilbur issued the original order providing support for the child.

It appears from the documentary evidence that after living at Artesia with the complainant, Col. Hayes deserted her about the time a compalint was sworn out by R. W. Reynodls, then a humane officer. A son was born and Hayes was cited to appear in court.

Upon a hearing of the case, the mother was allowed $25 a month for the care of her son. She afterwards married happily, but wants Hayes to help provide for his natural son.

A special dispatch to The Times received last night from New Orleans says:

"'No, I am not a millionaire,' said W. B. Hayes today, confronted with the statement of a California acquaintance, 'nor am I yet a colonel.

"'If I were a millionaire, do you suppose I would be living here in a boarding-house? I'd be at a swell hotel, with a valet, if I had a million. I have some means, some, but I am not a rich man.

"'Now, the colonel part of it. The people always call me colonel, so I took it up myself. You see, there are so many by the name of Hayes and some of them have the same initials. I'm always being mistaken for some one else, or was until I began using the title.

"'But I never was in Artesia; I am not that W. B. Hayes. I am a Californian, but never was south of San Francisco. You see, I always am in trouble over my name.

"'Vivian Mitchell seemed to like it well enough, though,' said he. The 'colonel' never can talk for more than three minutes without reverting to mention of the St. Louis beauty, who is said to have repelled him even on their wedding night and ran every time he attempted to caress her.

"'She's a beautiful woman. She was the light of my life,' he went on, 'but how that woman can eat! Our board bill at the hotel was from $18 to $20 per day. Besides that, she and her friend, Gussie, used to order expensive dishes at the Rathskeller, fuss with them and leave them hardly touched. She came high, but she might have been worth it were it not for the meddling Gussie.'"

DISCORDANT NOTE.

MUSICIAN'S WIFE DIVORCED.

Baldwin had introduced Mrs. Turnbull to him as his wife.

Mrs. Margaret E. Holmes of Monrovia testified about Baldwin making a visit to her home at one time accompanied by Mrs. Turnbull. She stated Baldwin said in regard to a proposed purchase of some horses: "I will send Falvey around with my wife (pointing to Mrs. Turnbull,) and let them look over the stock." She also testified that on a visit to Mrs Abagail Thompson, at the Adams House, Boston, she had told her that Baldwin and Mrs. Turnbull were man and wife.

A deposition of John D. Long, former Governor of Massachusetts and Secretary of the Navy in the administration of President Harrison, was read. In it he stated that he recalled that upon one occasion Mrs. Turnbull had told him that she had a contract marriage with Baldwin.

IN THE INFERIOR COURTS.

Automobile Dealer Is Charged With Felony Embezzlement and Complaints Filed in Two Courts.

W. H. French, an automobile dealer, living at No. 525 West Fifty-eighth street, was held for trial in the Superior Court in two different courts yesterday afternoon on charges of felony embezzlements.

One complaint was filed in Police Judge Rose's court. He was there charged with having embezzled a diamond worth $210. David Miller, a jeweler, at No. 228 West Second street, was the complainant.

After being placed under $1500 bail French was taken into Judge Fredericksen's court and there a similar complaint was made against him. The bail was set in the same sum.

DEALERS RELEASED.

GOOD FOR "SUNDAES."

Ed. Garner and Abe Raphel, charged with conspiracy were released by Police Judge Chambers yesterday afternoon. The men were said to have sold "cull" walnuts for 9 cents a pound representing that the nuts were first-class. Good nuts were placed on the tops of the sacks and spoiled ones beneath, the officers stated.

In defending himself Garner threw some light on the "nut sundaes" which find favor in the eyes of feminine habitues of the soda fountains. "Those black nuts ain't bad, they only look spoiled," Garner said. "Why I sell them to soda fountains and they chop 'em up fine and put 'em on ice cream."

HAS MONEY.

KNIGHT GIVES BAIL.

A. N. Knight, arrested Tuesday, at the request of the police of Spokane upon an embezzlement charge, furnished $5000 cash bail late yesterday afternoon and was released by Police Judge Fredericksen pending the arrival of the officers from Spokane.

Knight seems little perturbed by his arrest and when the bail was set high simply smiled and beckoned to a local real estate dealer, who had accompanied him into court. The latter extracted several packages of bills from his pocket and turned them over to the court

Shooter Held.

John Randolph, who was arrested last Saturday night, in a poolroom at No. 217 West First street on a charge of shooting C. E. Odell in a quarrell was held for trial on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon by Police Judge Fredericksen yesterday afternoon. Odell was not badly wounded and was in court for the examination.

"Joy Riding" Charged.

A complaint charging "joy riding" was filed in Police Judge Fredericksen's court yesterday afternoon, by F. H. Fawkes against M. B. Chespro a mechanic formerly employed in Fawkes' garage at Ninth and Main streets. Chespro, is said to have taken the machine from in front of the garage and to have kept in out several hours.

REGULAR AT SOLDIERS' HOME.

Recount of Votes for District Attorneyship Great Disappointment to Woolwine Supporters.

District Attorney Fredericks lost one more vote than did Thomas Lee Woolwine in the recount before Judge Murphey yesterday. Eighteen ballots were trimmed from Fredericks's standing and seventeen from Woolwine's. The results by precincts follow:

No. 153, Fredericks lost 10, Woolwine lost 3; No. 165, Fredericks, no change, Woolwine lost 4; No. 173, Fredericks, no change, Woolwine lost 1; No. 174, Fredericks gained 2, Woolwine lost 3; No. 180, Fredericks lost 3, Woolwine lost 1; Clearwater, Fredericks, no change, Woolwine lost 1; Pasadena No. 12, Fredericks lost 1, Woolwine, no change; No. 192, Fredericks gained 1, Woolwine, no change; Soldiers' Home No. 5, Fredericks lost 2, Woolwine lost 1; Soldiers' Home No. 4, Fredericks lost 3, Woolwine gained 2; Soldiers' Home No. 3, Fredericks lost 2, Woolwine lost 3, and No. 193, Fredericks, no change, Woolwine lost 2.

The outcome of the session was one of the greatest disappointments which Woolwine's followers have had. They had calculated on large gains at the Soldiers' Home and had stated that something startling would be brought to light when these precincts were counted.

CENTURY OF PEACE.

The United States and Canada have been at peace for nigh onto 100 years and they are not going to slug each other now over a little thing like reciprocity.

ENCOURAGING.

The great programme of double tracking the Union Pacific to the Coast, as reported, is the old Harriman spirit revived. It is good to see, and will encourage industry everywhere as no single event of a like nature could do.

WE GET THE MONEY.

As a rule an American does not take to the game of golf until he is rich and has retired from business. Then he wants to play golf all the time, but he can't play it in winter except he comes to California. See?

WORD TO THE WISE.

A word to the wise should be sufficient, wherefore we would say to the insurrecto board of strategy in Mexico that the leading strategy which they should most carefully employ may well have for its object a careful avoidance of the proximity or nearness, so to speak, of Col. Emilio Kosterlitzy and fellows like that.

THE GRIM SPECTER.

The "Battle of Mexicali" will now go down into history with its dead and wounded to the number of at least three, as far as we are able to learn. In the meantime the deadly automobile continues to keep undertakers busy in places where only profound peace prevails. Always in the midst of life we are in death.

CHAMP'S DANGEROUS JOKE.

It may be all very well for Champ Clark to joke in Congress about American annexation of Canada, but he ought to know from his experience that our friends, the English, are so constituted by nature that they do not understand a joke and wouldn't know one were they to meet it in the middle of the road in broad daylight.

GET IN NOW.

Whenever a man who lived in Los Angeles thirty years ago and who went away returns for a visit he is filled with regret for lost opportunities. It is certain enough that such a man missed not one good thing, but many of them. At the same time the man who goes away now and comes back thirty years hence will see wherein he missed just as much. The thing to do is to get in now.

CROWDED STREETS.

Los Angeles is the most important city in the world, if for no other reason than that we are living in it. One of the compliments paid to this city by all visitors is that the streets here carry a greater tide of happy, busy humanity than the streets of some of the largest cities in the East. There is not an hour in the day when the principal streets of the business district do not present the aspect of a large parade.

WHAT IS A HOLIDAY?.

Perhaps there is no country on the face of the earth, unless it be Mexico, that can vie with California in the observance of holidays. Monday we kept Lincoln's birthday; next week we shall have Washington's birthday. One continual round of pleasure—almost. But all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy, they say. As to the question in the above title, however, we would say that a holiday is a day when everybody gets dreadfully bored or fearfully tired.

DYNAMITING A LAUNDRY.

The closed-shop laborites at Poughkeepsie, New York, having failed to unionize a laundry in which non-union men were employed, endeavored to blow it up. A big stick of dynamite was wrapped in black paper and made to resemble a lump of coal. The engineer discovered the infernal contrivance just as he was about to toss it into the furnace in the engine room in the basement. There was enough dynamite to blow the building to pieces and kill the twenty women and twelve men employed there.

The New York Legislature is considering a law to prohibit the use or possession of dynamite in cities and towns of more than 5000 inhabitants. Graders of city lots will be compelled to use black powder. California might profit by a similar enactment.

DRAMA EN ROUTE.

It appears that the theatrical phenomenon observed in New York a few years ago is about to be repeated in Los Angeles, namely: A change of base in the amusement district, and a tendency to consolidate the leading houses within a comparatively short space.

Once upon a time Wallack's Theater, not far above Madison Square, was regarded as fairly upon its way to the North Pole, so far removed was it from what was then the high-class amusement center of the metropolis. Now Wallack's is a sort of southern boundary, for the heart of the Place of the Play is at Forty-second street and Broadway.

In Los Angeles the theaters seem to be picking up their metaphorical goods and chattels preparatory to the trek to the vicinity of Seventh street and Broadway. The Hamburgers pioneered with their Majestic; the new Orpheum is almost ready for opening; Pantages Theater is operating every day; the new Belasco will be built very soon in that vicinity; and it is stated upon pretty fair authority that two other big firms have options upon lots in the neighborhood, upon which houses will be erected to accommodate big businesses at present taken care of on other streets.

Here, as in New York, there will be no

RECIPROCITY WITH CANADA.

The divergent action of Boards of Trade, of Legislatures, of Farmers Granges and of manufacturers' unions in the States east of the Rocky Mountains on the subject of the reciprocity treaty with Canada illustrates the truth that, while the doctrines of "Protection to American Labor" and "Tariff for Revenue Only" remain fundamentally hostile to each other, yet the application of the principle of protection gives rise to disputes between different interests, as vigorous and almost as difficult of amicable adjustment as those between protection and free trade.

Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture favors the reciprocity treaty, and the National Grange at Concord, N. H., opposes it. The Massachusetts House of Representatives refused to indorse it, and the Philadelphia Drug Exchange favors it. The National Canners Association convention in session at Milwaukee, the Minnesota House of Representatives, the Common Council of Oswego, N. Y., the Merchants Association of New York City, and Senator Beveridge of Indiana favor the treaty. The Connecticut Pomologists, the State Grange and the Farmers' Association are hostile to it.

Each community and each industrial element in each community, from Bangor to Galveston, and from New York to San Francisco, favors or opposes reciprocity from the standpoint of self-interest. Timber products of Canada are to be admitted free, which is an advantage to the farmers and a disadvantage to lumbermen. Meat and grains are to be admitted free, to the injury of farmers and the advantage of others. Free barbed-wire fencing will be a boon to the farmers, but a blow to the Pennsylvania iron and steel workers.

Free food products will not work much harm to the agriculturists of the Gulf States, while free admission into Canada of cotton-seed oil will help them. Free introduction of flax seed into the United States will help the paint manufacturers and discourage flax growers.

Senator Beveridge places his support of the treaty on the sentimental ground that "the beginning of free trade relations between these two people who are immediate neighbors, and who are of one blood, language and religion is the large phase of this question."

To this "argument" the farmers of the Northwest may reply that "like the flowers that bloom in the spring, it has nothing to do with the case," and the fact that the wheat growers of Manitoba attend Methodist revivals, and:—

"Speak the self-same tongue
That Milton wrote, that Chatham spoke,
And Burns and Shakespeare sung" will not in the least compensate the American farmer for the loss that he will sustain in the price of his grain, if Canadian wheat and barley shall be allowed to enter the United States free of duty.

The reciprocity treaty is against both the immediate and the future interests of the Pacific Coast. The admission of fish free of duty will lessen the profits of the salmon canners in Oregon and Washington; the admission of free lumber will hurt the lumber industry in Washington, Oregon and California, and the admission of free wheat, and especially of free barley, will injure the grain growers. California exports little or nothing to British Columbia the value of which would be enhanced to our producers by reciprocity.

The injury to Southern California that would be inflicted by a ratification of the treaty is not immediate, but it is not so very remote, for if the government of the United States shall establish reciprocity with its northern neighbor, how can it consistently refuse such a treaty with Mexico or Sicily? Oranges, lemons, nuts—shall we let them in free of duty?

That Senator Perkins will co-operate with Senator Flint in opposing the treaty is altogether likely, and if, as now seems probable, it shall not be ratified before March 4 next, it is to be hoped that Senator Works will remember that "charity begins at home," and that "he who provideth not for his own household is worse than the infidel."

TWO OLD FELLOWS.

At the "Peace Ideal" and "Civic Life" conference which is to be held in the Monastery of the Mission Inn at Riverside in a few days there will appear two old fellows in whom a busy world is deeply interested, although they are really not of the busy world as we know it with its argosies and caravans, but of another world—the world of nature, busy, too, in its own way, yet oblivious to the roar and fever of trade and commerce. These two old fellows are John Muir and John Burroughs.

Burroughs is now 74 years of age, and Muir is only a year younger. But, owing mainly to the outdoor lives they have led and the philosophical state in which that life has tended to keep their hearts and minds, these two eminent naturalists are still quite hale and hearty, as much interested in their calling now as they have ever been and able to do the work which they both love so well.

Muir has been the more strenuous wanderer. Far flung are the wild trails his feet have known. The great glacier which bears his name in Alaska and other places long distant from his quiet California home tell of the wanderings of Muir. Not a foot of the Sierras but knows him. He is the lover of the mountains. The things of the wild greet him as friend and neighbor. Where another man goes with knife and gun, John Muir goes welcomed and safe against harm with no weapon at all and only a pocket filled with tea and a few biscuits to sustain his few meager wants.

Burroughs travels far in quite another way. Within the confines of his little garden in the East he makes many far journeys into the marvelous cities which the master architects of the soil build—the Tyre, the Carthage and the Babylon of the ants and the cliff-dwelling pueblos of the bees. A nesting thrush with its family is a whole world in itself for this wonderful old man.

Boast as we may of the conquests of commerce, the cities of steel and stone which we build, the fleets with which we have conquered the seas and the armies with which we have circled the earth, we still may envy John Muir and John Burroughs the happiness of the lives they have led. The man who goes through life knowing only the little that the cities have to teach misses the best and the most there is in life. Nature has more important and more fascinating secrets to divulge than are locked up in the counting-houses of the world. And, in many ways, the cities which the beavers build are

How They View It.

PERPETUAL RESUBMITTING.

The Evening Revoker demands resubmission of the tax amendment of the Constitution, on the ground that, if the amendment shall be found to work well and furnish sufficient revenue to pay the salaries and fees of Gov. Johnson's 1000 office holders, the people can vote against its rescission, while, if it shall work badly, the people can vote to repeal it and so get rid of it two years sooner.

The Evening Revoker overlooks or ignores the fact that if the amendment shall be unproductive of sufficient revenue to meet the exactions which the office-creating, economy-defying Legislature seems to be making necessary, such insufficiency will be made manifest in a few months, and the Governor can then call an extra session to provide for resubmission; or the Legislature can, if so disposed, obtain now sufficient information to enable it to fix a rate of taxation on corporations that will supply ample funds for the support of the State government.

If the resubmission, and recalling, and all-around "reneging" which are hysterically demanded by the Evening Revoker are to prevail, why limit them to Senate Amendment No. 1? Why not extend them to the amendment by which the State is to add $5,000,000 to the Panama Canal Exposition fund? The exposition is not now scheduled to take place before 1915. The $7,500,000 contributed by San Francisco capitalists, and the $5,000,000 contributed by the city of San Francisco, will carry along the preparations for the fair for more than two years. If, in the meantime, the enterprise shall have been fairly conducted, so that the grasping clutches of the closed-shop laborites shall not have seized the funds appropriated for the exposition, and if industrial freedom shall rule, then the people can vote down the resubmission, while, if Tvietmoe, Gallagher and McCarthy are running the fair, it will be sure to be a failure, and the $5,000,000 appropriation by the State can be rescinded and that amount saved from the wreck.

Again, if industrial slavery is to be established all over the State, as the labor leaders now threaten, and capital driven out as it was during the reign of the sand lots thirty years ago, and the growth of California paralyzed by the legislation of cranks and experimentalists and socialists, maybe we can get along without good roads, and travel through the mud for a few years, and so save the $18,000,000 which it is proposed to appropriate by another of the constitutional amendments which the people voted for at the last election.

Why not, indeed, resubmit all the amendments on the theory advanced by the Evening Revoker?

The Times makes these suggestions by way of illustrating the absurdity of the argument of the Evening Revoker in favor of resubmitting the tax amendment. The Times believes in accepting the verdict of the people and giving a fair trial to the amendments for which they voted. The Times has no sympathy with the sissy boy, cry-baby, "crying little Jack wants his marbles back," legislation. It believes rather in the maxim of old John Harper of Kentucky race-horse fame. "If you lose, own up, pay up, and shut up."

There is this to be said in favor of the selection of Charles P. Taft as special Ambassador to the coronation of King George—he wears the right sort of whiskers for such an event and does not take a bad photograph. His brother, President Taft, would make two of him.

It is reported that Charles W. Wappenstein, the deposed Chief of Police of Seattle, is coming to Los Angeles. This is "Wappy, old boy," once the delight of the newspaper gang in Cincinnati, who often got his name in the papers. Isn't it so, "Wappy?"

It is now predicted that the seventeen-year locust will be in our midst this summer. However, they will do no damage in California. We will simply recall them.

UNCLE WALT

The Poet Philosopher.

When I have slipped my tether, and left this vale of tears, to see what sort of weather they have in other spheres, I want no costly casket with silver trappings bound; just put me in a basket and chuck me underground. Death would be far more jolly and pleasant every way, but for the idle folly of making big display. It takes a roll unending to make a graveyard spread, and all the fuss and spending don't help the man who's dead. 'Twere best to keep the stivers safe hidden in a tub, to comfort the survivors and buy them duds and grub. I know that it would grind me when on the other shore, if those I left behind me had wolves before the door, if I looked down and found them, immersed in tears and woe, with creditors around them all howling for the dough.
So when I up and trundle down to the sunless sea, let no one blow a bundle to pay for planting me. I'll slumber just as sweetly in some old basswood box, as though trussed up completely with silver screws and locks.

The Call to Sacrifice.

The chieftain of the deleterious germs was come at length to the end of his resources. Apparently, the game was up.

"We are discovered!" he exclaimed dejectedly. "That is to say, if there are more than 500,000,000 of us in millimeter of milk, the stuff is thrown in the sewer and we are foiled of our prey!"

But suddenly a happy thought struck him. "Why cannot a few millions of us in each millimeter go disguised, and thus fool the bacteriologists?"

To think was to act. He sprang upon his feet. His voice rang out like a clarion.

"How many germs," he demanded, "will volunteer to wear silk hats and frock coats and try to look respectable for the common weal?"—[Puck.

WILL COLOMBIA SPLIT AGAIN?

BY WALTER J. BALLARD.

Reports are rife of a further secession of States in the Republic of Colombia. The last secession was when Panama broke away, formed itself into a republic, and got $10,000,000 cash for the Panama Canal zone from the United States. Since then, though there has been a good trade between Colombia and the United States, the feeling against Americans has run somewhat high, especially in Bogota, the capital of the country. Some American money has been invested there, but not nearly so much as would have been placed, had the attitude of the Colombians generally towards Americans and American doings been more cordial.

Here is our trade with Colombia for ten years (Bureau of Statistics figures):

Fiscal years.	Exports to.	Imports from.
1901	$3,142,052	$3,230,652
1910 (calendar year)	4,636,682	7,703,281

It will be noted that in the ten years our imports from Colombia increased by fully 150 per cent. and our exports thereto by about 50 per cent. Thus Colombia needs us (in trade) more than we need Colombia.

Important harbors on the Caribbean coast are: El portete of Rio Hacha, Santa Marta, Sabanilla (the active port of the busy city or Barranquilla,) Catagena, etc. On the Pacific Coast line are the Bay of Malaga, with the harbors of Guapi and Izeuande, the bays of Pasacaballos and Buena Ventura, the harbors of Tumaco and Trinidad, and the Gulfs of Montijo, David and Dulce.

The coast and some interior valleys of Colombia are intensely hot and insalubrious. On the elevated plateaus the temperature is that of perpetual spring. The lowest average temperature in any inhabited part of the mountainous country is 20 F. The peaks of the Cordilleras are snow-clad always. In spite of the equatorial situation of Colombia, the Andes make temperature merely a question of altitude. At Bogota the thermometer ranges from 55 to 70 degrees F. Alternating periods of dry and wet weather, each generally of three months' duration, are Colombia's "summer" and "winter."

Gold is found in Antioquia, Colombia; in the Choco region, department of Cauca; in the departments of Santander and Tolima, etc. Silver mines are especially productive in Antioquia, Cauca and Tolima. Aggregate annual output of these two metals is worth $4,100,000. Iron is found in Antioquia and Cundinamarca; copper in Boyaca and Magdalena; platinum, sulphur, salt, emeralds, lime, niter, chalk, marble, petroleum, asphaltum, alum, magnesia, amethyst, lead, tin, manganese, mercury and cinnabar in various parts of the country. Emeralds valued at $100,000 were annually produced at the Muzo and Cosquez mines up to 1899.

The low and torrid regions (coasts and valleys) of Colombia produce coffee, sugarcane, bananas, cacao, yuca, cotton, tobacco, indigo, vanilla, rice and many kinds of tropical fruits. The temperate middle region of the Andes is suited to the cultivation of wheat, barley, etc., but grains are not produced in large quantities, owing to the lack of transportation facilities.

Vast tracts of forests remain to be explored. It is assumed that rare botanical treasures will be found in their recesses; and with good reason, since the known varieties of Colombian flora are of exceptional interest. Island traffic on the Magdalena River employs forty-two small steamers. Postal business is light—in some recent years only 2,600,000 letters, postal cards, parcels and newspapers were carried. The telegraph system suffered specially from the secession of Panama, as did, indeed, all the interests of the country, without exception, except, perhaps, the ring of alleged grafters now complained of—the same crowd that lost $10,000,000 of American money, in their greed for more. All the telegraph lines are owned by the government. Silver is the standard—the peso, or dollar, is worth only 36 cents American. In years past great quantities of paper money were issued, all of which has been valueless for years.

The President of Colombia is chosen (by electoral colleges) for a term of six years. His Cabinet consists of the Secretaries of the State and Interior, War, Finance and Foreign Affairs departments. As in Chile, the secretaries are responsible to Congress. There is also a Council of State of seven members. Congress meets every two years, on the 20th of July, at Bogota. It is composed of the Senate (twenty-seven members) and the House of Representatives (one member for every 50,000 of the population; term four years; elected directly by the citizens. The Senators are chosen by departmental assemblies, Supreme Court, District Courts, Circuit Judges and Municipal Judges. The whole is a very workable plan of government, if kept free from personal bickerings.

As to "Hell-Roaring Jake."

Washington Post: "Hell Roaring Jake" may be on the retired list, but his roar isn't.

Albany Argus: Gen. "Hell Roaring Jake" Smith says that Col. Roosevelt sacrifices his friends to his ambition. What did he suppose he sacrificed them to?

St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Gen. Smith has been silent so long under what he feels to have been an injustice that he cannot be said to be roaring at all.

Baltimore American: "Hell Roaring Jake" Smith has added an anti-Roosevelt blast to the noises of civilization. The drum of the public ear must be in sore straits from the tattoo being played upon it just now.

Philadelphia Record: He says he expected to come home from the Philippines "a hero," but, thanks to Roosevelt, found himself "a monster." Accordingly Gen. Smith is so sorely aggrieved that it chafed him under the chin to keep it quiet any longer.

Philadelphia Bulletin: There are many things connected with the war of 1898 which the American people prefer to remain forgotten. Chief among these are the imitations of Weylerism which some of our commanders, including Gen. Smith, deemed essential to successful subjugation of the Filipinos.

"Valuables Overlooked."

Married in Monrovia.

One of the pretty weddings of the season was celebrated at noon Wednesday, at the bride's home in Monrovia when Miss Kathleen, only daughter of Mrs. Anna M. and the late E. F. Spence, was united to John R. Layng of Los Angeles by Dr. Bovard. Only members of the families of the bride and groom were present. The young bride, a popular debutante, preferred that the marriage take place in the foothill town where she was born. She included in the wedding arrangements girlish treasures and heirlooms of the family. The altar before which she knelt to plight her troth was given her by a happy bride in Los Angeles sixteen years ago when Miss Spence, a miss of 6, carried bridal flowers. The prayer book, bound in blue enamel, is the one her mother carried at her marriage, and is over half a century old. The laces that adorned the breakfast table were exquisite creations from the hands of skillful workers in Ireland, the birthplace of both the father and mother of the bride. The living and dining-room were beautiful with decorations of sweet peas, smilax and pink gauze ribbons. The bridal party knelt before the altar beneath a shower of blossoms. The bride wore a traveling gown of brown and carried no flowers. Mrs. Spence, mother of the bride, presided at the wedding breakfast, assisted by her eldest son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Spence. Covers were laid for twenty-eight at a table charming in its decorations of white and gold under a canopy of pink sweet peas. Mr. Layng and his bride departed later in the day for an extended wedding trip. They will make their home in Los Angeles.

WOMEN'S WORK, WOMEN'S CLUBS.

BY ROSE L. ELLERBE.

Eighty sacks of oranges, a box and a half in each sack, were collected this week by the women of the East Whittier Woman's Improvement Club and sent to Mrs. William Baurhyte, Federation president of Los Angeles district, for distribution. On Wednesday Mrs. Bauerhyle personally supervised the placing of the fruit in the Orphan's Home, Children's Hospital, Florence Crittendon Home, Church of the Neighborhood, Catholic Orphan's Home and half a dozen other institutions and today hundreds of children to whom oranges are a rare treat even in this land of the orange, are hugging the golden fruit to their hearts. The Los Angeles Pacific Company brought the fruit from Whittier without charge and a truck company delivered the fruit at a cost of about 3 cents a sack, so at very small expense, aside from the thoughtfulness and personal effort of Mrs. Mendenhall and the East Whittier ladies, a very substantial good was accomplished.

Highland Park Ebell.

This club held its regular session in its new clubhouse on Wednesday morning. The Shakespeare section met to listen to a very interesting paper by Mrs. O. H. Bachelior upon the play under consideration, King John IV. Luncheon was served afterward, Mrs. J. E. Brown acting as hostess. In the afternoon the choral class, which now numbers about seventy members, met. This class is developing much enthusiasm under their new instructor, Fred Ellis. Prof. E. H. Warman gave a very instructive talk on breathing before the class. The clubhouse is proving a center for many activities and adds much to the club and social life of this section of the city.

Sees Social Menace.

"ANTI" STATES HER VIEWS ON POLITICAL EQUALITY.

Declares That the Real Selfishness Is the Attitude That Wants to Vote Now in Spite of the Effect It May Have on the Next Generation.

"Following woman's suffrage to a conclusion means a sex antagonism that is a social menace." This statement was made by Mrs. Harriet H. Hunt yesterday afternoon to a number of women at the headquarters of the Southern California Association Opposed to Woman Suffrage.

"We are sometimes accused of selfishness," said Mrs. Hunt, "because we who do not wish to vote, do not wish to see other women saddled with a responsibility which the masses of women do not desire and for which they are clearly unprepared. The real selfishness is the attitude which wants to vote now in spite of the effect that political equality may have upon the next generation. I believe that its effect would be socially disastrous if for no other reason than that suffrage for women develops a strong sex antagonism and that women are certain to be worsted in any contest of that sort. Women would be injured in sex competition for the reason that men are physically stronger.

"The possibility of sex antagonism grows out of the fact that women have so far proved themselves incapable of following the suffrage idea without becoming to an extent monomaniacal. In England the campaign for suffrage has long been in a stage of hysteria. It has become an obsession.

"I know two excellent women physicians in the city of London. Neither of these capable women is capable of discussing any subject for ten minutes without leading up to a general incrimination of the sum total of masculinity. They began with suffrage and they have ended with the conviction that all men are inherently bad and hopelessly selfish. They cannot talk about the weather or about the furniture in their offices without making bitter remarks about men.

"I know a clever English girl who is a beautiful musican. Before the suffrage bee got into her bonnet she was a member of an excellent string quartette famous in England for its chamber music. Because the leader of this exquisite organization is a man, this foolish girl refuses to submit to his mastery of music and the result is that she has withdrawn from the quartette and has temporarily destroyed a brilliant organization. This is hysteria and this is sex antagonism.

"If England with its great reserve sustains shocks from the extreme measures of its suffragists, what is to be expected from a country temperamentally much more acute? American blood carries the Latin qualities to a large degree and when the questionof suffrage reaches the stage of hysteria, I tremble to think of what the result may be.

"Some persons may think that sex antagonism is purely moral and never physical but the fact is that when a woman who is presumably of gentle breeding will slap a patrolman in the face, she is inviting vigorous physical competition which is not in the least likely to terminate in her favor. The American boy would say that she is starting something she could not stop.

"I am not at all sure that the entire suffrage question does not start something which cannot be stopped. It seems to me that no man and no woman knows where it should be stopped. If a woman can vote for legislative candidates, she can go to the Legislature herself. If she can be a State lawmaker she can go to Congress and be a national law-maker. If she can get to Congress, she can be President of the United States if the people are foolish enough to elect her. There seems to be no hope of a stopping point when once we get started on the dangerous doctrine of political equality."

Hearts Aflame.

MISSION ALTAR FIRES FANNED.

WORLD-WIDE ECHOES IN THIS CITY YESTERDAY.

Woman's Federation of Christian Missionary Workers Holds All-Day Meeting at Which Speakers Recount Activities in Various Lands.

Echoes of missionary movements in many lands resounded at the First M. E. Church yesterday at the all-day meeting of the Woman's Federation of Christian Missionary Workers.

The auditorium was well filled with women from all Protestant denominations of Los Angeles and suburbs. There was also a sprinkling of men.

The meeting was opened with devotional exercises conducted by the president, Mrs. E. Y. Van Meter of Highland Park.

Mrs. L. S. Croyer spoke on "Missions in Mexico." She was accompanied to the platform by her little son, who insisted on carrying the bag of curios that she used in illustrating her talk. Mrs. Croyer began by asking why the women before her are different from the women in other lands. She said she did not think the reason was that given by a little American boy who, in response to the same question, replied: "Because we are us." She thought, rather, that, while the women of different lands are "done up in different-looking packages," the contents of the packages are much the same.

Mrs. David M. Thomas, foreign secretary of the Presbyterian Missionary Society, delivered an address on "Fifty Years of Woman's Work in Missions" and emphasized the fact that this is the jubilee year of this branch of woman's work. She said that the past half-century duly records the last chapter in this work, that it really dates back at least to the little Syrian maid who directed her master, Naaman, to the prophet of Israel.

An address on the conference held in Edinburgh last May was delivered by Mrs. C. M. Carter, wife of the newly-arrived pastor of the First Baptist Church. Mrs. Carter spoke of the beauty of Scotland, of the hospitality of the people, of the simple gaiety and deep reverence of this Sabbath-keeping, church-going race. She said that the keynote of the conference was unity, and on this theme she quoted from the opening address of the Archbishop of Canterbury and the message of the King, both of whom had used the expression, "We are absolutely one in our allegiance to Jesus Christ." To illustrate the difficulty of such union, Mrs. Carter told of a Baptist minister who was entertaining a high-church Episcopalian clergyman on a communion Sabbath. With embarrassment, he explained to his guest that the rules of his church would not permit him to invite the clergyman to partake of the communion. But his friend replied: "Do not worry about that for the rules of my church would not permit me to receive it from you."

The afternoon session was opened with devotional exercises by Mrs. Warren F. Day, mother of Dr. William H. Day. She emphasized the need of "applied prayer."

Mrs. Van Meter, in presenting the speakers of the afternoon, said that the problems which confront the governments of the world today are those that arise from the contact of the East and the West, and that an up-to-date knowledge of missions is necessary to an understanding of these problems.

The principal address of the afternoon was by Mrs. H. C. Shuler of Persia, who, with Mr. Shuler, is spending part of her vacation in Los Angeles. Mrs. Shuler, with an inimitable mingling of humor and pathos, pleaded for the 100,000,000 Moslem women in various lands.

Mrs. H. W. Crabbe, whose husband has seen the largest service of any of the United Presbyterian ministers in Los Angeles, spoke on "Current Events."

Mrs. Leon W. Tucker, wife of the pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, spoke on the work of interesting young women.

Miss Cook recounted thrilling experiences in her work among the Coast Indians at Panama. These people had never had the gospel until work on the canal opened a way for the missionary.

WOULD SHIELD HIMSELF.

An unusual situation developed yesterday during the prosecution of Tom Martines on a charge of having failed to provide for a minor child. He admitted that he is the parent of the child, but declared the woman who posed as his wife had another husband living. She and Martines have lived as man and wife for six years. Defendant's attorneys declared they were willing to submit the case on a proposition of law, on the ground that there is no statute in this State which makes a man support his illegitimate children. Justice Summerfield will give his decision today.

Cottolene

Sunshine means Purity

Many people believe with Moses, the great law-giver, that the use of lard is unclean. The source of Cottolene is absolutely clean and wholesome, and the product is as healthful as olive oil.

Cottolene comes from the cotton fields of the Sunny South, a product of Nature, refined by our exclusive process. The ancestry of lard is not so clean or inviting. Lard never has been, never can be, anything more or less than unwholesome hog fat.

Cottolene makes food that any stomach can digest, while authorities say that lard is the cause of nine-tenths of all indigestion.

Cottolene is the best frying and shortening medium made to-day. Wherever exhibited in competition with other cooking fats, it has always been granted Highest Awards.

COTTOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an air-tight top, to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

HAZEL WINS FIRST VICTORY.

Defeats Mrs. Widdowson in One-sided Tennis Match.

McLoughlin and Sinsabaugh Take Matters Easily.

Big Ones Are Scheduled to Play Today.

Miss Hazel Hotchkiss defeated Mrs. G. Widdowson, she of hockey fame, in her first appearance on a southern tennis court since her last defeat by Miss May Sutton at Mt. Washington, yesterday, on the Virginia courts at Long Beach. The score was 6-1, 6-2.

Mrs. Widdowson played a plucky game but was no match for the national champion. Miss Hotchkiss's service was especially effective and her backhand strokes were superb.

Miss Hotchkiss arrived on the courts shortly before noon and was enthusiastically received by the players and spectators. She practiced half an hour with Maurice McLoughlin. She showed her old-time skill and accuracy in placing the ball, which is remarkable, as she has played but six times this winter.

Miss May Sutton, appeared on the courts for the first time since the beginning of the tournament and cordially greeted Miss Hotchkiss. Miss Sutton practiced for an hour and appeared to have lost none of her skill with the racquet.

While the weather conditions early in the morning promised anything but a pleasant day, the cold, raw wind died down shortly after 10 o'clock and the sun's rays fell on a well-filled grand stand of spectators who thoroughly enjoyed the classy tennis skirmishes between the different aspirants after final honors.

One of the best matches of the day was between Simpson Sinsabaugh and Alonzo Bell, former Coast champion, and one of the greatest exponents the sport ever produced in this country.

Bell started out with a bang but Sinsabaugh managed to make it three all. Bell took the next two in deuce games and Sinsabaugh annexed the next two after strenuous playing. Bell won the next two, winning the set 7-5. In the second set Bell played a wonderful game and aroused the spectators to a high pitch of enthusiasm. His net game was grand and his overhead playing the best that has been seen in the tournament to date. He won, 6-0, but Sinsabaugh fought every inch of the way and nearly all were deuce games.

RATTLING GAME.

Miss Hotchkiss and McLoughlin defeated Mrs. Widdowson and Bell in two straight sets, 6-2, 6-2. The southern team put up a rattling good game but were outclassed by their northern opponents. McLoughlin played in grand form and he used his famous "kill-drive" with destructive effect.

Mrs. Harvey and Hendrick defeated Miss Green and Bacon in a splendid contest in two straight sets, 6-4, 6-4. Miss Green is a Philadelphia girl and plays an excellent game. Tom Bundy had little difficulty in disposing of Will Bacon, 6-0, 6-2. Bacon failed to play his usual game and was weak at the net and his strokes lacked their usual accuracy. Bundy was in prime condition and showed more speed than he did in Wednesday's play.

Hendrick beat Johnson in one of the best contests of the day's play in straight sets, 8-6, 6-4. Hendrick's smashes and fine driving won for him. Johnson played rather wildly in the second set after having his opponent three love.

It is planned to arrange for Saturday afternoon, one of the greatest events of the tennis season of 1911. Maurice McLoughlin will meet Tom Bundy in the challenge round of the open singles, unless Bundy is taken into camp today by Bell, whom he is to meet in the semi-finals. Miss Hazel Hotchkiss is to play Miss May Sutton in a special exhibition match; the finals of the men's doubles will be played, and the mixed doubles between Miss Hotchkiss and McLoughlin and Miss May Sutton and Bundy is scheduled.

This four-match programme should provide an entertainment of high class tennis never equaled in the West.

Yesterday's programme went through as slated, although there were several defaults. The courts were in excellent condition and the slight breeze

DREXEL'S BATTLE WITH THE BRITISH REVERSES THE DECISION AT SARATOGA.

Hon. Bobby Beresford Scores Knockout in Third Round After American Won Early Success---Wellington's Stonewall Defense Duplicated by Latest Strategist.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] It was not an empty jest after all, that supper-table challenge of the Hon. Selon Robert Beresford, younger brother of Lord Decies, to Anthony Drexel, to "have a go" with the gloves.

It is all true. The fight has actually taken place and the winner is now in possession of a handsome silver cup as a fitting memento of his important international victory.

And it was not a "half and half affair" either, but a real genuine hammer and tongs, tooth and nail battle, winding up with the loser helpless.

The scene of the encounter was the private gymnasium at the Gould mansion at Lakewood, N. J., and it took place in the presence of the members of the house party who watched the expert display of fisticuffs with the keenest interest.

The news came to the ears of a reporter today and he succeeded in getting full details of the fight from an eyewitness. The fight fans assembled in full force in the private gymnasium at Lakewood on Saturday night for the contest, which was to go six rounds.

In spite of the fact that the training of the combatants for the bout consisted mainly of whole-hearted participation in certain wedding festivities, they both entered the ring looking exceedingly fit.

The Englishman weighed in at 166 pounds while the representative of the United States turned the scales at 161. Mr. Beresford had for his seconds Lord Camöys and Lord Alastace Graham, Mr. Drexel's seconds being Jay Gould, Jr., and Mr. Moffatt. A well-known English naval officer acted as referee.

In the opening round, Drexel rushed in true American fashion, apparently with the idea of forcing an early termination of the battle and earning for himself the title of "One-Round" Drexel.

The English ex-champion, however, kept his head, and, although he was receiver general at the start, the end of the round found Drexel on his back on the floor as the result of a smashing left hook on the jaw.

For the second round Drexel came up strong and continued his aggressive tactics. With a well-timed right swing he landed Beresford's head with such force that the Englishman momentarily lost his balance. In spite of Drexel's furious tactics, Beresford seemed quite content to take things easy and await his opportunity. This round was easily Drexel's, who got in several useful body blows before time was called.

At the start of the third round Drexel again rushed in, but was met with a him somewhat. Beresford now dropped his "take it easy" methods and got busy in real earnest. Very soon he had Drexel guessing and with a terrific left swing sent his opponent sprawling. Drexel was quickly on his feet again, but the end was obviously near. With a left and right to the jaw, Beresford had his man completely at his mercy, standing dazed in the middle of the ring with his arms hanging listlessly by his sides.

At this juncture Drexel's seconds admitted a knockout and dragged their man from the ring.

As a memento of the occasion, Mrs. Gould subsequently presented to Mr. Beresford a handsome silver cup to add to his already large collection of sporting trophies.

It is understood that the cup is in the hands of jewelers, being inscribed with a suitable record of the event.

"MUD BATHS AND EARLY RISING," ORDERS DILLON.

BY GREY OLIVER.

"THE LOS ANGELES BALL CLUB will not have any strict rules about training for its players," asserted Capt. Frank Dillon last night, "for the simple reason that if we cannot trust our men to do the right thing by us and themselves we do not want them on the team."

This is the hot stuff right off the bat for the Angel fans and the men who expect to be on the team this year and they can put this dope in their pipes and smoke it awhile. If it does not agree with their respective stomachs they needn't smoke up.

"I do not believe in any iron-clad rules," continued Dillon, "for it has been my experience, and I have had some in all kinds of leagues, that while one man may be effected by strict regulations there will be fifteen that will not need these and there is no sense or business judgment in slashing at fifteen men in the effort to get one particular man.

"The Los Angeles squad, which will include about twenty men, expect to leave here Monday, March 6, for Murietta springs and the team will be there sixteen days. There will be no time set for the boys to get out of bed in the morning, but they must be up and dressed by 8 o'clock. It is up to them to be in bed either, for if the men have not sense enough to know when to go to bed and how to behave themselves it is up to their friends to tell them if they wish to hold a job on the team.

"After breakfast, the boys can lounge around until 9:30 o'clock, when the morning practice will begin. It will continue until 12:30 o'clock and then will come luncheon. There will be a rest until 2 o'clock, and then the entire squad will take a walk of two hours, over the hills, to get the legs in good condition and to improve the 'wind.' There will be no afternoon practice the first week. The programme for the first day will practically stand for every day of the training, but the last four or five days we are at the springs, there will be a six-inning game each afternoon.

"I might state that after we return from the hike over the hills the men will take mud baths and of course will be rubbed by trainers every day. There will be no rules about them taking 'booze,' for we could not stop them if they were inclined that way. All we will ask is that they keep themselves in condition to play first-class ball and they must take care of themselves if they do that.

"This should be about enough to explain the position of Manager [illegible] that hour, so it is a case of self-protection.

Long Beach Veterans Claim Team Championship—Individual Supremacy Still Undecided.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONG BEACH, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The tariff can wait and the war can sizzle; but the real burning question of the hour is this:

Who is the horse-shoe chmpion?

Long Beach has a team that has about cleaned up the map and effaced every horse-shoe challenger on the civilized globe; but the question of individual supremacy still remains.

Red hot contests are going on every day on the temporary pitching grounds on the water front. The regular pitchery is in the city park. A tourament is being planned for the individual championship, and for a trophy.

The quoits club was formed about seven years ago. The first game was played by T. F. Berry and Z. T. Hennold. The ground on which it was played is occupied by the city fire hall. The membership grew rapidly, and the fame of its players spread, until challenges were received from many other towns. Those have been eagerly accepted and with very few exceptions the Long Beach club has come home victorious. Pasadena was so gloriously efdeted that the members of that club never offered to play with the Long Beach team again. The games with Redlands have been "ties" and both sides have claimed the honors of the "meets" with Santa Ana.

The club hs its regular staff of officers elected once a year and has its rules and regulations that are as inviolable as any of a business organization. Any man who can pitch horseshoes is eligible to membership. There is no age limit, but the average age

Barney Wins Again.

OLDFIELD IS TO RACE ON TEXAS CIRCULAR TRACK.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Barney Oldfield has won another victory over the American Automobile Association. In spite of the protest of Chairman Butler of the A.A.A. and of the San Antonio Auto Club, affiliated with the national body, the directors of the International Fair Association today leased the track here to William Pickens. This is the only track in the South used exclusively for automobiles.

Following the receipt of a wire from Chairman Butler to the secretary of the fair association stating that the track here would be blacklisted if used by Oldfield, the track was rented. The morning paper today wired Chairman Butler stating that Oldfield claimed the Boston, Richmond, Va., Sheepshead Bay, N. Y., and Shreveport tracks had been used by him since his suspension and have not been suspended by Three A's.

Butler declined to comment on Oldfield's charges, but asserted that any licensed track being used by a suspended driver would render it ineligible for future sanctions.

Local automobilists consider the word "licensed" as being the joker. The license for the track here expired December 31 and has not been renewed for 1911. Oldfield will race here Feb-

Automobile Club have volunteered to act as officials of the meet. Oldfield is a great favorite here and the Press Club is arranging a banquet in his honor and members will present him with a loving cup.

Barney Oldfield wants to drive a racing motor car in Mexico. He has taken a long step toward his desired race meet. He will drive in San Antonio, and then in El Paso. His next meet may be pulled off in Juarez.

The people of Mexico have never had a chance to watch a real speedster driving a fast automobile. Barney is ready to ship his fast cars across the border, and if there are no complications, he may appear in a meet that will show the citizens of the City of Mexico just what he can do at the helm of his "Blitzen" Benz.

BERRY LANDS UNCLE PERRY.

Tackles Johnson Family Tree for Stout Limb.

Pitcher Britton From Oil Country Signed.

Walter Johnson, the famous Washington pitcher, may be a great beaver, but as Hen Berry of the Los Angeles team never heard of enough money to buy Johnson for his Angels he has done the next best thing. He has signed Johnson's uncle and may develop him into a second baseman. His name is Perry and he hails from Olinda.

Do not let anyone slip you the idea that this uncle of Johnson is about 45 years old, chews tobacco and is always telling you how they used to play ball in the spring of 1873 when he was a kid. You will have to cut this out, for the uncle is but 18 years old. It was simply an accident of birth that Walter Johnson was born before his uncle and the uncle is not to blame for it.

Uncle has been playing amateur ball down in the oil well league for quite a while and he sometimes does shine as a player and it is said that at other times he is a shiner. Whole families of ball players are this way, however, and Berry hasn't been able to figure yet just what Uncle can do, but Hen was bound to have one member of the Johnson family on his team, so he grabbed him without delay.

Berry hasn't an idea that Uncle will be able to displace Howard at second base or to take anyone's place anywhere, but he will give him a chance in the spring practice at all events. Ball playing may run in the family. The Kid Uncle wants to show some one what he can do and it would be a hot joke on fate if Berry should have picked up a live one in him.

He also signed another one from the oil well league yesterday and his name is said to be Britton. He is a good-sized pitcher and he will also be given an opportunity to demonstrate.

SHOWS THEM THE WAY OUT.

Bernal Dyas, of the Dyas-Cline Company, Opens a Subway From Broadway to Third During the Fire.

Bernal Dyas of the Dyas-Cline company claims to have the only subway in the West which you can traverse without danger of being killed by a street car. He opened the boulevard yesterday while the big fire was at its height and the underground passage proved decidedly popular.

While flames were destroying the merchandise in the stores of the Byrne building, and when traffic was suspended on Broadway, Dyas conceived the idea of piloting pedestrians through the Broadway alley near Third street, and thence through the sporting goods store.

This brought the persons out on Third street at a point where the fire lines would not bother them. The crowd took to the idea at once and hundreds found their way through the store from Broadway, thence along Third to Spring street. All morning and well into the afternoon the throngs followed the new route.

After the fire was over the police on duty at Third and Broadway visited Dyas and expressed appreciation of the novel scheme which had aided matters.

BURT BEATS STEVENS.

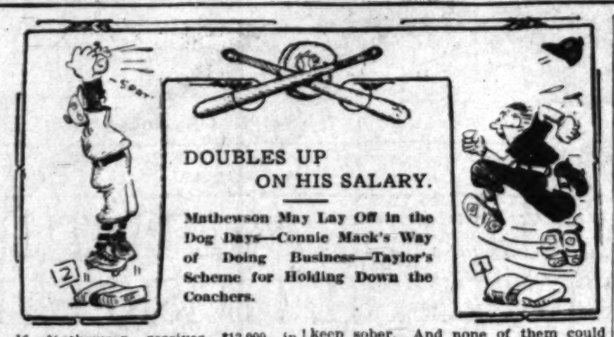
High Percentage of Winner Puts Him Far to the Good in the Standing.

An interesting phase of the checker tournament now approaching a finish in the Higgins building, was the series played yesterday between J. F. Burt and W. E Stevens, which resulted in a score of 3 to 1 in favor of Burt.

The latter has but sixteen games to play, his score standing 59 won, 7 lost. If all competitors complete their schedules it does not appear probable that Burt will be headed.

President F. E. Browne, has been appointed referee for the tournament and has ruled that players who do not contest their full quota, meeting all opponents, will be treated as non-contestants and their scores be cancelled. This ruling may have the effect of changing the standing of several participants.

The chess tournament has passed the mark of 450 games, the latest rounds resulting as follows: Richardson 1, Hanna 0, Vienna; Holt 1, McMurray 0, Bishop's; McCallum 2, Lee 0, Knight; Lennan 1, Steckinger 0, Bishop; Lennan 2, Bates 0, Bishop; Darling 2, Mylrea 0, Bishop; Lennan 1, Richardson 1, Vienna; Carr 2, Perry 0, Bishop; Lennan 2, Perry 0, Bishop; Barnett 2, Bates 0, Bishop; Holt 2, McMurray 0, Knight; Barnett 2, Perry 0, Knight; Richardson 1, Perry 0, Knight.



DOUBLES UP ON HIS SALARY.

Mathewson May Lay Off in the Dog Days—Connie Mack's Way of Doing Business—Taylor's Scheme for Holding Down the Coachers.

If Mathewson receives $12,000 in vaudeville in winter telling how he manages to earn $8000 in the summer playing ball, it would strike the average fan that he might rest in the dog days and give some of the young pitchers a chance. It beats all what some fellows fall into.

If Catcher Larry McLean would throw away his beer glasses instead of his shin guards, as he threatens to do this year, he might not get as many knocks, but he would stay longer in baseball to get them.

A St. Louis critic declares that neither Cincinnati, Brooklyn or Philadelphia has any brains in the infield. Considering where the St. Louis teams finished last year it might be remarked that St. Louis does not seem to have any in any locality that one can think of, if you have but one guess.

Mister Connie Mack murmurs with a simper that no manager can take Harry Davis away from the Athletics, or Bender, either, and that when they get ready to quit they will be given the choice of selecting the team they care to go to. Fine! This is the kind of stuff that makes the flowers sit up and take notice in the springtime.

The American League magnates now give Ban Johnson something like $25,000 to run their shebang and propose now to hand him one-ninth of the profits of each club in addition. What for? Some of that easy money might better be spent to provide each club with a movable jag cure house or in leveling off the ground along the third-base line, so three-fourths of the foul bunts would not roll fair. Ban is probably wise enough to soak that good stuff away for one of these days some of those maggots will get onto themselves and when Ban goes out in the morning to watch the goose lay his golden egg, he will discover nothing but an electric light bulb in the nest.

Judging from past performances the principal business before the National League meeting in New York will be to open up a new carload of wine and to trade off whole ball teams for a (ick) match. Frank Chance went to a league meeting in New York once and all that any of the fellows there ever thought of doing was to try and keep sober. And none of them could for days, so Chance says.

Frank Hemphill, an outfielder for the Los Angeles team years ago, is now a free agent, and wants to play with the Minneapolis team.

President John Taylor of the Red Sox has a scheme to move the coacher's box back so many feet so that the coachers cannot bother the pitchers. A better way would be to enforce the rule that is supposed to prevent a coacher from talking to any player in the field except a base runner and then only in words of encouragement. If one-fourth of the rules were enforced, the game would be ten times as good as it is now.

The Spokane team of the Northwest League has signed three full-blooded Indians for this season.

The Eastern League and the American Association are to have eight umpires this season for the double umpire system. Yet the Coast League, which is also in Class A, can afford but three. Still, some persons talk about equality.

The Chicago Cubs will go into training quarters this spring with no less than sixteen pitchers, and New York will start with fourteen.

The winter league will about wind up its long season with the games to be played this week. Some very good ball has been seen by the fans while the players have picked up a little loose change and have not apparently injured themselves in any way for the regular spring practice, that will begin in less than two weeks for the Coast League.

Ping Bodie is doing light training at Vallejo in preparation for his trial with the White Sox. He will probably go East next week, and some of his enemies are beginning to bet that he will be back in some minor league club in two months. Same here. Ping can souse 'em if you put them where he wants them, but few of the pitchers in the big leagues practice that much. They generally throw them where you do not fancy them.

The Detroit Americans have signed a five-year lease of the grounds at Monroe, La. There is just about as much sense to this as there would be in paying your house rent five years in advance. Still, as long as the big clubs have the money to spend they can do as they please with it.

Hugh Jennings seems to think that he has picked up a prize in Pitcher Lively of the Oakland team, but fancies that he will have a time in handling him, for Lively is a peculiar fellow.

Work on the new Los Angeles baseball park grounds is progressing rapidly and when completed will be the finest in the West. The grounds and grandstand will be ready for the opening game of the Coast League season.

W. D. Newerf, of the Newerf Rubber Company, is another dealer who expects to be in San Francisco on Washington's Birthday. He will leave Chicago tonight for the Bay City and remain several days before returning to Los Angeles.

JORDAN IS WINNER.

Defeats Drouillard in First Ten Games of Coast Championship Checker Match.

The match at checkers between Alfred Jordan, champion of England, and Joseph A. Drouillard, western champion, for twenty-four games and a purse of $100, which was commenced in San Francisco last Monday, caused the draught enthusiasts of the Bay City to throw up their hands after the first day, when Jordan won two and drew two of the four games scheduled for that day, these being in openings wherein it was thought Drouillard had his best chances.

After two more draws by Jordan, one of the disappointed San Francisco experts plaintively remarked: "We are wondering what will happen to Drouillard when some of the difficult openings come out of the throw."

Jordan won three and drew seven out of the first ten games, and the local men gave up hope of Drouillard securing a single tally.

It is said that Preston Ketchum, who ranks next to Drouillard among the Coast experts, may play Jordan a match of twelve games at the conclusion of the present match. Many of Ketchum's Angeleno friends predict that he will make quite as good a showing against the Englishman as has Drouillard.

AN article in The Times Magazine the coming Sunday will describe the beneficent work the United States government is doing in the way of extending "first aid" to injured miners.

TRACK DESERTED AT EMERYVILLE.

Many Carloads of Horses Shipped to Juarez.

Several Hundred More Nags Remain in Stables.

Auctioneers Do Big Business Before the Get-away.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] After three months of excitement and activity at Emeryville, the track became as quiet and deserted today as an abandoned mining town. Only the horsemen who planned an early get-away visited the course at all, and the gloom which prevailed was as thick as an ocean fog.

Hardly a horse was taken from a stall and it was evident the final closing down of the racing game in California was being deeply felt by the men who follow the thoroughbreds.

Just what will become of eight or nine hundred horses quartered about Emeryville is a problem which the owners are working out. Today the first two carloads which will be taken to Juarez were shipped and several more will likely follow before the week ends. The horsemen who had some success at the meeting will remain at Emeryville and then set out on the inter-mountain circuit in the summer.

A few stables will be shipped to the East, but the one and two-horse stables will have a hard row to hoe. There will be any number of men now in the business who will have to try their fortunes in other lines. Their horses will be put up at auction and it is not unlikely that some thoroughbreds that have been sporting colors at the races will find themselves getting down to the practical business of drawing carts.

Already James E. Magrahe, the auctioneer, has a list of some thirty thoroughbreds which will be put up for sale in the paddock at Emeryville Saturday afternoon. Walter Jennings will have a few to sell as will Logan Denny and other well-known turfmen. A number of two-year-olds will also change hands. Some fast horses will likely go at bargains, for horsemen want to get their racers off their hands at any price.

The horses shipped to Juarez today were Andy Blakeley's Pluvius, Summertime, Rinda, Cool Spring, Jest, Ossabar and two others; B. Mitchell's Domithilda, Sleepland, Twickenhau and two others; Clarence Waterhouse's Eddiedale and Maxdice; E. Soule's Grace G. and Beatrice Soule, and Weaver and Co.'s Markie M., Prestolite, C. H. Patten, Joe Moser and two others. Andy Blakeley secured Ossabar again after having her claimed from him in a selling race last week.

COMING TO REST.

A large contingent will head for Los Angeles to rest up for a couple of months. Early Wright with ten head, including the consistent Arasee, Ayame and Palo Alto, will get under way tomorrow, and Henderson and Hogan will follow with their large string, including Winning Widow, Molesey, Frank G. Hogan and Red Klaw. George Durker is going to take Rosevale and Hooray to his place in Los Angeles and remain until the bush meetings open.

W. P. Maxwell will ship the large string he has at the track to the Oakwood Stock Farm tomorrow. All horses at the ranch will be turned out until racing prospects look brighter. No attempt will be made next season to train such well-known racers as Rey Hindoo, Rey, Florence S., and Directello. Maxwell intends to take a trip up in the mountains near Denver.

Barney Schreiber has notified Dave Henry, his trainer at Emeryville, that he will be here Saturday and will decide what he will do with the horses he has at Emeryville. There are seventeen head and Barney is expected to ship them back to his farm at Woodlands. The German turfman has been taking things easy this winter at his place near St. Louis.

The jockeys will scatter to all parts. Glass, E. Martin, Selden, Mentry and a number of others will go to Juarez. Archibald is expected to remain at his home in Oakland until April, when he goes East to ride for R. F. Carman. Carroll Shilling has made no definite plans other than his intention to ride for Sam Hildreth this summer, and he may go to Juarez for a few weeks.

Moore Johnson and Logan Denny will ship their horses to the Jacksonville meeting next Monday. Johnson has Raleigh P. D., and J. H. Barr and Denny has Bambro, Responseful, Meltondale, Prosper and four or five others.

BACK TO GOTHAM.

Gene Moyne has disposed of Arthur Rouse, Lady M. M. and Ammo and will take Chester Krum and six others back to New York the first of March in a car with Capt. E. B. Cassatt's string of five.

George Strate intends to retire from the turf for a couple of months and when the bush meetings open he expects to get together another string. Strate had the misfortune this winter to lose Redeem, which dropped dead a couple of months ago.

Likely Dieudonne and the other horses in the Raisin City stable will be shipped to Fresno to be turned out. Trainer Tom Owen resides in Fresno and will look after the crack sprinters.

Charley Casey plans to rest up his string of five until the game starts in the East. He has a new crack colt in Crackerbox, who was not started at Emeryville because of sickness. Dutch Rock and Bell Cliff prove fairly good performers for Casey. George Bassett will ship No Quarter, Swagerlator and his string to Salt Lake.

Walter Heath will transfer the Clark string to San Mateo and within a week or two will leave for Juarez with Cluny and a couple of others. He will take his promising lightweight rider, "Whitey" Selden, to the Mexican meet.

George Van Gordon sent Welakao, Velsini, Miss Roberts and Florence Roberts to his farm today. Butch Fisher, Gordon's trainer, is getting together a string to campaign around the Jungles this summer.

Butch Covington will remain at Emeryville until the first of the month and will then take Jim Gaffney, Eddie Graney and the rest of his string to either Juarez or some eastern meet.

AERO MOTOR PRIZE.

WAVES SPLINTER HIS PROPELLER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The force of a wave in the Spanish Bight in contact with the propeller of Glenn Curtiss's hydroplane splintered the blade.

Curtiss was landing on the water after a flight over the bay. While in the air he encountered a strong puff of wind which caused him suddenly to seek the water. A huge wave hit the propeller before he had time to shut off his engine. He released the power and skidded the machine until it came to a stop.

Harkness, Robertson and the army officers on shore, thinking Curtiss in danger, hurried a row boat to the assistance of the daring aviator. Curtiss was as cool as though nothing had happened.

CHANGES STYLE.

Interest in the McLoughlin-Bundy match is keen. Bundy plays an entirely different game than his northern rival. The Los Angeles crack impresses one with the apparent ease and action which never fails to thrill the oncuracy of his strokes, and the execution which never fails to thrill the onlooker. Bundy's back-hand stroke is a good one, and while he appears slow on the courts in comparison with some of the other players, he covers considerable territory without any effort. He sometimes gives one the impression that he is not trying, but Bundy never lets a point get away from him if he can help it. He uses good judgment at all times and never "loses his head." His service is most deceptive and has a puzzling "break" to it that often wins. His playing is "so different" from anybody else and he lets his opponent beat himself if possible.

McLoughlin's service is without doubt his greatest asset. He has a bewildering assortment of serves, any one of them a winner in itself. His strokes are almost perfectly conceived and executed. He is never in a hurry to win a point, but never wastes a moment when the time comes to score. He plays either a net or back court game, and wins from either with almost equal certainty. He does not waste his strength in going after a ball he is not reasonably sure of getting, and never tries a hazardous shot when a safe one would win just as well.

Bundy and McLoughlin each have a "leg" on the beautiful challenge cup, and the "rubber" should be a sizzling match.

BOXING LEGALIZED BY WASHINGTON.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) Feb. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Although several speakers denounced the proceedings as a "shame and disgrace to the State," the House of Representatives at Olympia today refused to postpone indefinitely the Wray bill legalizing ten-round boxing contests in either private or incorporated clubs, where no decision is given. The vote was 51 to 35 and the bill went to third reading after the House had voted down a number of amendments.

The bill came up on second reading with a favorable majority. Representatives Wright moved to amend by permitting the contests if the gloves weighed twelve ounces, instead of six ounces, as specified in the bill. His amendment created a laugh.

The bill is expected to pass both houses.

MOREK TAKES DIVE.

Inexperienced Aviator Nearly Loses Life When His Machine Falls Into the Hudson.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—Charles F. Morek, a professional though comparatively inexperienced aviator, was forced to dive into the Hudson River with an aeroplane today while trying to fly from a point near the New Jersey Palisades to Central Park on Manhattan Island. He narrowly escaped with his life.

The motor stopped when Morek was nearly a thousand feet above the river and about 100 yards from the Jersey short. Within sight of thousands he plunged to the river.

In descending his aeroplane sideswiped the mast of a schooner and sank like a stone, carrying Morek nearly to the bottom before he released himself. Morek weighs 204 pounds. Although hindered by two pairs of heavy trousers and a sweater, he came to the surface and kept him-

Tl farmers, of course, are to be paid or the colts so pressed into the army.
Tony one not familiar with military conditions, it may seem that the government is not getting much out of the engagement; but the fact is, the government would be well repaid if it could assured of finding suitable horses for the cavalry when the need occurs. Sometimes the situation becomes desperate.
Until they can get horse racing on a bett basis than at present, they could n do anything better with the great illions than to use them for the cration of a new type of cavalry horse.

The Buont Dinner.

It is sincerely to be hoped that August Belmont and his sporting dinner will come to some good end.
If anrganization is actually perfected, planned, to include the hotel and heater men and polo players, as well s the racing men, the power of the ague would be something stupendous. There would be a check upon e passage of repressive laws against sport.
Waiping sports is becoming almost a natnal pastime. Every old reforme who can't stir things up with anything else, takes a whack at the near sport at hand.
We must confess, however, to a wary kepticism regarding this projected ague for defense.
We have seen so many, many of these defensive leagues ooze out so tame.

Tommy's Protege.

Tommy Burns has discovered another protege to lick Jack Johnson. Tommy is one of our best little discoverers. Tommy would do it himself only he has a bad knee . . . maybe.
Ever since Tommy got a whack with a a crosse stick on the knee pan, he has been a very busy little citizen.
He says that a doctor has examined it and found it to be a perfectly good sprain; but whether or not he pronounced the disease to be Jamlangforditas, is not known.
At any rate, Tommy must have inwardly fallen upon the neck of the brute who whaled his handsome limb; because Tham was begin to ask some most embarrassing questions.

Oh Mercy No!

No Helene, we haven't really anything against Mr. T. Burns, but it is the invariable sporting custom to thump Tommy on every occasion and this seems to be as good an occasion as any other.
It is a fact that Tommy would have been whipped by Sam Langford, but it would have been the greatest fight ever pulled off inside of a square of ropes.
Tom McCarey once said he inclined to the belief that Tommy could have flattened Sam out; but Tom, at that time, was thinking about getting the match; and Uncle Tom is a business man.

Harry Lord is planning another stunt. He does not know just what it will be, but it is certain to be worth trying and he will make good. Harry is as reckless as Roger Stearns and that is going some.

AVIATORS' LICENSES.

Aero Club of America Provides for American Aeroplane Operators. Rules Went Into Effect Yesterday.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—The Aero Club of America announces that the new condition for the granting of aviators' licenses, adopted by the International Aeronautic Federation, will be in effect in this country after today. The new rules prescribe that applicants must pass three tests, as follows:
Two distance tests, each consisting in covering, without touching ground, a closed circuit not less than five kilometers in length.
An altitude test, consisting in rising to a minimum height of fifty meters above the starting point.
The course for the license test shall be marked by two posts 500 meters apart, and after each turn around a post the aviator must change his direction, so as to encircle the opposite post from the other side. The circuit will thus consist of an uninterrupted series of figure eights.
For each of the tests, the landing shall be made at the point previously designated, by stopping the motor not later than at the time when the machine touches the ground.

GOSSIP ALONG GASOLINE ROW.

H. O. Harrison will stay another day. He sold a handsome Peerless limousine and a Peerless touring car yesterday and canceled all dates to leave for the East the latter part of the week. He will go to the Peerless factory after having injected a new elixir of life into the local industry.

R. M. Pittman, agent for the Cameron car at Fullerton, expects to unload a carload the first of the week. He is planning to open a large agency in Los Angeles and expects to ship three carloads of machines here within the next sixty days.

F. O. Nelson, manager for the Diamond Rubber Company, has received a telegram from the factory announcing the tire count at the Chicago Automobile Show. More than 100 pleasure cars, shown by forty-five different manufacturers were equipped with Diamond tires.

P. H. Greer is looking for an agent in San Diego who can handle the Mitchell cars in the way he likes them to be taken care of. The Greer-Robbins is selling machines in numbers again this year and may smash their record of last season.

W. J. Burt has orders for a number of Auburn cars and is doing well at the Tenth and Main streets headquarters. The Auburn is classier than ever this year.

Leon T. Shettler is planning a trip to San Francisco for the Panama-Pacific road race, but will not drive overland. He says the roads are altogether too muddy for him to undertake to try to send a car through them.

J. Aleck Sloan, advance agent for Barney Oldfield, is in Canada arranging dates for the speed king. After Barney is through with his thrills in Mexico he wants to go to a colder country and turn a few tricks.

Lewis Schwaebe is coming home from San Diego today. Business looked so good to the Premier man that he decided to remain a week.

The Perkins Improved Glass Front Company has removed to the corner of Pico and Flower streets. There is every facility for placing the glass fronts on motor cars at that place and the location appears to be ideal for business.

Harris Hanshue is flying around the roads of the Panama-Pacific race course. He has the Apperson tuned to the minute and is doped as a probable winner. Hanshue is back into form again and is ready for the race of his career.

Teddy Tetzlaff is the favorite in the Panama-Pacific road race. The reason is that he is driving the same Lozier car that won the Santa Monica road race. Teddy's car is as fast as ever and he may win the big event.

While Norman W. Church, Coast representative for the Stoddard-Dayton, does not enter his Stoddards in road races he plans to take in the Portola event on Washington's Birthday. He likes a good contest and will occupy a box with a number of friends.

Eddie Helm returned from San Diego yesterday. He is interested in motor fire trucks and while in the southern city made several demonstrations which proved how good the trucks are.

Stanley Smith took the corner of Eleventh and Olive streets yesterday in an Ohio electric at twenty-two miles an hour. He went around the curve on two wheels and did not bat an eye.

Bert Davis is taking charge of affairs at the Big Four Auto Company. He is selling Regal cars and expects to turn out a number of machines this season.

F. W. Force landed a Thomas-Flyer sale yesterday. He has recognized the business and is doing remarkably well. William Lloyd has charge of the re-

TROUBLE BREWING FOR CHASE IN CAMP OF THE HIGHLANDERS.

HAL CHASE is going to have his troubles as manager of the New York American League team this year, and ball players all over the country are watching his career, for by that mysterious telepathy which disseminates news of inside baseball throughout the country, the players wintering in Los Angeles know there is something wrong and that there will be trouble at the first opportunity.
Although Chase was vindicated of charges brought by former Manager Stallings that he was trying to disrupt the team, many persons believe—and among them are quite a few ball players—that Chase was a troublesome spirit and that he really did work the ropes to oust his manager and get into his place.
Chase is popular as a ball player, but behind the scenes—it is said—he is a very nasty-tempered youth and does not get along with many of the players. Like all those gifted above most of their fellows, Chase is high strung and cannot always bear with patience the miscomings of those with whom he associates. As a result he makes enemies.
The great first baseman has a hard task before him this season, for the fans in New York will listen to no excuses if he does not make good. Stallings has nearly always had a winner, and he did well with his Highlanders last year, until the Chase trouble broke out, and he is popular with a great many.
As one of his first moves Chase desires to get rid of Third Baseman Austin and Utility Man Laporte, both of whom are favorites in the metropolis—Austin because of his fine fielding and base running, and Laporte because he "hits them a mile." Consequently he has stirred up a storm, yet Chase says that he must get rid of these men if he expects to maintain peace, for they were against him in favor of Stallings and would only cause trouble if retained.
The one big thing about a ball team which makes for success—outside of actual playing ability—is harmony, which is the first essence of team work. For years Cleveland had a great ball team, but failed to finish better than second under the Frenchman, Lajoie, simply because the manager did not cement his men into a harmonizing whole. His team was full of stars, but they played as individuals, not as a team.
Manager Jennings, with the exception of Cobb, had his Tigers working well together, but the best machine in the business is that developed by Connie Mack this last season. The great success of the Cubs has been its machine-like attack at the bat, and this is largely due to Manager Chance's ability to map out the daily campaigns.
Without the harmony that exists in team work and congenial association, there is little chance for a ball team to win a pennant.

He Deserves It.

ALTIZER'S LUCKY HOME RUN DRIVES THREE ACROSS PLATE.

DAVE ALTIZER, one of the homeliest men in the big leagues, is also one of the best-liked men in the profession, and has a heart that makes up for all his deficiencies of beauty.
Dave made a great record with the Minneapolis team last year and did so well that the Cincinnati Reds secured him to play shortstop this season. On the strength of this good fortune, Altizer married a beautiful Chicago girl last fall after the season closed and came to California to pass the winter.
But Altizer did not marry until he had made provision for his parents so that they will not want for the necessities through their lives. He purchased a homestead at Pomona and saw to it that his folks were settled; then he took unto himself his bride.
It was quite a romance, too. While playing with the Chicago White Sox a year ago this last season, Altizer was greatly admired by a modest business man of Chicago, who made his acquaintance and invited the ball player home to dinner. The business man's pretty daughter was present.
Altizer came; he saw, and was conquered.
But not until he had seen his parents safely settled did Dave look after his own happiness, and in this he was abetted by his fiancee, who wanted her future husband to be free to look after his own fortunes and to see that his loved ones were cared for.
Altizer occasionally visits baseball centers downtown and once in awhile plays pool with some of the other boys. Yesterday he engaged in a series of games with Oscar Jones and broke even.
Dave was once a soldier and served in the Philippines.

COOKING schools are being conducted by the government for the benefit of soldiers. The Times Magazine the coming Sunday will tell about them.

KAVANAGH IS FROM JOPLIN.

Henceforth that Wily Chorus Puts Nothing Over.

Sent to Hamburger's With Credit to His Sorrow.

They Forgot the Limit and Bought Trousseaus.

A superintendent's lapse of memory played havoc with an opera company's credit yesterday, brought tears to the eyes of a score of chorus girls and sent Manager Kavanagh of the Grand Operahouse into a fit of near heart failure.

It happened in the Hamburger store. Some new costumes were needed for the eighth week of "The Campus," which will begin Sunday, and Manager Kavanagh telephoned the big Broadway house, leaving word with the superintendent that the girls were to be accommodated.

"But," added the astute little Mr. Kavanagh, "put a $25 limit on each girl. That will get them the few extra articles they need."

And in truth it would, for there were no whole costumes to purchase, only a broken feather to replace here, a torn fragment of lace to make good there, and other trifles of hats and slippers and silk stockings.

The superintendent conveyed the message to the department managers—and forgot about the limit.

The facts in the case quickly overcame Mr. Kavanagh when the freight began to arrive on the stage of the Grand Operahouse.

There was a box for Birdie Wilde that might have contained a piano. There were willow plumes fit for a queen, a gorgeous new suit, three pairs of new shoes, and a hat like a Brobdignagian mushroom.

Eva Olivetti went in for laces and jewelry. There was a bolt of real French convent lace and some soft Irish fabric that was worth its weight in gold. Mr. Kavanagh looked at Olivetti's statement and swallowed his cigarette.

Dixie Blair, who is tall and stately, got a hat which makes her look like nothing more than a big doll beneath it.

Draxy Harlan bought an opera coat—and what in the world she would do with an opera coat in "The Campus" is past finding out.

And so it went down the line, with each one of the little princesses spending a king's ransom for clothes she might possibly perhaps need two or three years from now.

When the vans and trucks had ceased to arrive, Mr. Kavanagh dumped the precious assortment back into their respective boxes with more indignant haste than clerk-like discretion.

"Back to Hamburger's for all of it," he said, and back it went.

Last night he marshaled the girls on the stage before the first act.

"We will go down to Hamburger's tomorrow," said he, "and I will be the arbiter of your necessities. We won't take a chance on a bill coming up to me, nor I won't take your word for what you're going to get. Henceforth, when any of my chorus goes shopping, I'm from Joplin."

And the girls wept.

Occidental Track Team to Tackle Pomona Sagebrushers on Cinder path Saturday.

The track team of Occidental College finished its training yesterday afternoon, and will rest until Saturday afternoon, when it goes to Claremont to meet the track squad of Pomona College in the first intercollegiate dual meet of the season.

The Tiger athletes are all in good shape. They have been training faithfully for this meet. They have no particular stars but a good number of men are entered in all the events. It is expected that they will be able to take enough second and third places to make the "Sagebrushers" hustle to beat them.

Capt. Bradbeer has been rounding into good form during the last week. He had a slump in the early part of the season on account of sickness but he is fully recovered, and while not running up to his old form, he should be able to do some good work. Other members of the Tiger squad who are likely point winners are Baer and McDonald in the sprints. Schoonover and Annin have been showing up good in the distances.

As this is the first time that college teams have lined up together this season, the result of the meet is of interest as it will show the strength of the two schools as to conference possibilities. The meet is to begin at 2 o'clock. A special train is to be run.

Occidental entries:

The 100 yard dash: Baer, McDonald, Bradbeer, Yakeley.

The 220 yard dash: Baer, McDonald.

The 440 yard dash: Bradbeer, Yakeley.

The 880 yard run: Schoonover, McGee, Gillis, Culp.

Mile run: Annin, Gobar, Percival.

Two mile run: Richardson, W. Brier, Bickford, Creighton.

220 yard hurdles: Bradbeer, Dill, Seay.

The 120 yard hurdles: Dill, Douglas, Wieman.

Shot put: Wieman, Smart, Brier.

Hammer throw: McNary, Smart, Brier, Erenfeldt.

Discus throw: McNary, Wieman, Erenfeldt, Smart.

Pole vault: Seay, Culp.

High jump Baer, Blee, Wieman.

Broad jump: Dill, Seay, McDonald.

Mile relay: Bradbeer, Dill, Schoonover, Yakeley, Gillis, McGee.

Puzzled.

WHICH BROTHER DO I LOVE? HOW DO I KNOW? SAYS GERTIE.

Gertie DeMilt,

who is in the position of being "happy with either, when t'other dear charmer's away." Miss DeMilt is an Orpheum feature, travels with her mother, and is chronically engaged to both of the young men in her act.

IF YOU WERE a pretty girl, and two brothers were desperately in love with you, would you carry those same two brothers around over the country with you for three years—with mama to chaperone it all—so you might decide between them?

Does "absence make the heart grow fonder," or is propinquity the secret of falling in love?

Will some one kindly tell little Gertie deMilt, so she may know what to do about it?

Gertie deMilt is one of the team of Kennedy, deMilt and Kennedy, now at the Orpheum, and Harold and Eddie Kennedy are the other two. Harold and Eddie are brothers, and each is desperately in love with Gertie. She coyly admits that she loves one of them.

"But for the life of me," she adds, "I cannot tell which one."

The boys knew Gertie when all were youngsters, before any of them had an idea of going on the stage. The boys first broke into the business, as a dance team, with George Primrose, the minstrel man. After he gave up his act, they started out alone. But before starting, each proposed to Gertie, insisting that the world was a barren waste without her.

"Come and wed me," said Harold, "and you shall travel with me, and have the best kind of time."

"Wed me," said Eddie, "and we shall journey together, not only through life but all over the Orpheum circuit."

"I love you both, and I love travel, but I can't marry you both, for that doesn't go outside of Salt Lake. So I think I will travel with you, anyhow—Mama and I—and perhaps then I may be able to decide between two such fascinating boys, and marry one of you. I'd love to have one of you for a brother-in-law—but I don't know which one!" Thus said Gertie.

So they got up a "three-act," these two boy-lovers and the girl who can not decide, and they are now traveling together, and each boy is paying assiduous court to the fair Gertie, under mama's chaperonage, and as Harold murmurs sweet nothings in her shell-like ear, Eddie "cotses" loud and deep, and when Eddie is declaiming "la grande passion" in accents mild, Harold is off in a corner biting his nails and meditating revenge. And over all three, mama keeps a close and matronly watch.

The boys have a tentative agreement that their differences shall never be exploited in front of Gertie; so on the surface all is harmony. But they have the same dressing room, Eddie and Harold, and deep mutterings and angry growls come from it at frequent intervals.

Once Harold had a black eye—that was in Seattle—and he said he fell off a ferry boat; and once Eddie carried his arm in a sling, and he said he had run into a waterspout in the dark of Oakland, but no one believes either; no one, that is, except Gertie, and for publication, Gertie's mama. Yet, on the surface the brothers are good friends, and the joint courtship goes on apace.

But Gertie is still puzzled as to which one of the Kennedy family she wants. Possibly, feminine-like, she will end by taking neither; mama thinks so. But that is neither here nor there; just now, everyone about the Orpheum is engaged in watching a very interesting double-barreled courtship, and as the races are off, bets are freely made as to whether Harold or Eddie is first in the running.

Film Sensation.

WILLIE BOY INDIAN TRAGEDY STAGED BY HOBART BOSWORTH.

THE sensation of the motion-picture world hereabouts is Hobart Bosworth's film-drama based upon the adventures of the bad Indian, Willie Boy, who terrorized a county last year, was pursued by a small army of deputies and typewriter-wearing newspaper men, and finally perished like a dog, after sending one or more innocent persons to death before him.

When the motion-picture folks captured Bosworth for reasons of health one of the foremost legitimate actors in the United States found it imperative to get out-of-doors and stay out-of-doors—they had a man who knew not only the complete technique of acting, but who as well brought the limitless resources of education and artistic imagination to bear upon his work.

So Bosworth's big picture of Willie Boy, conceived and executed by himself, with the assistance of many others, has a legitimate and very possible story, involving not only the traditional crse of the red man, strong drink, but likewise something which statisticians and governmental authorities are beginning to see—that the educated Indian is apt to become a sort of Pariah, strange and uncouth to his own aboriginal kinsmen, and at the same time not a welcome being in the intimate company of white men and women.

The picture shows Bosworth as a lusty Indian youth, selected by government agents for a course of training at Sherman. He trains at Sherman, and the picture shows many phases of Sherman academic life, in which probably the full student body of this government college takes active part.

The educated Indian returns home, but upon endeavoring to supplant a devil-dance with modern medicine, in a case of sickness, is ostracised by his tribe.

Then he goes to the white people, and is met with a cool reception.

He learns the truth. He is now in possession of a full veneer of civilization, and as a result, nobody wants him.

In despair, he broods over his estate of loneliness until too convivial companions get him to drinking to forget it. He drinks more and more. In a moment of alcoholic fury he commits a murder.

Then the alien is a declared fugitive and outlaw, and the scene shifts to the actual desert, while the film from this point shows with remarkable realism all the tricks used by savage men to outwit their purzuers.

Bosworth has avoided doing any of the foolish things that the average kid-glove actor, just playing a savage, would undertake. He seems to have learned intimately the redskin tricks, whose film impersonation of Willie Boy, the bad Indian who went to a gory and spectacular finish in the San Bernardino desert last summer, is the motion-picture sensation of the hour.

Hobart Bosworth,

U. S. C. AND L. A. IN COMPETITION.

HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES ARE EAGER FOR FRAY.

After Having Defeated Occidental They Propose to Treat Cromwell's Men in Like Manner—Puritans Have Several Dark Horses Under Cover.

One of the biggest track meets of the present season is to be on Bovard field next Saturday when the Los Angeles High School team, which deefated Occidental College 70½ to 43½ two weeks ago, will meet the U.S.C. runners.

Coaches Dean Cromwell and Ralph Noble have determined to pull off the meet regardless of rain. Both teams have been slow in getting into form this year because of postponed meets and it was agreed to have the athletes compete under any conditions.

Los Angeles High School probably has the strongest interscholastic aggregation in the South this year. The prep boys displayed winning form in their contest against the Occidental College athletes a week ago Saturday.

The University has had no opportunity to get a line on its runners. The star men of last year's team have been very irregular in their training and the new men have had no chance to get into competition except against Burbank Saturday and the rain and heavy track made it impossible to show up to best advantage then.

The U.S.C.-L. A. High contest will furnish the first opportunity to determine the comparative strength of the Tiger and U.S.C. track squads.

The prep boys will have the advantage of six pounds in the weight events. This will practically assure them of two first places. The mile run is to be eliminated entirely. This will also be to the advantage of the hilltop athletes.

Exciting races are expected in several of the events. The 100-yard sprint between the old-time rivals, Waldo Throop and Rubio, will be the feature of the day. Rubio will have the advantage of fall training while Throop has a better speed record to his credit so that the chances are about even.

Martin and Hanson of U.S.C. and Johnson will fight it out for third place in the century. Johnson is running his first year in competition, but he is a speedy youngster.

The 880-yard run between Walton, the varsity half-miler, and "Micky" McClure, the speedy hill-top runner, will furnish plenty of excitement for the crowd. Both boys have fast records and reputations are at stake.

M'CLURE'S TROUBLE.

McClure will have no easy time if he wins from "Ken" Wallace in the 440 race. Wallace has been doing fast time around the oval this spring. "Micky" is conceded this event, but he will have to do the distance in close to 53 seconds to win. Ireland, "the boy with the pretty stride," is granted a third point in the quarter mile.

The points in the hurdles seem pretty well divided. Stine of U.S.C. will have no trouble taking the low sticks and Dawson, from L. A., is likely to take the honors in the high obstacles. Hunter and Olmstead will likely pull second and third placed for the cardinal and gold in this event.

McFie of the High School team should take the high jump with Chaffee and Godby of the varsity running a close second and third. Martin, Coach Cromwell's speedy sprinter, is rumored to be a dark horse in the broad jump. "Len" has a record of over twenty-one feet to his credit and at the present is the only hope of the varsity in this contest. Dawson of High School is good for well over twenty feet, and will likely push Martin close for first.

Richardson and Montgomery at the University will have no trouble in pulling first and second places in the pole vault. In the discus throw McFie, Sheldon and Brown on the High School team will likely take most of the points as Cromwell has not brought out his men in this event.

The meet will be close and it is very likely that the winners will be decided by the relay race. High School has a reputation for fast relay teams and the quartette this year is no exception. Varsity is hardly expected to win this event unless the coach should use Throop in one of the laps. It is not likely that he will do this so early in the season.

Large crowds of rooters will fill the bleachers if the weather is good, as there is much competition between the two schools and both sides are confident of victory.

Sunday—Early Closing for Classified.

In order to properly handle real estate classified advertising, increasing in volume beyond all calculation, patrons will confer a favor by sending in copy for Sunday as

Tom McCarey, boxing impresario, has again gone into the race-horse business after a rest of nearly twenty years, but the chances are that since he has a more or less large bunch of money clasped tightly to his manly bosom, that he will not let the ponies get away with him this time as he did nearly a generation ago.

Long years ago, when Mac was in his salad days, he decided to go into the race-horse business, and did so as best he could. It is whispered that he had some pumpkins of a stable at one time, of the runner kind, and he not only raced them, but bet on them. What little money he made racing he lost betting on them when they did not win and, like many another good man, he woke up one morning with just about enough money left to buy each one of his racers a breakfast before he kissed them good-by.

Then it was that he helped invent the good old saying, "Never again." That doesn't mean anything, for that's what they all say. There has never yet been a race-horse man or a fellow who bet on them who has not worked himself with that old shell game called Never Again.

Thousands of men have stung themselves with that since the world began, but McCarey actually meant it like every one else. At least, he thought he meant it.

Now, what does an unkind fate do but ram that Never Again down his throat far enough to choke him!

He has come into possession of a stable of almost racers without being able to help himself, and the funny thing about it is that he got the nags through the prize-fighting game. He didn't get them on a bet, either, for he has long since quit gambling on such things.

Bill Gaines gave them to him. And who is Bill Gaines? Why, don't you remember that impressive manager of the once-great Battling Johnson, who once floundered around in the local prize rings on various occasions. This is the same Bill and he is the one that broke McCarey's Never Again pledge for him.

It takes a lot of money to manage a prize fighter who can't win a fight, for you have to dress nicely, smoke cigars, put up money for forfeits and pay for training expenses. I just had to have money and when used up what he had on hand he alised that he would have to sacrifice a lot of horses and cows he had, r Bill was a cow and horse farme on a small scale. He had neglecti those dumb beasts in trying to make tling Johnson some kind of a champ and finally he tried to start a dairy conjunction with Powell of the uffali sewer contracting firm of Stanary & Powell.

The cows didn't pay and Bi then thought of his horses and, l norder to get some money from tha, he mortgaged the band, of seven McCarey.

That was the finish of McCay as a Never Again race-horse owne for. In the natural order of things Bill did not redeem the horses an McCarey had to take them. An now the story is done as far as ho Mac again became the owner of a racing stable four months ago.

As a matter of fact, the nags seem to be far above the average, fr all of them are by the famous old sire McKinney. One, a stallion called McKinney Wilkes, is a 6-year-old hat has shown a speed of 2:10. He a brother to a McKinney horse owned by L. J. Christopher of this city. A mare 3 years old has also shown a big burst of speed, and some of the younger horses are promising.

Mac has no stable in town for his horses are not here. They are wintering in Phoenix, Ariz., and are being trained by their late owner, Gaines. He is very confident that several of them will be able to show real class, but, as a matter of fact, a speed of 2:10 is not such a much these days of 2:04 horses on the Grand Circuit.

Mac will not take his racers East for any of the regular stated events, but may send two of the best to some of the tracks in the northern part of the State this summer.

His case is but another illustration of the fact that no man ever says Never Again unless he is mad at himself. Still, at that, he knows all about pari-mutuals, quarter cracks, hobbles, interfering boots and such. He may be able to win a race this year if he starts, for one of his racers did run third in a race at Phoenix last fall and then he was off his feed.

HARKNESS IN HIS ANTOINETTE TO RACE SIMPLEX.

Oscar Werner to Pilot His Ninety Horse Giant — Pie-pan Course Chosen for This Novel Event. Plans to Handle Big Crowd Expected to Be Present to See Stunt.

Harry Harkness, in his Antoinette monoplane, has agreed to race Oscar Werner, in his ninety-horse-power Simplex on the Motordrome. Arrangements were made at San Diego yesterday but the date for the race was not fixed.

The race is to be for $5000 and Harkness is to take the inside of the track. The turns are to be marked and judges will watch to see that the drive the ship at fifty miles an hour around the track.

The pie-pan mile circular track offers advantages which few others courses afford for a match race between the fastest aeroplane and the swiftest automobile. Wold records are held by motor cars on the Motordrome. The fastest mile ever turned was made on the board track when the "Blitzen" Benz was driven Barney Oldfield in 36.22 seconds.

Ralph De Palma, in a Simplex turned a mile on the Motordrome 39 seconds flat in a race. With a track he might have chopped a ond from that time. The agreement, however, is that Werner must the Simplex. The local Simplex is willing to try his hand at a dash.

Walter Hempel yesterday made rangements for the novel race. He is sure that the aeroplane-automobile race will attract a large crowd and will complete his plans for the Spring street, the main arteries of the car system were clogged. The lines on Hill street were blockaded, as well as those on Broadway.

Though the fire burned from the basement straight up through the roof in the center of the building, and made almost ideal conditions for the smoke to be carried away, for some strange reason, the air in the lower rooms was so dense with smoke that several firemen were overcome and had to be rushed to the Receiving Hospital to be resuscitated. Of the twelve persons injured, ten were firemen.

Erwin P. Gates, a contractor and builder living at No. 420 Harvard boulevard, was struck by a fire engine at Washington and Hoover streets as he rode across Hoover street on a motorcycle. He was bruised and cut in many places, but his injuries are not serious. He was given attention in the Receiving Hospital and was then sent to his home.

STRUGGLE IN MANHOLE.

Charles Chodera, an employee of the Home Telephone Company, was nearly drowned when water suddenly poured into the manhole on Third street between Boardway and Hill street, while he was at work splicing the company's cables so that the service would not be crippled by the fire.

Chodera had cut the wires which led into the burning building and was patching the broken ends when he noticed that water was leaking into the pit. He had considerable work ahead, but he realized that it must either be fixed or a big branch of the company's telephones would be put out of commission, so he remained at work while the water rose rapidly inch by inch. The work was completed by the time the water had reached his neck and with not a moment to spare he sprang to the manhole and was lifted out.

Al Hitchcock of San Pedro, who had come to the city to take the examination for fire department chauffeurs, Ed Chapman of Hook and Ladder Co. No. 1, H. C. Leviness and H. J. Griffin, were overcome by smoke. The latter two were also cut by glass on hands and faces.

H. J. Gates of Engine Co. No. 19 and Scott Edwards of Engine Co. No. 4, were struck by the nozzles of two lines of hose and were bruised and cut.

C. Ryan, Engine Co. No. 4, fell from the second to the first floor and was bruised but not seriously hurt.

W. E. Gould of Engine Co. No. 9 was cut on the hands and face by falling glass. J. Gripp of Engine Co. No. 2 was injured in a similar manner. Patrolman Whelan was cut on the arms and neck by fragments of glass.

BASEMENT OVERFLOW.

The fire was under control by 10:30 o'clock. At that time the flames appeared to be confined in the basement of the Staub store and the fire lines were fixed so as to flood the basement while the towers were lowered so that the high-power streams could be directed into the main portion of the store through the transoms. The basement was flooded until the water poured out of the manholes into the gutters in the street.

About 11 o'clock steady flames were noticed inside the north window of the Siegel store, and the hose was directed upon them. Despite the torrents of water, the flames continued. Closer inspection showed that a gas main had broken and that the gas was blazing.

No shut-off gate had been placed in the main leading into the building. It was necessary for the gas company to send a crew of men to excavate in the street. The flow was then shut off in front of the store and the flames in the building, which were due to the gas were extinguished.

When the fire was at its worst a crowd of young hoodlums created a disturbance at the line on Third street east of Broadway. The police officers were ordered to move the crowd back so as to allow more room for fire apparatus. It was then that the boys grasped the opportunity to annoy the officers. As soon as one part of the crowd had been moved back they would rush the line forward again elsewhere.

James Wilson, 20 years old, was arrested, taken to Central Police Station, and severely censured, and was then released. The disturbance ceased instantly when Wilson was arrested.

The water forced under high pressure into the structure from the water towers worked its way through the rear wall and into the building of the Columbia Trust Company. From the upper floors it leaked through and dripped into the Oil & Metals Bank which occupies the ground floor. The damage done by the water in this building was estimated at $1000. The damage by smoke was small.

At 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, the fire had been extinguished, but two engines were ordered to remain and to continue to flood the building to prevent any new outbreak. The fire-lines were then removed. Ropes were stretched along the curbs on both sides of the streets and patrolmen stationed to keep the immense crowds moving.

LORIMER'S SEAT.

If the committee which applied the generous and charitable coat of whitewash to Senator Lorimer is not blushing for itself, then its friends are blushing for it. The denunciations of the methods by which Senator Lorimer gained his seat have been almost as much of a reflection on the Senators who have stood up for him as they were of Lorimer himself. And all the time there was not a word against Lorimer's private life, and several testimonials as to his happy family relations. Nevertheless, the public is in no mood to condone such sins as those by which Lorimer profited, and, as Senator Root justly and sapiently remarked, it would be well for the Senate to take that fact to heart.

An examination will be held for assistant plant pathologist (male) on March 15, 1911, to secure eligibles to fill a vacancy in the Bureau of Plant Industry, at an entrance salary of from $1,00 to $1800 per year. The applicant must be 23 years of age, and under 40, and must be skilled in sugar-beet work, as it is intended to assign the person appointed to work in breeding beets. The subjects of the examination are: General education and training, training and experience in plant breeding and plant pathology, and a thesis of not less than 1000 words on plant breeding or plant pathology on which the applicant has done original investigation. Persons who may wish to take this examination should apply to the Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., for further information.

IT MEANS ERADICATION.

That Is the Declaration of President of Pacific Coast Lumbermen's Association Regarding Reciprocity.

"The reciprocity pact between the United States and Canada on lumber means just one thing for the small dealers and manufacturers of Washington and Oregon, and that is eradication," declared E. G. Griggs, president of the Pacific Coast Lumbermen's Association, president of the Tacoma Chamber of Commerce and president of the St. Paul & Tacoma Lumber Company, who with his family arrived at the Alexandria several days ago to remain here two months.

"As soon as the reciprocity treaty goes into effect, it will throw open the United States territory to sixteen large mills in the British Columbia district alone. There has been fierce competition between the mill men, the lumber producers and wood manufacturers of Washington and Oregon in the past. Profits have been cut until all of the producers are working on a very tight percentage. A number of them will soon stop working, because their percentage has been taken away."

"One thing the reciprocity will do and that is conserve the remaining timber in the northwest of this country. It will be worked out much more slowly and a major portion of it held until the increased value of lumber will make it really a profitable investment to cut. A large part of the timber on the Canadian side of the line is owned by lumber people of the Middle West who were the chief supporters and instigators of the reciprocity pact. They can at once go to cutting their timber on that side of the line and because of the low prices for which it was purchased will be able to clear immediate profits.

"The mills of the Northwest were all in favor of reciprocity on the unfinished timber, which would have allowed its working to a profit in this country, but with the agreement as it stands at present all such possibilities have been cut away."

According to Griggs the reciprocity will not mean cheaper lumber to the consumer. "The Canadian timber owners, or those of this country who have timber across the line will raise the price of their timber to conform almost with that of the United States owners. The middlemen will get the remainder of the profit and the ordinary house builder will pay just as much for his shingles, his lath and siding, with all the other parts necessary."

When asked why all of the people come from the fair climate of Oregon and Washington to California, Griggs counterquestioned with why New Yorkers go to Florida. "Furthermore we love California, look upon it as the playground of the Pacific Coast and are among the best boosters Southern California has in the entire country. What we need is more harmony between the Pacific Coast cities, a pull together and we can have anything we need in the way of government policies in the next ten years."

BEST HURRY, SAYS COLLECTOR.

Law Provides Severe Penalties for Neglect to File Corporation Returns Based on Net Incomes.

Many corporations in this district are likely to be severely punished unless the officers make haste to comply with the Federal statutes which require them to make returns annually of their net incomes. Collector of Internal Revenue Parker has 7000 corporations to look after and compel to keep within the law. Up to date only 1222 have filed the necessary returns. The period for making the reports ends in twelve days.

It is likely that the officials of many corporations are relying on the provision of the law which gives the Collector authority to grant extensions not to exceed thirty days. As last year was the first time the system was put in vogue, the Federal authorities were loath to be technical and extensions were easily procured.

The government officers are taking a different attitude this year. They take the view that the corporations have had an opportunity to become thoroughly familiar with the system and that the law should be strictly complied with. Collector Parker has been instructed that no extensions shall be granted except in extraordinary cases. No matter what the excuse may be, the applications for more time must be filed within the next twelve days.

If the officials of any corporations made false returns last year and have not suffered as a result of it, they will not long continue in such security. The old returns are being checked up. If any of them are fraudulent, prosecutions will follow as the government provides a severe punishment for anyone who seeks to mislead it.

SUSTAINS LOWER COURT.

The District Court of Appeal yesterday affirmed the decision of the Superior Court that J. F. Cullen will have to refund $2259 principal and $630 interest to Henry W. Avery on mining shares which he sold on contracts which gave the buyer the right to rescind within a year. Avery purchased shares at 50 cents each. The understanding was that he could get his money back with interest if not satisfied. The stock became worthless and he was compelled to sue to get his money.

Los Angeles is one of the "hungriest" markets for fresh food products in the world today. Even with ideal conditions existing in Southern California for producing butter, eggs, poultry, honey, cheese, fruits, nuts, etc.—a great portion of these things actually have to be shipped in to us, because of the enormous and ever-increasing demand. Orchardists have become wealthy, gardeners and nurserymen own motor cars, poultrymen enjoy splendid yearly incomes, dairymen and alfalfa ranchers are as independent as kings. In fact, the man who today helps to feed Los Angeles is either well-to-do or is rapidly on the way to wealth. And with 600,000 or more people coming within the next decade, the demand for products of the land will heavily increase—more Eastern and Northern goods will have to be imported unless a large supply of fresh local products is raised.

More than anything else will VAN NUYS AND LANKERSHIM LANDS help to solve Los Angeles' gigantic food problem.

Those who today are eagerly buying tracts of these close-in fertile acres will receive top-notch prices for the products of their orchards, gardens, poultry and dairy plants.

That splendid electric line via Hollywood is being pushed ahead—the great half million dollar asphalt boulevard system is substantially under way—building activity is brisk—the earnest millionaire developers of Los Angeles' most important suburban project are offering $500,000 in land discounts for $1,000,000 worth of buildings and settlers are speedily taking advantage of it.

Go out today with us and select your land—prices will never be lower—in fact, they are now on the verge of advancement. Values are climbing steadily as improvements advance.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

There were no changes to speak of on the local markets yesterday morning. The demand for vegetables was very good. With the fair weather on hand the supply of some green goods was again far in excess of the demand. Lettuce, as an example, sold as low as 10 cents a crate. There were no changes in cauliflower or celery which are moving freely. Reports of considerable damage by frost are coming from all the surrounding farming districts. Growers of vegetables in the Sunizer, Anaheim, Fullerton, La Habra and other districts report heavily frosted ground and nipping of young products. The apricot and peach trees which came in blossom two weeks ago are also reported as suffering considerably on account of the cold. Fear is expressed among some of the big dealers in citrus fruits that the oranges have been sufficiently hit to cause puffy fruit, which greatly depreciates the value.

Among staples there were no changes. Case-count eggs sold at 27 cents, while 28 asked when the market closed, showing that the situation is firm. Receipts were 413 cases of local stock. Other eggs from this State are arriving freely and help to keep the market at its present base.

Ladie butter was in very good call and jobbed at 29 cents a pound. Country butter brought the same figure. There was no great call for creamery extra and other varieties. Arrivals of the day were 28,945 pounds.

Eastern twin cheese, spot stock, brought 13¾ cents a pound. Cream brick sold at 19, eastern Daisy at 1 cent less. There were no changes in the market. Receipts were only 850 pounds.

Potato arrivals were 3743 sacks. The demand for spuds was very fair. Oregon spuds sold at 1.85 in a jobbing way. Minnesota Burbank, fancy stock, were offered at 1.75, but even at that figure were in no great call. Highlands held firm. Receipts of spuds were 3743 sacks.

There were no onions received. The demand for them was only fair. Lima beans sold at 5.00 in jobbing quantities. Other varieties held steady.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE.

Most of the Day's Trading Is Done in the Consolidated Midway Stock, Which Loses Slightly.

Consolidated Midway was the heavy trader on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Over 40,000 shares changed hands and the close was under the day before. The market was not up to what it has been for several days. The trading was lighter, and while prices held up fairly well, there was no ginger to the market. In fact, as things go on the local exchange, it was a dull day.

Outside of the oil issues there was some trading in Home Telephone bonds and Edison Electric preferred, the latter showing a slump in price.

SUPREME COURT STOCK SETBACK.

PENDING DECISION IN TRUST CASES AWAITED.

Much Liquidation Attributed to Uncertainty as to Which Way Cat Will Jump—Change in Control of Missouri Pacific Also Hard of Interpretation on the Street.

[ASSOCIATED PRESS NIGHT REPORT.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 16.—After a period of several weeks in which stocks advanced steadily in value, there came a sharp reaction today. Losses were general, with many declines of 2 or more points among the important issues. Liquidation of leading stocks induced by the uncertainty of the immediate future, doubtless was the primary cause of the reaction; the possibility that the Supreme Court, on reconvening next Monday, may make known decisions in important anti-trust cases which have been hanging over the market for many months, restrained the bulls from making fresh commitments, and was undoubtedly responsible to some extent for the liquidation. The day was one of opportunity for bear operators who had met with little success for weeks, and they did their part to force prices downward. Stocks were under heavy pressure most of the time. Wall street was in doubt as to how to interpret the change in control of Missouri Pacific, as was shown by the feverish action of that stock. Shortly after the opening it sold at a point above yesterday's close, but quickly lost its strength, and closed with a net loss of 2¾. Reduction in the British bank rate from 4 to 3½ per cent. was without favorable effect, such action apparently having been discounted in this market. The bank's proportion of reserve to liabilities shows only a fractional decline from the previous week, but the loan expansion was in excess of $5,000,000. Official figures for January exports and imports pointed to a further reclassification of our foreign credit position. Exports increased more than $16,000,000, compared with January last year, and imports decreased slightly, the balance in our favor being $64,777,000, as against $791,111 last year. Bonds were irregular. Total sales, par value, $2,420,000; United States 2s registered declined ¼ on call.

New York Curb Stocks.

[Special Service to The Times by B. F. Taylor, 118 West Fourth street, Los Angeles.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 16.—The curb market was weak all through the session. Ray Central was the leader, both in point of loss and activity, opened with sales at 1¾ and closed 1¼@1⅝. Inspiration sold down to 7⅞, a large selling coming out at 8. Chino, Miami and Ray Consolidated also showed great losses on the day. The market should do a little better as there was a slight tendency on the part of the shorts to cover their commitments as the market closed. The Boston coppers somewhat weaker on increased trading. The Bostons acted in sympathy with New York, many of the active stocks showing losses from 1 to 2 points.

SEATTLE SINGER VISITOR IN LOS ANGELES.

Child of an Ancestry Which Figured Prominently in the Colonial History of Scotland and England Is With Her Sister Spending the Winter in Southern California.

A singer of note, a traveller who has caught atmospheric values and analyzed and synthesized impressions in a marvelous manner; child of an illustrious ancestry which figured gloriously in the early colonial history of Scotland and England, is Miss Kathleen Ireland, of Seattle, who with her sister, Miss Enid, is spending the winter months in Los Angeles, at Hotel Lovejoy.

Miss Ireland was born in New Zealand. She is a great grand-daughter of Cap. William Cargill, of Scotland, who fought in the famous Seventy-fourth Highlanders regiment under the Duke of Wellington, and was in the battles of Victoria, and Toulouse and in the campaigns of the Pyrenees. Captain Cargill was chosen by the Scotch government to plant the national flag in New Zealand, and went out in 1843. He founded a colony, the chief city of which he called "Dunedin", or he fought, following the army and living with him in camp. She was a woman of unusual force of character, and of charm and beauty. She bore her husband seventeen children. A portrait of her, painted in her 54th year by Mrs. Beale, the famous English portrait painter, hangs in the gallery of ancestral portraits in the home of Miss Ireland in Seattle. The picture has attracted great attention and admiration.

Miss Ireland's mother, daughter of a son of the captain, was one of the first white children born in New Zealand. All day the Maoris, the natives of New Zealand, cared for the baby down among their own people. Sometimes the mother was in terror for the life of her helpless child, but the little one never received anything but the tenderest attention and homage from her dusky nurses.

When she became older, the girl was sent home to Edinburgh to be educated, making the trip back and forth in a sailing vessel when the voyage took three months each way, and when the ship was liable to burn up at any moment from the spontaneous combustion of the cargo of wool it carried. When she was 18, a spirited and beautiful girl, she was chosen on the visit of the Duke of Edinburgh to New Zealand, to dance the Scotch reel with him.

Miss Ireland's father was of a prominent family of Melbourne. His father was the famous barrister, Richard Davis Ireland, member of the Queen's Council, the governing body of Australia, and at one time Chief Justice of Australia. R. D. Ireland took only important criminal cases, sometimes receiving as much as £20,000 as fee for a single case.

Miss Ireland's father's family was well acquainted in Melbourne with has been told, given to racing about the country horseback with her hair streaming down her back.

The childhood of Miss Ireland was spent on the beautiful ancestral estate of the Cargill's in New Zealnad, with its emerald lawns, its drooping willows, its rustic bridges, its hedges, and its marvelous old rhododendrons.

She and her sister have traveled extensively in Canada and in Alaska. As a souvenir of the latter land, Miss Ireland wears a locket filled with gold dust, and Miss Enid a unique and beautiful one made of a bone of a mastodon.

Since arriving in Southern California, the Misses Ireland have motored to Redlands, San Bernardino, Riverside and elsewhere, as the guests of Robert Cassidy, formerly of Victoria, B. C., who purchased Victoria Hill, Riverside. They had the amusing experience of getting stalled by sand drifts, following a sand storm in the desert, and of having to be hauled in by a rancher's team.

After leaving California, the Misses Ireland will go to China, to visit friends at Foo Chow. Miss Ireland expects to complete her musical education in Paris. She has a contralto voice of unusual range, and sings with an insight into the thought and feeling of the author which gives her songs the clearcutness and the temperamental vividness of the word pictures she draws of the scenes she has known and loved.
